We NEED KNICKERS for our KNICKER CHALLENGE

WE NEED:
Girls sizes 8-10 Bikini Style

A MESSAGE TO ALL THE BLOKES OUT THERE:
It really isn't very difficult to go into a BIG W or Target store and buy a couple of packs of girlie knickers. SO, JUST GO AND DO IT.

Buy girls bikini style - size 8-10 (not womens). Bold colours if possible, no animal print or human face designs and only bikini style.

BIG W carry two brands - Try to get the Emerson brand but if not available then Bonds will do. Currently, BIG W has Bonds knickers on special at $7.50 a pack but they are very small. If you get Bonds don't get the larger sizes still get the size 8-10.

Bring your purchases to the next three meetings.

If you have a problem with this give Ava or Rhonda $20 and it will all be done for you. Receipts will be provided.

Anybody else wanting to contribute to this cause can contact Ava 0419 836 653 or Rhonda 0404 335 535 for more information.

BLUE MOUNTAINS DAYS FOR GIRLS CHAPTER

And now the Blue Mountain has a local Chapter. Led by Nadja Lawrence and supported by Central Blue Mountains Rotary, production of kits is about to begin.

Working bees will be held at Boddington Aged Care facility in Wentworth Falls and recruitment of members will begin in the new year.

The new Blue Mountains Days for Girls Chapter is building up their stock of girls knickers size 8-10 and relying on Central Blue Mountains Rotary to help boost supplies.

Contact Ava 0419 836 653 or Rhonda 0404 335 535 for more information.

Nyngan, NSW Chapter: Sewers at work

Eager sewers gather at Nyngan Community Hall for regular sewing bees. They are members of the local Days for Girls chapter.

Like other sewing groups, they make shields, liners and bags, which are then combined into kits: two shields, eight liners, two pairs of underwear, a washcloth, two zip lock bags and an instruction sheet in a drawstring bag.

The initiative provides feminine hygiene products to girls and women in impoverished communities, where a lack of these supplies during menstruation can prevent them from attending school and work.

Each kit lasts about three years, giving the average girl extra months of schooling.

The group encourages local residents to donate fabric, underwear, facewashers and double zip bags.

Central Blue Rotary @ “The Alex”

Just for a change last week, we left our normal venue, the Grand View Hotel, Wentworth Falls, and headed for The Alexandra, at Leura, another great old pub in the BM with a wealth of history.

Opened in 1903, The Alex is a Federation Queen Anne hotel building and at the time boasted spectacular views of the Jamison Valley.

With a century of service both to the local, the railway and highway trade, The Alex has an excellent restaurant to which 24 CBM Rotary members and their guests can attest.
