Can “Happy Yoga” save lives ?

Yes, apparently it can, as we all discovered from Kim O'Mara, an Australian who helped initiate a community mental health program that combines singing and yoga as therapy to avoid and forgive the past genocide and race hate in Rwanda. It has proven to be effective and is universally admired.

The Rwandan genocide in 1994 was exceptional in its brutality, in its speed, and in the meticulous organization with which Hutu extremists set out to destroy the Tutsi minority - a quarter of a century ago. (Human Rights Watch)
