November 1 All Saints Day

November 2 All Souls Day

Aren't all souls saints? And don't all the saints have souls?

While the souls of saints are certainly in heaven, not all souls are so lucky!

On All Saints Day, Catholics honor and pray for the intercession of canonized saints and celebrate the communion of saints – all the baptized in heaven, purgatory, and on earth.

On All Souls Day, Catholics pray for those souls in purgatory, that they may be hurried along the path to heaven.

Canonized saints are believed to be already in full communion with God. In other words, the church confirms that these souls have made it to heaven. The souls we pray for on All Souls Day are not in heaven yet, but being “purified.”

The celebration of All Souls Day developed after the idea of purgatory grew in popularity. Because not all the dead were being honored on All Saints Day, another day was set aside on which those souls still in purgatory could benefit from the prayers of the living. All Saints Day is Nov. 1 of every year, and is a holy day of obligation, which means Catholics are required to attend Mass on this day.

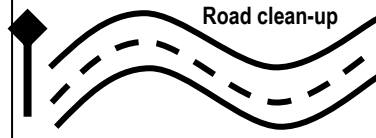

All Souls Day is Nov. 2 and not a holy day of obligation.

How do you observe All Saints Day?

In many countries around the world, Christians observe the day by visiting the graves of deceased relatives – to clean, repair, and decorate family graves by placing flowers on and lighting candles to commemorate the passing their loved ones. By evening, the hillsides are aglow as silent testaments of the faithful care the living expend for the dead.
