June is Rotary Fellowship Month

Individuals join Rotary for a myriad of reasons. Some for business reasons, some to share like minded goals or objectives and some just to do good in their communities and beyond. But the binding factor in the Rotary experience is sharing the fellowship of the regular club meetings, various committees and service projects. Members who are involved, who are active in their clubs or engaged in service projects or Rotary social activities, are likely having fun and enjoying the experience and will stay in Rotary.

Rotary Fellowship Groups

Rotary Fellowships are groups of Rotarians, Rotarian spouses and Rotaractors who join together to share a common interest; make new friends around the world and have fun and enhance their Rotary experience. Fellowship groups provide opportunities for Rotarians to make lasting friendships beyond their own clubs, districts or countries.. They also contribute to the advancement of world understanding and peace.

How Rotary Fellowships Operate

- * Each fellowship is operated independently of Rotary International with it's own rules, dues and administrative structure
- * Fellowships must be international in nature with active members in at least three countries
- * Fellowships are expected to facilitate communication among their members and maintain regular communication with RI

Flying

Marathon Running

Scuba Diving

Other interest groups are: bridge, chess, curling, fishing, golf, gourmet cooking, horse back riding, magicians, motorcycling, music, quilters, railroads, singles, stamp collecting, tennis, wellness, wine, yachting and so many more interests that there isn't enough room to list them all.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU

June has two flowers,
The Rose and the Honeysuckle

Roses are available in many colors from red to pink to white to yellow, all with their own special meaning.

Honeysuckles signify happiness. They also mean a sweet disposition which might relate to their sweet smelling aroma.

June Birthday babies are:

June 7– Eric James

June 29—Christy Barros

SALMON ROSE: A slightly pinker shade of orange and evokes the same message as orange roses.

June's Birthstone is the Alexandrite

RISE AGAINST HUNGER Food Packing Event

On May 17th, Rotarians from clubs in our district as well as members of the community, Rotaractors, high school football players, church groups and a multitude of other volunteers met at Rusch Park Community Center and packed over 70,000 meals that will be distributed to those in need throughout the world.

Our Passport One club was well represented with volunteers. Jim Quinney, a member of our club, is the director for Rise Against Hunger in the Sacramento area.

Do You Really Want To Go Camping?

Here are some facts that you should think about before you head for the hills with your ice chests and tents...

- Raccoons may sound like cats, but you shouldn't cuddle them.

In fact, they even purr like our cute kitties we left behind, but don't pet them. Raccoons carry disease and can scratch your eyes out.

- Crickets can calculate the temperature.

Count the number of chirps you hear in 14 seconds. Then, add 40 to the number to find out the temperature in degrees Fahrenheit. You could also look at your cell phone.

- Each year in the United States, 40 million people go camping

That's almost 15% of the population, and I think they all go on the same weekend. That explains why camp grounds are always packed with people.

- Campers average 2.7 nights in a campground

They come to their senses on the third day and find a hotel.

- Only 2/3 of Campers use tents

The rest of the campers like to sleep under the stars where it will be easier for bears and other creatures to find and maul them.

- More than 12,000 day and resident camps exist in the United States alone.

and each camp ground is situated in dirt.

- The average camping age is 35

I don't have a comment on this one. I have no idea why people camp at any age.

- Lyme disease can take longer to take effect than you think

Lyme disease is a common threat and can be serious if left untreated. More than 30,000 cases of the disease were reported in 2015. However, if you find the creepy little tick early enough and pry it out of your skin, you have a good chance of avoiding the illness.

Another way to avoid Lyme disease is to stay at a Best Western.

SURVIVAL TIP!

1. If you find yourself in an emergency wilderness survival mode, the elastic band on your underwear makes a perfect sling shot for shooting small game.

First we need to clarify that the English call a purse a “hand bag.” They also call the hood of a car a bonnet, the toilet a loo and they call soccer, football. But for now, lets just focus on the hand bag.

Admit it...you have wondered why the Queen carries a purse, (I mean hand bag). What could she possibly need to carry in the bag when all she has to do is wave her royal hand, and she can have anything she desires. Could she be carrying a VISA debit card, or maybe keys to the palace in case she gets locked out?

To find the answer I asked one of the Brits in our club, Beth Ellingthorpe. (Actually, we have two Brits. The other is Sara Thornros. Don't you just love the way they talk.)

It turns out that the Queen's hand bag is used to give signals to her staff, similar to the way third base baseball coaches give signals to the batters. I'm not sure what different hand bag positions mean from the Queen, but I have a few guesses.

1. Bag on the right arm—I'm having a bloody good time.
2. Bag on the left arm—Get me out of here, I'm knackered (tired).
3. Bag behind her back—This guy is an arse. Call my cell phone, so I can leave
4. Bag on the table—Bring me a hamburger, this food is rubbish.
5. Bag on the ground—*How many more years do I have to do this?
Get me a drink. I want to get sloshed.*
6. No handbag—I am really jolly! William said he will be King, so I don't need this cheeky hand bag anymore.
