...of the things we think, say and do

Is it the truth?
Is it fair to all concerned?
Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

Richmond • Baltimore • Charlotte

Greg Robinson directs the Enterprise Risk Management program for the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond. During his 24 year tenure with the Richmond Fed, Greg has also served as a bank examiner, financial analyst, and as senior manager of Credit and Risk Management. He is a CPA, has an undergraduate degree from Liberty University and an MBA from Virginia Commonwealth University. Greg lives right here in Chesterfield with his wife and three children. The Federal Reserve is a “decentralized” central bank, with a government component — the Board of Governors in Washington, D.C. — and 12 independent regional Reserve Banks spread across the country, including the Richmond Fed. Together, we’re working to support a healthy economy. We’re more than 2,700 people strong working in many different areas. Our Bank is led by our Management Committee, which consists of senior executives from key business areas from across the Bank. We’re overseen by a nine-member Board of Directors, who bring diverse perspectives and provide ground-level information about local economic conditions.
