President's Report

Thank you to all the members, partners, Friends of Rotary, and Interact students who have supported a range of activities, Committees, and Macarthur Rotary Club events throughout March. Without this ongoing support we couldn't make the difference that we do.

IngleMinds – Well Being and Mental Health - met via zoom on the first Tuesday of the month. As usual, they have been very proactive supporting the Hidden Homeless Project and Minto Gardens.

The Committee is chaired by Beth.

The Social Committee chaired by Drew organised a successful dinner at Kalapani, a Nepalese Restaurant, in Ingleburn. Thanks to the efforts of Devendra, we had 3 local Nepalese businessmen join us for dinner.

An inaugural meeting, via zoom, was held of the newly formed Rotary Inspiring Youth committee. They will meet on the third Tuesday of the month, and it is chaired by Fiona.

The Membership Committee, chaired by Drew and Bill, has been active in seeking new members for the club.

Our guest speakers for March were Amanda Dillon from Youth Solutions, Lidija and Lucy who we sponsored to attend RYLA – Rotary Youth Leadership Awards, and PDG Warwick Richardson who has had an extensive role in his own club, the Rotary Club of Wollondilly North, District 9675, and is a strong supporter of Camp Quality for kids with cancer.

We were all tested by the extreme heat for Ingleburn Alive this year; but this did not deter a strong group of helpers including students from Interact helping with the BBQ, and the Pop-Up Stall. Money raised goes to support our local and international projects.

As a club we continue to take an active role in events organised by the Rotary Clubs of Macarthur. We are represented by Jan on the Police Officer Award Committee and by Steve on the First Responders Awards Committee.

I represented the club for the inaugural ‘Lift the Lid’ Walk for Mental Health on 23 March at Camden Town Farm. Despite the rain, there was a good turnout of around 180 walkers plus a range of local mental health services who provided a range of information and advice. All proceeds of the event will go to Australian Rotary Health.

I am very proud to be the President of the Rotary Club of Ingleburn and am blessed with an amazing group of people who work tirelessly locally, nationally, and internationally to bring positive change.

Yours in Rotary,

PAG GAIL TAYLOR

Club Celebrations: April 2025

In April, we celebrated 7 birthdays with Rotarian William Salter (2 Apr), Lyn Barnard (3Apr), Friend of Rotary Polly Grundy (5 Apr), Friend of Rotary Darko Ristic (10 Apr), Rotarian Ken Barnard (21 Apr), Friend of Rotary Martin Paine (23 Apr), and Rotarian John Hartmann (27 Apr).

Each of you is wished a wonderful birthday celebration and all the best in all you do in 2025!

Rotarian John & Jan Hartmann will celebrate 50 years of marriage on 26 April, and we wish them continued happiness and joy and all the best for future years. WONDERFUL NEWS!!

On 8 April, we applaud Christine Castle who will notch up a year of being a Friend of Rotary

Our club, and Rotary International, sincerely thanks all those above for their continued service, and support of Rotary International, and the community.

The Words and Wisdom of Paul Harris

In the Rotary plan, business is an important part of life. Those whose vision extends no further than their field of business is to be pitied; it matters not what their success in that business may have been. Rotary aims to be practical; its philosophy is a wholesome philosophy; it hopes to enrich life.

My Road to Rotary

April is Environment Month

30 April — Rotary International Convention registrations and ticket cancellations are due

HISTORY

The Rotary Foundation Trustees and Rotary International Board of Directors both unanimously approved adding a new area of focus: supporting the environment.

More than $18 million in Foundation global grant funding was allocated to environment-related projects over five years. Creating a distinct area of focus to support the environment gave Rotary members even more ways to bring about positive change in the world and increase our impact.

2019-20 RI President Mark Maloney said that during his travels around the world as a Rotary senior leader he encountered many Rotary members, and Rotaractors, who advocated for the environment to be an area of focus. "I believe strongly that our Rotary Foundation programs now have a valuable added dimension to our efforts," said, Maloney.

2019-20 Foundation Trustee Chair Gary C.K. Huang said that with the global population reaching eight billion, protecting the environment was increasingly important. "It is time for us to use our collective resources to invest in a smart and efficient way to protecting our environment," says Huang. "We are qualified to take this initiative because we are a global group of problem solvers with diversified talents."

In 1990-91, RI President Paulo V.C. Costa made the environment one of his primary causes, creating the Preserve Planet Earth subcommittee, which looked at ways clubs and members could conduct environmental initiatives.

"We have finally caught up to Costa [his vision]," says Past RI President Ian H.S. Riseley, chair of the Environmental Issues task force, which championed the new area of focus.

"As a lifelong environmentalist, I'm delighted that our great organisation has recognised that the environment is a worthy and appropriate destination for our project activity," says Riseley. "This is an exciting moment in Rotary history."

Supporting the environment became Rotary's seventh area of focus, which are categories of service activities supported by global grants. It joined peacebuilding and conflict prevention; disease prevention and treatment; water, sanitation, and hygiene; maternal and child health; basic education and literacy; and community economic development.

NOW

Rotary shares an interest in protecting our common legacy: the environment.

We are committed to supporting activities that strengthen the conservation and protection of natural resources, advance ecological sustainability, and foster harmony between communities and the environment. We empower communities to access grants and other resources, embrace local solutions, and spur innovation in an effort to address the causes and reduce the effects of climate change and environmental degradation.

How Rotary makes help happen

Rotary members are tackling environmental issues the way they always do: coming up with projects, using their connections to change policy and planning for the future.

How Rotary will help protect our planet

The Rotary Foundation will enable our members and their community allies to take action in these ways:

18.4 million in Foundation global grant funding has been allocated to environment-related causes in the past five years through our support of community economic development and water, sanitation, and hygiene projects:

- Protecting and restoring land, coastal, marine, and freshwater resources;
- Enhancing the capacity of communities to support natural resource management and conservation;
- Supporting sustainable agriculture, fishing, and aquaculture practices;
- Addressing the cause of climate change by reducing the emission of greenhouse gases;
- Strengthening ecosystems and communities affected by climate change;
- Supporting education initiatives that promote behaviour that protects the environment;
- Advocating for sustainable consumption to build an economy that uses resources more efficiently; and
- Addressing environmental justice issues and public health concerns.

INGLEBURN ALIVE FESTIVAL

It was a hot and humid Saturday morning in mid-March as a small group of Rotarians met to help load up all the items needed for a big barbeque at Ingleburn Alive. This is one of our biggest activities each year because we also run a pop-up stall adjacent to the barbeque. Additionally, it runs throughout the afternoon and into the evening until 9pm, meaning a very late pack up and journey home.

After loading everything, including the kitchen sink for washing up, the group headed off into Ingleburn to “bump in”. An eager looking group was waiting at our designated spot to help unload and set up. First, the two marquees needed to be erected, followed by setting out the tables, assembling the barbeques and attaching gas bottles.

Drinks came next, so it was off to the local servo to get loads of ice in a shopping trolley and wheel it back (no cars are allowed in the festival zone once unloading is completed). We had to be quick to get the ice into the drink tubs and cover it before it melted away.

It was about 1.30pm, and the day was getting uncomfortably hot, about 35^o and quite humid.

A couple of Rotarians braved the heat to go to Woolworths down the road, where our bread was ordered and waiting. Another trolley dash in the hot sun.

When everything was set up ready to go, it was time to light up the barbeque and get that wonderful aroma of sausages and onions wafting through the air – that will certainly bring the crowds (or so we thought).

It was so overwhelmingly hot that the crowds didn't appear. We did a steady trade in cold drinks, but only a few food sales.

A wonderful group of students from the Interact clubs at Hurlstone Agricultural High School and Sarah Redfern High School came to support us by undertaking the customer service roles. They rotated shifts throughout the afternoon and evening. What a fantastic job they did. We thank them for their enthusiasm and support on such a challenging day.

So, we waited for the crowds to come “they'll come when it cools down at sunset”, “they'll be hungry for dinner by then”.

However, the heat was taking its toll on our members and helpers. By mid-afternoon, it was 37^o and several people were getting physically stressed. People had wet towels around their necks trying to cope with the heat. Lots of water was drunk. Everyone had to have several sit-down rests in the shade. Several were forced to reluctantly go home. The heat from the barbeque made the temperature even higher within the marquees.

So, we waited for the crowds to come (again) and a few more did come; and they did start to buy food, but not in the numbers we anticipated. Even at sunset, it was still 35^o and very uncomfortable.

As the lights came on, and the entertainment on the nearby stage got louder, there was only a steady line of customers, unlike in previous years, when the lines were long with 15 to 20 people at a time. We had lines varying between 3 and 6.

And that, folks, is how it continued for the whole evening.

At the end, we had only sold about half of our anticipated sales. Drink sales were great, but not the food. We can only assume that the unbearably hot day, and very uncomfortable evening, kept the crowds away in the cool of their homes or air-conditioned clubs.

When the time came to pack up, everyone pitched in to get the job done efficiently. The truck was loaded and headed back to our storage lockup area.

Hang about ... there's a twist to our story ...

When we got back to our lockup area, all the weary souls got out of their cars to be confronted by a padlocked gate!!! It was 10.30 pm and no-one to call. Oh well, nothing else to do, but head off to home with all the gear loaded high on the truck and then back next morning when the gate would be open. Always challenges for Rotarians, but we won't be beaten.

A huge thank you to all those Rotarians, and Friends of Rotary, and partners who gave up their time to help run this event. We had 24 people helping over the three shifts of the day. Several people worked two shifts (approx. 8 hours) during the day. It was a long, and gruelling, day which presented many challenges, but we won.

A special thank you to Bill Salter who worked beside me from the loading up at 10.30 am until the final moments at that padlocked gate. What a fabulous effort, a 12-hour shift!

And a big thank you to all the Interact students. You are all a credit to your schools. Our club will follow up with a visit to your schools.

But we did have fun and the opportunity for some great social interaction.

Community Service Director 2024-25

The Words and Wisdom of Paul Harris

The standing of Rotary is, of course, largely dependent upon the standing of its individual members. This thought naturally leads us to seek new members from the ranks of strong well-known business persons ... Let us not, however, become obsessed of the idea that a prospective member will necessarily become a good member just because they have a large bank roll. There are considerations far more important than those possessions. We must guard the democracy of Rotary beyond all things. The democratic spirit is essential the welfare of all worthwhile organisations, but it is the very life spark of Rotary. Rotary must never be permitted to become merely a rich person's club. With the democracy of our organisation kept always pure, we may hope to attain hitherto undreamed-of heights in the elevation of business standards.

Membership

The Rotary Club of Ingleburn is known for upholding the motto of 'People of Action' and is always looking for new members.

Should you know anyone with a passion to serve our community, please have them contact us.

March has been a positive month for membership. Two prospective members have completed their 'get to know' period by attending meetings and working on projects; therefore, the Membership Committee will be recommending to the Board at the April Board meeting that they be inducted into the club.

Prior to joining, the reason it is necessary to attend several meetings is to meet members of the Club, and for them to get to know a potential member, at the same time a potential member will have an opportunity to learn about Rotary and to decide whether it meets their passions. It is one way to help potential members get to know about the club's projects and dynamics.

In addition, a prospective member introduced himself at the Ingleburn Alive festival on 15 March; his father is a Rotarian in another country, so he grew up around Rotary, and his father-in-law will soon be emigrating to Australia and is also a Rotarian and will be looking to join a local club; future prospects.

More good news, at a social function during the month, two guests, invited by a Rotary member and another by a Friend of the Rotary Club of Ingleburn; all are local residents and interested in joining Rotary. They have all attended a meeting and have indicated that Rotary is where they can further develop their philanthropic outcomes and passions.

As an aid, the Membership Committee designed, at their March meeting, an A5 Flyer specifically designed for membership recruitment. A simple document with membership focus, i.e. not too busy with only two photos - a project, with the other a social event - and blurb to suit recruitment. It will now form part of project, and social events.

Overall, a good month for Membership.

New Generations

It has been quite a busy month for New Generations.

INTERACT

Ingleburn Rotary received excellent support from both Hurlstone Agricultural High School and Sarah Redfern High School students at 'Ingleburn Alive' on an extremely hot and difficult day, assisting the Team providing the barbequed sausage and steak sandwiches.

Our thanks go to the School Coordinators from both schools for organising the students, and rosters.

RYLA (Rotary Youth Leadership Awards)

Our two candidates, Lidija and Lucy, attended a Club meeting on 11 March to give feedback on their experiences at the program. Both felt RYLA has helped them gain personal insights, new friends, and skills to assist them in their future endeavours.

SARAH REDFERN HIGH SCHOOL INTERACT / RYPEN

Two candidates will be attending the upcoming RYPEN camp at Teen Ranch Cobbitty on the weekend of 4 -6 April. We look forward to hearing from them after their return at a future club meeting.

MUNA (Model United Nations Assembly)

Ingleburn Rotary has again agreed to financially support a team from Hurlstone Agricultural High School to compete in this year's MUNA (Model United Nations Assembly) to be held at NSW Parliament House on 7 June. It will be interesting to hear their report on the event at a future Club meeting.

Vocational Service

VOCATIONAL SERVICE - this is both a Club, and members, responsibility.

Vocational Service is a very important part of everyone's day-to-day life if you are interested in helping, and supporting, others in the community. You can achieve this by mentoring, assisting in improving the welfare of others, or simply lending a caring ear or hand.

Likewise, with Rotary clubs and their members, vocational service can achieve a huge amount. At the same time as lending assistance, in whatever way, we as individual Rotary members, we can benefit from finding out about activities of other individuals, or groups.

On Tuesday, 8 April, the Rotary Club of Ingleburn is holding our Pride of Workmanship Awards event. We have a very good cross section of businesses, schools, and service providers from our community nominating employees for their excellent service to the employer. We also have a very healthy number of people attending to support their fellow colleagues.

DREW PERCIVAL
Vocational Service Director 2024-25

Mental Health Committee

This month we welcome Jules Carroll to the IngleMinds team. Jules has amazing energy and passion to make a difference in the community. She has already helped with clothing drives, donating goods and fundraising events.

HIDDEN HOMELESS

Our IngleMinds meeting this month was devoted to creating care packs and “mess kits” for the Hidden Homeless. The car packs for women and men contain essential hygiene products, and mental health resources. The mess kits contain reusable plates, water bottles, cups, and cutlery with a cleaning cloth so that economical meals can be sourced. These are light-weight and become the property of the recipient. To date, we have created 255 care packs.

We are preparing to undertake a winter clothing appeal. This will also involve the provision of blankets. We encourage the membership and community to provide good quality clothing and drop them at a central location so that those who need them may chose and take. We accept clothes and blankets that are clean and in good condition, scarves and beanies, and new socks. We are not able to distribute underwear or shoes. A date will be announced on Facebook, and through other club communication strategies.

When people move from being homeless to temporary accommodation to rental accommodation, they do so with minimal resources. We have accepted donations of quality furniture, whitegoods, and homewares and have been able to pass them onto to give people the best possible start to moving into rental properties. This project has the added advantage of preventing landfill of furniture that is in good condition, though no longer required. Our challenges of transportation, heavy lifting, and storage are slowly being worked through with the generous support of Rotarians, their families, and fundraising efforts. We are looking to seek help from the community to assist with these challenges.

Thank you to Lynn, Ken, Peter (and family), Gail, Brian, and Beth for the moving day resulting in three families receiving immediate help.

PLUS ONE

This is a new initiative which encourages Rotarians and their families to consider creating a takeaway meal from leftovers which can be frozen. These are delivered to the homeless who have access to refrigeration and a microwave. Thanks to Javed for providing the first five meals.

Another outcome of this is reduction of food waste, and a positive environmental impact.

Receiving a donation of $500 from ‘Save Macarthur from Domestic Violence’ will contribute towards providing food for people in temporary accommodation. This support goes a long way to helping others. We are looking forward to providing more ready-to-heat meals for those in need.

MINTO GARDENS RETIREMENT VILLAGE

I had the privilege of being invited to the International Women’s Day event at Minto Gardens Retirement Village. With self-care and recognition of how women make a difference in the community, I was congratulated on being awarded Campbelltown Citizen of the Year. It was an opportunity for me to express how we value our partnership with the Village and thank them for the support they give with our Mental Health projects.

Our monthly craft activity saw the residents create fridge magnets using a variety of techniques. Debbie Goodfellow, Kaylene, Gail, Brenda, and Beth were the tutors. Feedback from participants was very positive, and the artistic talents evident in the creations.

Tania and Carolyn provided the Health Talk at Minto Gardens this month. The topics are needs-based, and each person attending is given individual time to raise issues and get health advice. This monthly service activity is truly valued.

The Village supports many of our Rotary activities. An example of this, is the knitting group already creating scarves for people in need, linking to our winter clothing drive.

Other activities that have engaged the IngleMinds Team this month include making items, and growing plants, to sell at Ingleburn Alive with funds being used to support Homeless and Mental Health projects.

SELF-CARE

With thanks to Carolyn who provided the book - Self-Care - 150 little ways to make big changes:

“Self-Care is giving the world the best of you, instead of what’s left” – Katie Reed

“True self-care is not salt baths and eating chocolate cake, it is making the choice to build a life you don’t need to regularly escape from” - Brianne Wiest

“Accept everything about yourself - I mean everything. You are you, and that is the beginning, and the end – no apologies, no regrets” Clarke Moustakas.

Beth, on behalf IngleMinds.

Social Committee

Social fun and new Nepalese connections!

Friday 21 March – a casual dinner was held at Kalapani Nepalese Restaurant in Ingleburn with 14 people attending. We had fun working out what to order, but had much help from Club member, Devendra, who knows the owners of the restaurant. The food was delicious, and everyone enjoyed chatting with each other and members of the Nepalese community who joined us. It was great to make the new connections with several local Nepalese businesspeople, who subsequently came to the next Club meeting. A great melding of social and vocational with gains for everyone! We can all look forward to further interactions in the future.

Coming soon...

Tuesday 29 April – a movie night is planned. April is a month with 5 Tuesdays this year, so the Social Committee is planning some activities to take advantage of this ‘extra time’. An announcement will be made when the movie schedule is known.

During May (TBC) a weekday trip by train is being considered. The Social Committee is considering several destinations for a trip with lunch before returning; with Bowral, Parramatta, Kiama, Katoomba, and Newcastle all being considered. If you have a preference, or another destination in mind, please let the Social Committee know.

During June – a Morning Tea will help to distract from the cooler weather. A local venue and suitable date are being considered.

July is a great time to plan for an off-season Christmas celebration. Watch this space! Santa, please get the elves organised, and comb your beard!

July is another 5 Tuesday month, thus giving an opportunity to make this visit so Tuesday 29 July will be a social/vocational visit to Noumi in Ingleburn.

Tuesday 9 September – High Tea at Minto Gardens is on the agenda.

Sunday, 5 October is World Teachers Day with the Social Committee considering a morning tea celebration on a suitable day near that date.

After 5 October, once Daylight Saving commences, October will be another visit to Western Sydney International Airport to see all the developments since our previous visit.

October will also see the return of a favoured social activity – Sausages at Sunset at Milton Park. The longer evenings at that time of the year make for a pleasant social evening.

November will bring an opportunity to hold Barefoot Bowls at the newly reopened Ingleburn Bowling Club.

Tuesday, 2 December is the date for our annual Christmas/ End of Year celebration. Put it on your calendar and get ready for a special celebration!
