Dear John,

I write on behalf of the Repat Neuro-Behaviour Unit (RNB) to acknowledge the Rotary Club of St Peters for the very generous donation of headphones.

The RNB is a highly specialised, high dependency unit for people living with the most severe presentations of dementia. The RNB takes pride in providing home-like clinical care that is holistic and not traditionally "hospital" focused.

I greatly appreciate the focus Rotary St Peters has on improving the lives of people living with dementia, with values that align with those at the RNB.

The headphones will assist people with dementia to listen to their favorite music and reconnect with special memories. The RNB team has observed wonderful outcomes using music, which has unlocked memories and positive emotions, and enhanced connections with their loved ones.

Once again, thank you for your generous donation and your passion for improving the lives of people living with dementia.

Yours sincerely

New Shed Signs

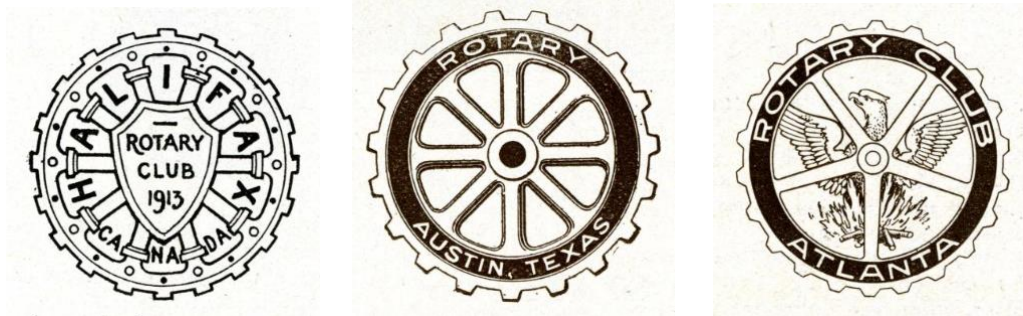

In 1905, Montague M. Bear, an engraver and member of the RC of Chicago, sketched a wagon wheel with 13 spokes as a club emblem. After some comments from fellow club members, he superimposed a banner with the words "Rotary Club" over some clouds with the wheel. An early Rotary Club of Chicago logo

In 1911, Secretary Chesley R. Perry recommended that "action be taken by the National Association to establish the wheel as the basic part of the emblem of every Rotary club." Clubs were invited to submit designs to an emblem committee before the 1912 convention in Duluth, Minnesota, USA.

The word “Rotary” appeared at the top and “International Association” at the bottom. (Rotary became an international organization in 1912.) Clubs were encouraged to use a similar design, placing the name of their city at the bottom instead of “International Association.” The number of spokes and cogs was unspecified. As a result, many variations on the emblem were in use by 1918.

In January 1924, the Board formally approved an emblem that was then in use. Not all written descriptions were updated immediately, however. To clear up any confusion caused by the various decisions about the emblem between 1912 and 1929, a standard description of the existing design, with a keyway to show that work was being done, was approved by the 1929 convention.

For many years, the wheel stood alone as our logo. Although the words “Rotary International” are embedded in the wheel, they’re hard to read from a distance.

So, in 2013, Rotary expanded the official logo to include the word “Rotary” next to the wheel, but more importantly the emphasis is that it is a brand, not just a logo.

The Rotary wheel remains our mark of excellence. In addition to being part of the official logo, it may be enlarged for greater impact and used separately but near the logo. There are clear guidelines on how the Mark of Excellence can be used and all clubs worldwide are being urged to change to reflect this. It is hoped that this will result in our brand being more recognisable throughout the world. The article below gives some insight on why a brand is important.

<https://blog.rotary.org/2021/01/11/why-you-should-care-about-rotary-branding/>

Our club started last year with a new large club banner and now the Shed and Truck signs have been updated (both fixed and portable).

We wish him a speedy recovery.

Several members have endured chest and other upper respiratory infections that have taken time to heal. To them we say we look forward to having you back at Rotary very soon.

Cyber Safety

Recently the Club learned of a scam that involves EFT Payments made by email, where scammers changed the account details in a third party's emails, collected the money and closed the account!

When sending EFT details and/or funds to another person some suggestions follow.....

- In an email do not type in the heading EFT Details or any such suggestion that would give scammers an alert on the content.
- Put such details into a PDF document that is not easily changed.
- When sending start with a small amount of money and ask for a confirmation it has been paid into the nominated account before sending the balance.
