Steve G. Said the trees for survival planting day is Thursday week 27 June. 9.30 at 135 Blackridge Road Dairy Flat or 9 AM at Murray's Bay Primary. Any assistance would be appreciated.

Therese Leslie was inducted into the club. See photo. She came with her husband Mark and family from the UK just outside London in 2008 and has been involved with St John's School, De Paul House and hosting exchange students. She works for Bayleys as a land agent and will be on the international committee.

Charlotte Percival and Arden Callagher (see photo) from Pinehurst told us about their time at MUNA. They represented Ukraine and spent most of the time trying to get back the parts of Crimea annexed by Russia. Muna runs for two days Friday and Saturday starting with breakfast and an introduction. There were five remits on the agenda and they were allowed to choose two – gun violence and free speech. After a slow start there was some note passing to find out the other countries ideas and they had a honey cake to sweeten up which seemed to work there was considerable discussion about certain countries having a veto which may endanger the whole world and can often stop debate. There were fewer costumes than usual. South Africa turned up shirtless apart from their flag. Ukraine wore Cossack hats with black coats and trousers. They had difficulty coping with the fact that most Crimean people enjoy being in Russia. Many teams had traditional dress and Mexico with their sombreros were the best dressed. The best team was Trinidad and Tobago. Towards the end of the assembly all the nations except USA Russia and China formed a new block.
