New Role:

Please note there is a new role replacing the Student Hosting role. Previously when we have hosted an IYE student they have sold the raffle tickets each night. The proceeds for the raffle sales have provided the pocket money for that student. Due to Covid-19 we will not host a student for the balance of 2020 and probably most of 2021. We are going to carry on with the raffle to ensure we have funds for the next student, but also to help fund the hosting of one more student from Cambodia. The three young ladies we have hosted have benefited so much from their time here it would be disappointing not to be able to host another student who is very keen to come to New Zealand. Please support our raffle both by purchasing tickets and when allocated that duty, sell tickets.

On behalf of the Women of Influence programme, we are reaching out to like-minded organisations and businesses that may interact with or have a great network of inspirational Kiwi women who are helping make New Zealand a better place. We'd love to get them recognised for the work they are doing. Women of Influence is an annual awards programme presented by Stuff and Westpac NZ, that celebrates the incredible wāhine of Aotearoa and nominations for the 2020 awards are now open. It would be great if you could promote the programme within your networks, as we're sure there are many women that would be deserving of the recognition.

There are ten award categories that can be entered into and nominations close on the 31st of August. For more information and to nominate please

Attached is an image that could be shared on your social networks or within your newsletters, and an A4 print poster. However, please let us know if you would like any
