Warren farewelled Yee Hsien. He had been a great ambassador for his country fitting in well to a different culture but was always keen to do new things and take on everything. It was a different exchange and lately must have been an anxious time for his parents. He also thanked Pinehurst for letting him attend school there.

Sean introduced the strategy discussion by showing us the slides he had shown previously. They showed strengths and weaknesses of the club and looked towards the future in particular how to change to gain younger members, be project based, obtain a second major fundraiser and to reduce Admin. He is still looking for a President elect/membership director and a project director. (Membership and attendance now filled)
