CHANGEOVER DINNER SET FOR THURSDAY EVENING 27th JUNE FROM 6.30pm

The Club has booked the Wilton Bowling Club once more for a dinner catered by Mindy Wu. Likely cost will be $60 each including a table wine.

CHANGEOVER GUEST SPEAKER TIM McIVOR

Tim McIvor first came to New Zealand from Northern Ireland on a Commonwealth Scholarship to complete a PhD on the life of New Zealand's Irish-born Premier John Ballance. This work was published in 1989 under the title of "The Rainmaker". At Auckland University Tim met his wife Paula, which happily resulted in his staying on in New Zealand and joining the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade. As a diplomat he served in Moscow, Manila and New York before being appointed as Ambassador to Timor Leste. In 2012 Tim became head of the Visits and Ceremonial Office, which manages visits to New Zealand by heads of government and other dignitaries. Now retired from the public service, but working hard on his golf game and first novel, Tim will bring his Irish wit to bear on the subject of "How to Distinguish a Visitor".

MARY POTTER HOSPICE APPEAL

Wellington North is a supporter of Mary Potter Hospice. Volunteers are sought for the Hospice Street Appeal for Thursday 16 May, to collect in the Johnsonville, Khandallah, Ngaio and Crofton Downs area between 9 and 5pm. We are looking primarily for more collectors for Johnsonville and have a few vacant slots for outside Woolworths in Crofton Downs. We are also looking for collectors at the main stations of Johnsonville, Khandallah, Simla, Ngaio and Crofton Down stations between, say, 7.15 and 8.45.

It would be sufficient for those who can participate in the collection to provide their names and phone numbers to David Young and he will follow them up.

IN OUR COMMUNITY

Resistance to the potential closure of Khandallah Pool continues to gather momentum.

One of the many revenue gathering proposals in the Council's long-term plan is installing parking meters in Ganges Road.

Information for future flyers to Morris Robertson mrps6T@gmail.com on the Tuesday one week before meetings.
