
Wellington: Creating Tomorrow

Half Day Forum, Thursday 4 July 2019

Big ideas are cool again. The best place to find them is at Wellington: Creating Tomorrow, a forum inspired by Rotary.

The Forum has been running for eight years, covering a range of topics. This year we'll build on that success by sharing new ideas and aspirations and fostering 'communities of interest' among participants to help them engage, collaborate and co-create.

Our audience will be multi-generational, from all walks of life and inclusive of Māori, Pasifika, Pākehā and new immigrants. As well as young people, we're engaging those with young families and the elderly, so that every perspective is heard. The common denominator is a passion for discovery and a commitment to tangible change.

So come and join in the conversation and be part of creating your Wellington of tomorrow.

Among the speakers are:

- Hon Grant Robertson, MP for Wellington
- Tamatha Paul, President Victoria University Students' Association
- Moana Mackey, Chief Advisor to Chief City Planner, WCC
- Wayne Mulligan, Taranaki Whānui ki te Upoko o te Ika
- Sophie Handford, School Strike 4 Climate
- Anake Goodall, Chair Hillary Institute of International Leadership
- Sarb Johal, Psychologist and disaster mental health expert
- Chloe Swarbrick, MP
