

Great to hear reports from our Committee Chairs on Tuesday. Nice to be reminded of all the hard work our club does throughout our community.

Special congratulations go out to our Emma and her husband Andy! They are no longer solely fur baby parents; a wee bundle of joy is due in September.

Please let me know if you need a table reserved for your quiz team – Thursday 6th of May, I'm getting a few teams enter now.....

Thought of the week: Laughing is the best medicine, but if you're laughing for no reason, you may need medicine!

As we remember those fallen ANZACs who gave so much for our country and the future generations of our country, and the world..... have a nice weekend everyone.
