INDUCTION OF NEW MEMBER

By Cece Zhang

Young people today behave like “quantum pinballs,” switching countries repeatedly in pursuit of opportunity, affordability, and community. By 2050 the winners will be jurisdictions that offer climate resilience, reasonable taxes, robust infrastructure, and social openness. Khanna’s own software venture, AlphaGeo, ranks locations against such criteria to help individuals and investors decide where to live, work, or retire.

Climate change reshapes both population flows and food production. People will generally relocate along four predictable vectors: coastal → inland, low-lying → high ground, hot → cooler, and always by the shortest affordable hop. As droughts, mega-storms, and water scarcity intensify, entire “vacant states” could emerge when regions like parts of Bolivia, Eritrea, or Yemen become uninhabitable. Conversely, higher-latitude zones in Canada or northern Europe are already expanding agricultural output and absorbing migrants.

Because no global migration framework exists—and none is likely—countries are striking bilateral “skills partnership” deals. Japan recruits Filipino nurses; Germany just opened 90 000 visas a year for Indian software engineers; Greece seeks Indian construction crews. Competition for critical workers resembles elite football transfers, with professionals constantly arbitraging wages across borders.

In the Q&A, Khanna notes sectors poised to benefit from these macro forces: defense in an era of conflict, AI hardware-software, and resource companies buoyed by climate-driven commodity inflation. Yet he concludes that even the most automated societies will still need human caregivers and innovators, making youthful migration the pivotal variable for national success.

The Magical Conference

Joint District Conference Rid 3420 & 3310, 16 - 17 May 2025
("Bali Discon")

(By Dir Linda Lin with contribution from IPP Dr Chan Siew Luen and Rtn Danielle Jiang)

The Rotary District Joint Conference 2025, held on May 16-17, 2025, at The Meru Convention Hall in Sanur, Denpasar, Bali, was a landmark event that united over 500 Rotarians from across the globe to address pressing environmental and community challenges. Organized by Rotary District 3420 (East Indonesia) and District 3310 (Singapore, Malaysia, Brunei), the conference embraced the theme "Collaboration for a Better and Sustainable Life." It provided a platform for sharing innovative solutions, fostering international collaboration, and celebrating Rotary's commitment to service above self.

The conference addressed Bali's environmental challenges, particularly its annual waste generation of 1.6 million tons, 20% of which is plastic. This focus aligned with Rotary's growing emphasis on environmental sustainability, making the event a critical platform for actionable solutions.

Conference Highlights

The two-day conference featured a range of sessions designed to inspire and equip Rotarians with tools to address global challenges. Key highlights included:

i) Pameran Projek (Project Exhibition)

Grassroots projects focused on sustainable living, offering practical examples for replication in communities worldwide. Projects included waste reduction initiatives and community-driven environmental efforts.

ii) Sungai Watch

A key initiative focused on innovative river cleaning solutions to combat water pollution in Bali's waterways, a critical issue for environmental and public health.

iii) Talk Show on Sustainable Business

Featuring collaborations with organizations like Plastic Angel and Pesona Plastik, this session explored how businesses can adopt sustainable practices to reduce environmental impact, emphasizing partnerships that turn waste into opportunity.

iv) Waste Management Training Center

Located in Pemogan, Denpasar, this center promotes the principles of Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle, serving as a model for community education and action to address Bali’s waste crisis.

The conference also highlighted Rotary’s broader humanitarian efforts, such as its polio eradication campaign, which has immunized 1.2 billion children globally, and community literacy programs that enhance educational access in underserved areas.

The Rotary Club of Singapore, as a key member of District 3310, contributed to Rotary’s success through its participation and alignment with the goals and mission of Service Above Self. The club’s history of impactful projects, such as Football Plus and mangrove restoration, highlights its leadership in Rotary’s mission.

In view of its contribution to society, the club won many prestigious awards at the conference, namely:

The grand finale for the 2-day conference was the Governor’s Banquet. Themed “Masquerade”, the guests were all transformed with their suits and gowns. The masks and masquerade added an air of elegance and mystery, which Rotarians do not experience in their normal club gatherings. The mystique was surreal as Rotarians realised that they are bonded together through the common goal of service above self.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of awards.

The Rotary International District 3301 and 3420 Joint Conference in Bali, Indonesia, was a resounding success. It reinforced the commitment of Rotarians to serve their communities and work together to make a lasting difference in the world. The collaborative spirit and shared vision witnessed during the conference will undoubtedly inspire and drive future Rotary initiatives.

Thoughts from Rotarians who participated in Bali DISCON

By Rtn Suresh Hathiramani

I was one of the early registrants of the DISCON2025 recently held in Bali. What attracted me to attend was the “Environment and Sustainability” theme of this conference, and to pay tribute to our two back-to-back DGs, and that our club was the de-facto host. There was also this inner urge to visit Bali which is my favourite holiday and ‘unwind’ destination. And above all the potential for inter-district cooperation in joint projects with D3240 was not lost on me.

At the end of my 5-day extended visit, all my expectations were fulfilled and more. Let me elaborate why this conference was truly unique and uplifting. (I must admit that this is the first DISCON I have attended in my Rotary career, and I didn’t have any prior experience to compare – so I spoke with many senior club Rotarians and their views coincided with mine)

To begin with, the choice of Bali as a conference location where fellowship and cooperation are the drivers, was most appropriate. There are few places in the world that can rival Bali for such an event. And then, the decision to hold an annual district event jointly with our neighbouring district was in my opinion a master stroke of Rotarian creativity and foresight. Credit must go to the two visionary District Governors Dr Yap Lip Kee and Suzana Chandra for taking this bold step. And of course, all credit and gratitude to Dr Chan Siew Luen and his dedicated team for pulling off this with such precision, grace, and finesse. The choice of the venue, the organisation, the food, and the coordination were of the highest order except the weather. I wish they could have hired a more experienced shaman to bring us relief rain on some of the days.

The fellowship and getting to know dedicated Rotarians from a neighbouring district of Indonesia was especially meaningful to me since part of my family roots hail from there. My key takeaway from this conference is that all future district conferences for D3310 should be conducted jointly with another district as it opens avenues of cooperation and understanding that would never have been otherwise possible. There is always room for improvement and tweaking the formats, but this was a fantastic start. Looking forward to DISCON2026.

By Rtn Liesa Desisca

As a new Rotarian, I wasn't quite sure what to expect from the District Conference. So when Dr Chan, the organiser, personally messaged me with a warm invitation, I felt both honoured and curious. Wanting to support, I booked my ticket, flight and hotel. But as the date drew closer, doubts started to creep in. Would it be worth the time ? Should I just stay in Singapore and work instead ? But something in me said : Just show up. And I'm so glad I did.

From the moment I arrived, I could feel the Rotary spirit come alive - through the vibrant energy, heartfelt stories, meaningful conversations, and the powerful sense of community. The event was beautifully run, the stage was impressive, but what truly moved me were the people. Rotarians from every background, united by the same purpose : to serve and to make a difference.

My biggest takeaway? Say yes - even when it feels uncertain. Because that's where growth begins. Rotary isn't just about meetings or projects - its about courage, connection and stepping into something greater than yourself.

By Dir Ong Ting Yong

I really enjoyed the 3 days of fellowship at Bali DISCON—catching up with friends from across the district, learning together, and just spending quality time as Rotarians. The Bali setting definitely added to the experience—ocean breeze, beach vibes, and great company.

I especially liked this year's focus on sustainability, which gave a meaningful direction to the discussions. The House of Friendship was also a nice touch—having booths to visit and explore gave it a different flavour from the usual dancing and drinking, and it felt more engaging and purposeful.

DISCON reminded me how valuable it is to gather as a Rotary family—not just to celebrate, but to exchange ideas and recharge our sense of purpose. Looking forward to the next one in KL!

By HM Uttam Kripalani

Flying from Singapore, I ran into PP Sajad Akhtar, PP Paliath Mohandas and Rtn Suresh Hathiramani on the SQ flight. I had arranged with the Bali Beach Hotel to send a car to pick me up. The driver initially refused to take additional passengers and in stepped Suresh with his Bahasa skills and convinced him to take three of us in the same car.

Reaching the Hotel I was a bit annoyed to learn that we had been transferred to the adjoining Meru hotel, which surprisingly turned out have a large suite instead of the basic room at the Bali Beach Hotel resulting in the return of smiles all around.

With my walking difficulties, the main disadvantage was the extra walking to the conference site but some of the trips were supported by rides in special buggies arranged by President Tom Wolff and Yvonne.

Whilst most conferences have their conflicting emotions, the best part is often the wonderful moments of meeting so many Rotarians not only from our own district 3310 but also from district 3420.

The joint effort so ably handled by all the organisers, left very positive feelings and congratulatory messages are definitely in order.

One of the great joys of being in Bali that I got to celebrate my 81st birthday with so many friends not only in Bali but also at Denpasar airport lounge, where many of us found ourselves on the way back.

By PP Mark Wang

I'm happy to witness the transition of two District Governors, both from our Club. This is a historical occasion.

It was wonderful experience to hold jointly with D3420, the local Indonesian district. They have been our project partners for many years in the HTC and orphanage visits. The conference was held in a lovely idyllic venue at Bali Beach Resort. Unfortunately, cost to attend is necessarily high, especially for those traveling from East Malaysia.

There were great performances, featuring Balinese cultural music and dances. The world class magician Tom Weil put on a jaw dropping show. DGE Shahul was the perfect foil. The conference contents were well balanced with Rotary information and thought-provoking insights into Bali environment and water issues. I had a wonderful and rewarding time.

The Four-Way Test

Of the things we think, say or do:

- 01. Is it the TRUTH?
- 02. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
- 03. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
- 04. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?
