

An aerial photograph of a campsite. In the background is a long, single-story wooden building with a brown metal roof and a central gable. A Canadian flag flies on a pole to the left of the building. A wooden staircase leads from the building down to a grassy area. In the middle ground, there is a playground with a blue metal frame, a red-roofed playhouse, and a blue slide. A white fence separates the playground from a sandy area in the foreground. A small wooden shed is visible in the lower right. The entire scene is surrounded by dense green trees under a cloudy sky.
