IT WAS the culture at her high school that cemented Stephanie Kay's will to help her community.

One of the 10 newest members of the proposed new Sunshine Coast Rotary Club Passport, Ms Kay believes time is the most precious gift you can give.

She has been involved with service clubs since her early 20s. "I started volunteering in high school and never stopped," she said.

The now 28-year-old believes the new, flexible style of Rotary was the way of the future.

"Nothing compares to the immense satisfaction of serving others and helping make your local community a better place to live," she said.

She is encouraging others to join the club and experience what it's like to make a difference to the community.

The Rotary Club of Sunshine Coast Passport (Provisional) is the proposed new, innovative Rotary club based on the Sunshine Coast. It is a new version of Rotary club that encourages members to engage in service in ways that fit within their family, work and life commitments.

It also encourages members to visit their local community and work together to make a difference.
