ROMAC provides surgical treatment for children in Australia and New Zealand from developing countries from our Pacific Region in the form of Life Giving and/or dignity restoring surgery not accessible to them in their home country.

ROMAC commenced in March 1988 out of the actions of an Australian Rotarian who, with a group of surgeons, visited Lambasa in Fiji. They found the child mortality rate as high as 25% in some places. They quickly identified that lack of medical and surgical facilities and skills for children of the island nations in Oceania, was a major cause. Rotary faced the challenge to assist an 18-year-old Fijian girl whose right leg was threatened if immediate surgery was not performed.

During the next four years, eight children were brought to Australia for major, often lifesaving, surgery. Soon 20 Australian Rotary clubs were caught up in the success of each case and assisted in various ways. ROMAC established five regions representing clubs in the west, east, south, north and centre of the country.

A New Zealand region was formally established in 2004 and treated its first patient, from Vanuatu, in December 2005. The inaugural New Zealand region representative was Trish O'Reilly and Dr Max Morris, the first New Zealand Medical Director.

It was a slow and steady process to promote the objectives and raise awareness of ROMAC in the New Zealand region, but the number of patients treated in New Zealand has risen to more than 25 patients per year.

ROMAC in New Zealand and Australia enlists assistance from medical experts, hospitals, nurses, physiotherapists, pathology and radiology services, airlines, sponsors and other supporters. Today ROMAC is providing surgical treatment to around 50 children from Oceania every year – we are making a huge difference in their lives.

May 13, 2022

Vinna, from Vanuatu, first came to ROMAC in 2017 and followed a 2-year journey to repair a multiple fracture and infection of her right leg.

The final stages of treatment required the insertion of a plate to stabilise the bone graft and Vinna was due to have this plate removed in April 2020. Covid-19 intervened and the removal of the plate did not happen then. However, in November 2022 the plate was removed successfully.

Vincent is a Solomon Islands patient who arrived in Australia as a two-month old requiring urgent surgery to correct a blockage between his oesophagus and his stomach. This meant he had to be fed via a catheter into the stomach.

Ten months later, after follow-up surgery, numerous hospital visits for day procedures, and constant monitoring by the doctors at the Centennial Hospital for Women and Children in Canberra, he is progressing. He is now able to take food orally and is putting on weight. Vincent celebrated his first birthday at a colourful party organised by Sandra Goldstraw and her District 9710

March 11, 2018

Ken lives with his family in a remote village in the Solomon Islands where they have no running water or electricity. He was born prematurely at 6 months so he was taken by canoe to a clinic and then transported to hospital, where he spent the next 3 months. However, over time, his heart started to fail. Sydney cardiologist Dr James Weaver, who was visiting the Solomon Islands, saw 14-year-old Ken and was concerned he would not survive much longer without treatment. He referred him to ROMAC. Ken was flown to Sydney for major heart surgery at the Sydney Children's Hospital in Randwick. His operation went well under the care of cardiologist Doctor Forsey and he returned to the Solomon Islands to attend school, play soccer with his friends and enjoy a happy, healthy life.

Face Book Posting From Dickson Ken - 13 May

I had a wonderful time in PNG where I had the privilege of donating laptops to school students. Many of these students attend tertiary institutions without access to proper tools, resorting to using their mobile phones or borrowing laptops from friends in desperation...

It's a reality I know all too well, having once been in their shoes, hiring or borrowing laptops to complete assignments. Special thanks to Technology Services of Brisbane Boys' College for their generous donation of devices, which were at end-of-life, enabling me to make a tangible difference in the lives of these students...

The Hon Timothy Masiu, MP, Minister For ICT said, "The future will be a digital future and we can not afford to be left out."

I know this donation will empower, uplift, and inspire the next generation through education and access to technology...

Describe the Project

The Rotary Club of Brisbane has been supporting the development of village chicken breeding farms in PNG since 2019, with funds previously provided by the club used to set up two Master Farmers (Wau, Morobe Province and Gabagaba, Central Province) and to support village chicken training activities with community members. With its implementing partner in PNG, the Kyeema Foundation, and combining funds with the Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, since the start of the village chicken program in 2019 six Master Farmers have been set up and over 175 villagers have been trained and supported to keep village chickens.

The demand for village chickens is rising rapidly, as most rural families cannot access affordable protein. PNG ranks the fourth highest in the world for child stunting, which is estimated to sit at 49.5%, and this is primarily believed to be due to insufficient protein in the diet. This is skewed towards the 80% of Papua New Guineans who still live a rural subsistence existence, collecting what food they grow from their gardens. The eggs and also the chickens can also be sold for a good price in local markets, to supplement the income of rural families. As village chickens can scavenge for their own food and don't need to be fed commercial feed, they are very cheap to maintain. They also go broody, so will hatch and look after chicks, so there is no need to purchase chicks to replenish stocks. They are also very well adapted to the local environment, so are much hardier than the commercial chickens. Their manure can be used to fertilise gardens and their scratching helps to aerate soil. They have a much lower environment footprint when compared to commercial chickens.

This support is being requested to set up another Master Farmer in Metevoi village, New Hanover Island, New Ireland Province. It will be managed by John Aini, who is the founder of Ailan Awareness Association (<https://ailanawareness.wordpress.com/about/>), an NGO that has been supporting the local communities around Kavieng since 1993. In July 2022, Kyeema Foundation visited the proposed project site at the invitation of the Conservation and Environment Protection Authority (CEPA) who accompanied the visit, and John Aini, Ailan Awareness, who hosted the event. CEPA funded Kyeema to undertake initial awareness raising with communities on village chicken keeping and coral gardening / reef restoration. The team visited island communities of New Hanover (Metevoi village) and Tsoi island (community centre) as well as mainland communities Kaselok and Livitua villages on the east coast and Para village on the west coast of Kavieng. There was great interest in both village chicken keeping and coral gardening programs. The local women were interested in the backyard village chicken keeping concept as they could see the potential in improving household income by selling eggs and meat. This activity would be the first Master Farmer in New Ireland Province.

The Rotary Club of Brisbane is committing A$10,000 ($5,000 in 23/24 and $5,000 in 24/25) for travel and training activities and the Ailan Awareness Association will also be contributing K5,000 (A$2,000) to support the training activities once the farm is set up. This will ensure the long-term sustainability of the training program, as once the Master Farmer is confident, he can continue to provide training to the community members without Kyeema's support. Training videos and slides prepared in PNG will be provided to Ailan Awareness for this purpose.

The aim of the Rotary Club of Brisbane is to continue to expand the village chicken program in PNG to reach every Province, to improve national capacity to breed and sell local chickens in PNG. Having ready access to affordable protein is the key to reducing childhood stunting. Eventually it is hoped that this could become a global program with the support of Rotary International and the Australian Government Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade. RCOB recently received a donation from the Rotary Club of Moorestown, New Jersey, to support Kyeema's PNG village chicken training activities, which was as a result of the Rotary International magazine featuring the village chicken project in its December 2023 edition (see attached blog). These funds will be put towards the Kavieng activity also.

Outline the Benefits of the Project

It is hoped that over time, all interested community members will be trained and supported to keep village chickens, and that they will be using the chickens and eggs as both an affordable source of protein for the family and as an income source when needed (e.g. to pay school fees). As women mostly manage the chickens, we are confident that income earned will be spent on essential household needs. The benefits will be improved protein intake in children, which will over time reduce the incidence of childhood stunting. It will also enable more children to go to school, and for additional food items to be purchased as required for family consumption. It also gives women a "petty cash" option, so that when they need funds they can sell a chicken or some eggs.

The project is expected to create a community hub for small agriculture activities, targeting village chicken farming and backyard gardening. The activities will complement one another by providing locally grown products to feed families and the farmed village chickens. These activities will complement each other to sustain the project in local communities.

How will it meet the needs of the Community?

The communities who participate in the project will be given the opportunity to improve their skills and knowledge in village chicken farming and backyard gardening. Kyeema will deploy specialised village chicken farming trainers to conduct training in how to look after farmed village chickens. The training will improve skills and knowledge.

- Poultry husbandry
- Improve housing and nesting
- Identifying local grown and natural feed
- Egg management
- Nursery Management
- Biosecurity

The project will enable households to access alternative, fresh protein through eggs and meat to provide a nutritious meal daily for families. It will also provide fresh vegetables for household consumption. The addition of fresh protein and vegetables should improve longer-term health outcomes for families and reduce childhood stunting.
