

The Grapevine

IN SERVICE OF ROTARY

The Presidential Proclamation

A week full of Rotary activities with our Fellowship Weekend in Barooga/Cobram, raffle ticket selling, members at District functions and meetings and an inspirational weekly meeting with both a fascinating guest speaker and two members of our Interact Club visiting.

What a wonderful Fellowship Weekend we had and we sincerely thank Rowan for the work he put into it's organisation. Some played golf (both well and badly so I hear), we sang, enjoyed a bus tour of the local area, took a paddle steamer on the Murray, sampled local wines and cheeses, and enjoyed a relaxing time in good company. I was totally lead astray and was shown how to play the pokies (for the first time ever) and won 27 cents!!

The Rotary Foundation continues to be the focus for November. We have many members who already donate to the Foundation and we aim to have ever member a donor through either the Every Rotarian Every Year program or by becoming a Paul Harris Society member. We all believe in the mission of the Foundation - to do good in the world.

Two very fitting quotes - one from Charles Dickens who says:

"No one is useless in this world who lightens the burdens of another."

And one from Winston Churchill who says:

"We make a living by what we get. We make a life by what we give."

So please go forth and give of yourselves and Be a Gift to the World.

President Jane ... and we made it in the 2015 Upstream Challenge!

Balwyn High School Interact

Maddy Kitson & Sueanne Lee, year 11 students at Balwyn High interrupted their hectic end of year study schedule to inform us that their Interact Club has done some great things this year and they are hopeful of increased student involvement next year. Estelle is our Youth Director and attends the Interact meetings whenever possible to help formulate strategy.

Pictured: Estelle with the girls, and Maddy applying a forceful grip with the robotic prosthetic hand courtesy of guest speaker Richard Fejer who spoke to us about the past present and future of prosthetics.

Steven Greatorex introduced Guest Speaker Richard Fejer to us as a past colleague in the business of supply of prosthetics to most major hospitals.

Richard discussed the evidence of prosthetic limbs as far back as 500 B.C. Egypt. The American Civil War was a huge impetus for the establishment of a prosthetics industry with a resulting 70,000 amputees. To appreciate this phenomena read the story of James Edward Hanger @ <http://www.hanger.com/history/Pages/The-J.E.-Hanger-Story.aspx>

Unfortunately wars and disease have been the driver of prosthetic limb development, however the flip side is that new technologies have provided advanced functionality, comfort and control for the wider population.

New technologies of the future are thought controlled robotic hands and we have seen Olympic running events for amputees with space age prosthetic feet and legs. Richard discussed TMR research which is Targeted Muscle Reinnervation. Read more about this technique HERE.

Thanks Richard for an inspiring presentation.

Christmas Fare 2015

Ladies, friends and supporters, once more I am asking for your help with baking etc. for the Christmas Fare on Friday, 4th December, 2015, outside the Commonwealth Bank in Doncaster Rd. supporting the Boroondara Family Network and Days for Girls.

Cakes, biscuits, slices, mince pies, puddings, chutneys etc. would be gratefully received. I have plenty of red spotted cellophane bags for packing if you would like some. Other-wise the usual Christmas plate and presentation would be fine.

Ian Mollison has generously offered (again) to be the receiver of goods before 5pm on Thursday 3rd December, at his Hello World Office in the Village.

If you would be interested in doing a shift on the day, please let me know.

Rotary Leadership Institute

Phil West from the Rotary Club of Balwyn spoke to us about The Rotary Leadership Institute (RLI).

The RLI sessions are fun, fast paced, interactive one day courses run by experienced and formally trained Rotarians in our District. The participants contribute their experience and ideas in facilitated conversational small discussion groups, sharing knowledge, ideas and opinions. They learn how Rotary operates differently in clubs and learn from these differences. It builds confidence in a Rotarian

Phil recommends you consider joining in.

Colin Sharp reminded those going to the vocational visit of the new Melbourne Markets to get up early this Thursday and get on the bus. Ring Colin if have questions and we will be looking out for those of you who fall asleep at The Club meeting.

For those who think the internet is just as good as being there, follow the link. HERE This is a great opportunity to see The Market as its closed to the public. If you can't make it on this occasion and wish to visit, there is an organized tour called C The Market who run tours. See

Glen and Shirley Walmsley

Last Monday, Geoff and Judy travelled to Albury to catch up with Glen and Shirley Walmsley before returning to Melbourne from Cobram. Glen was a member of our club until 2001 and is now living in, and loving, West Albury. As many would remember, Glen has not had the best of health for some years with a lung problem that remained unresolved. He is unable to walk very far (or fast) but is looking good having recently returned from a three week holiday in sunny QLD. Shirley, fortunately, is in excellent health. Glen, retains his subtle sense of humour as was illustrated by suggesting I park my Jaguar in the drive to impress the neighbours. He is very proud of his association with RCNB, marveling at the club's many projects. They also appreciate receiving the Grapevine that is mailed to them every week.

If you are travelling north please call to see them - their place is easy to find and they would certainly appreciate a visit.

Geoff Steinicke has their contact details if you would like to pass on your best wishes.

Last Reminder about District Conference

The District Conference Team continues to work hard to make the 2016 Conference in Bendigo the most exciting conference so far.

We are anticipating a large attendance and it would help with our planning if you could register before November 30th.

The early bird cut off date is November 30th and registration after this date will be an extra $75.

CLOSES NOVEMBER 30TH

Fellowship/golf weekend Cobram Barooga Report

Saturday: 7th November 2015

We had 14 players playing on the old course which was a nice open course suitable for the average golfer.

The stableford competition was won by Greg Ross on 38 points with runner up being Greg Matthews on 35 points.

Next was Paul Fitz, Jim Studebaker and Max Hardy on 33 points.

The encouragement award was won by Jim Romanis on 27 points.

Teams event was won by Imre Lele, Rowan McClean, Greg Ross and Jim Studebaker with an average score of 32.8.

We endeavoured to run a competition where everyone was given a ball to start with and the best score of the players who completed 18 without losing theirs would win.

This was abandoned due to the fact that only 2 players lost their ball.

Sunday: 8th October 2015

We had 20 players playing on the West course which proved to be a track that was little more challenging.

The Hackers Trophy was won by Greg Ross (captain), Joe Butler, Geoff Steinicke and Marcel Muntwyler with a handicap of 15.3 giving a net of 61.7

Second was Greg Matthews (captain), Max Hardy, Maurie Walters and Imre Lele with a handicap of 14.8 giving a net of 62.2

Third was Rowan McClean (captain), John Gartlan, Jim Studebaker and Paul Fitz with a handicap of 13 giving a net of 64.

I would encourage all golfers and in regard to the Ambrose comp on the Sunday all non golfers with an interest in playing to participate next year as it is certainly a great fellowship weekend.

Could I thank Peter Elliott for his invaluable assistance.

A Christmas Story

... and that is WHY the chicken crossed the road.

"The North Balwyn Rotary Club Antiques Road Show"

Guest speaker at our Club Meeting on Thursday 26th of November (a partners' night) will be well known and respected auctioneer, Mr. John Ainger of E. J. Ainger Pty. Ltd. Auction Rooms, Bridge Road, Richmond.

To make this an interesting and successful night, we need the following:-

Members are asked to submit some "significant items" to be evaluated - such as silverware, ivory, glassware, ceramics, metalware memorabilia etc. (Items not required are jewellery, paintings, furniture or sporting memorabilia). We would like 6 or 7 items for John Ainger to discuss during his address and a further number of general interest items for display.

With your help, this will contribute to a memorable evening. Many thanks. Duncan Ansell, for the Fellowship Committee.

Geoff's Health TipsVegetable oil cooking 'linked to cancer and brain disorders'

Such a headline, reported in The Age, should have drawn widespread comment, but it didn't. However, it's important that you know what happens to some vegetable oils when heated to high temperatures. Most people are unaware that some vegetable oils produce toxic chemicals and trans-fats when used for frying and cooking above 180°C, whilst other oils are relatively safe.

The oils that are chemically altered by frying or cooking above 180°C are the oils rich in polyunsaturated fats – sunflower, corn, palm, safflower and their mixtures. Ironically, these are the oils that are recommended we use to lower cholesterol and the risk of heart disease, however this recommendation really only applies when the oils are used at room temperature, as in margarine or salad dressings.

What happens to polyunsaturated oils when heated above 180°C? According to Professor Martin Grootveld from De Montford University in Leicester, heating caused the release of chemicals called aldehydes, which have been linked to illnesses including cancer, heart disease and dementia. A typical meal of fish and chips, fried in vegetable oil, contained as much as 200 times more toxic chemicals than the safe daily limit set by the WHO. Imagine the increased concentration of toxic chemicals when this oil is reheated several times before it is discarded, or worse, when it is taken away, filtered and returned for further use.

Which oils should be used for cooking? The safe oils to use for frying and cooking are especially the saturated oils such as butter, coconut and lard, and the monounsaturated oils such as olive and canola. We know that the Heart Foundation has warned against consuming saturated oils because these oils raise cholesterol levels, but when it comes to heat, they do not produce the high levels of toxic aldehydes and trans-fats.

The take-home message is to use polyunsaturated oils for spreads and dressings and the saturated and monounsaturated oils for cooking at 180°C and above. As an all-purpose oil you can't go past olive oil.

Geoff
