PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Done in a Day.

There are many ways to make a difference. We are all familiar with the grand campaigns and projects that garner lots of press, but smaller actions can lead to positive results too and that is what I will focus on today.

First, how Small Actions make a difference.

Psychology. It turns out humans do well with short term goals. We all like having clear milestones and pathways to success. These are easy wins that lead to short term achievements which keep us engaged and motivated.

Habit. There are 3 components to creating a habit. The first is a trigger - the cue to take an action. The next is to have a routine. 40-45% of decisions are actually just routines. The final component is a reward. We will make taking action a habit by doing something. Cues will occur at our meetings to make Done in a Day actions routine. Then we will lock habits into place by celebrating the results.

Community. Where appropriate we will break into smaller groups to work on our Done in a Day actions. This will strengthen our club's community by allowing everyone to get to know each other better, learn together and become part of the larger Club Team. We will create synergy with our combined wins and better understanding of how we can work together.

Network. With a number of our Done in a Day actions we will engage our networks. As we all do this our successes and ideas will spread. Others will learn more about our fight to end human trafficking and will be primed to do more.

Influence. As our networks learn and grow, we will expand our influence. Like a ripple in a pond, actions lead to more actions. Those who are busy often shy away from Big Plans of action, but by passing along easy wins, we can get others on board and inspired.

Finally, people are drawn to success. They want to be a part of something that is thriving and growing. As we share our actions people will hear more and more about what we are up to, and we will draw others into the fight. As we share achievable actions, connect and communicate, others will take note, and their barriers to action will drop.

Any step in the right direction makes a difference and has an impact. It can help you shift your habits and keep you motivated. It can help you connect to others who are on the same path which might help you build your team. You will gain information, learn and grow. With each step you take the monumental mountain in front of us can become more understood and surmountable. You can embrace that you are a part of the solution.

Next month's President's letter will focus on our larger goals and plans.

Moving intention into Action,

Michelle Seets

Rotary Club to End Human Trafficking President, 2022-2023

LEARNING WITH JUSTICEU

JusticeU is an online educational platform aimed to help individuals gain a better understanding of human trafficking. The founders of JusticeU believe that the solution to end human trafficking is to gain the proper knowledge needed to prevent human trafficking from occurring.

Human trafficking is a global issue that affects a multitude of communities all over the world. JusticeU uses research-based instructional approaches and global and local perspectives to create their different courses. They currently offer 3 course series: Learn How to End Human Trafficking, Healthcare Response to Human Trafficking, and Essential Knowledge for Addressing CSEC. Along with those series they provide an additional course on the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on human trafficking. The first course series offered by JusticeU is free and is made up of three classes all ranging from one to two hours in length. This series focuses on teaching individuals what human trafficking is, how to report it, how communities can come together to end it, and how to become part of the solution.

JusticeU gives individuals who are interested the power to learn more about human trafficking and give them the proper skills to fight against it.

PACT: PARTNERS AGAINST CHILD TRAFFICKING

SUMMARY

PACT has been a long time collaborator with the Rotary Club to End Human Trafficking. It's dedication towards raising awareness and its focus on preventative education has helped teach children about human trafficking.

PACT got its start in September of 2014 after its founder Rick Naylor witnessed an eye opening experience and led him to stop child sex trafficking. Naylor sought out to create an organization that focuses on prevention to stop child sex trafficking before it happens.

Daniela Herrera

Daniela Herrera is currently the program manager for PACT. She got involved with the organization during her time as an undergraduate student at the University of Texas at Austin.

Her day to day responsibilities involve checking in on the progress of all of the different projects that PACT is involved with. This includes working with different Rotary organizations all around the world to bring PACT's educational program to new audiences.

Daniela became involved with PACT through her student organization the Texas Sunshines. During her time with the organization they decided to focus on human trafficking as their philanthropic cause. From there they found PACT as a local Austin organization that they could work with.

Daniela wanted to highlight PACT's training program to the members of the RCEHT. While the program is tailored to educate students, Daniela emphasized the instrumental feedback that Rotarians can give to help improve the program for other students.
