"The Club Leadership Plan has been the lifesaver of this club."

The Club Leadership Plan is the recommended administrative structure for Rotary clubs. It is based on the best practices of effective Rotary clubs. As each Rotary club is unique, the Club Leadership Plan is flexible enough to support the individual needs of clubs around the world. It is not mandatory for any club to adopt the Club Leadership Plan, but every Rotary club, new and old, will benefit from standardizing its administrative procedures based on these best practices:

- Develop long-range goals that address the elements of an effective club.
- Set annual goals that support long-range goals.
- Make sure that all club members feel involved and informed.
- Keep the lines of communication open, both in the club and with the district.
- Ensure continuity in leadership from year to year.
- Customize the bylaws to reflect club operations.
- Provide regular fellowship opportunities.
- Actively involve all club members.
- Offer regular, consistent training.

The goal of the Club Leadership Plan is to create an effective club that pursues the Object of Rotary, carrying out activities along each Avenue of Service. Effective clubs are able to achieve the Object of Rotary by

- Sustaining or increasing their membership base
- Implementing successful projects that address the needs of its community and communities in other countries
- Supporting The Rotary Foundation through both financial contributions and program participation
- Developing leaders capable of serving in Rotary beyond the club level

"Initially, our club was concerned that implementing the Club Leadership Plan would make more work for already-busy people. But now, with responsibilities spread over a larger group of members, we can see the advantages of the plan."

The Club Leadership Plan can help clubs increase their ability to meet their goals in each Avenue of Service. Implementing successful service projects affects Vocational, Community, and International Service. Increased membership gives a club a greater pool of Rotarians working in each avenue. Supporting The Rotary Foundation affects both Community and International Service. Streamlined processes, better communication, strategic planning, and increased member involvement will improve Club Service. With efficient operations in place, your club can become more effective in conducting its service activities. The Club Leadership Plan will allow your club to devote more effort to each Avenue of Service and reach the Object of Rotary.

OBJECT OF ROTARY	AVENUES OF SERVICE
The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:	The Avenues of Service were developed in the 1920s to clarify the Object of Rotary.
FIRST. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;	 Club Service focuses on strengthening fellowship and ensuring the effective functioning of the club.
SECOND. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;	 Vocational Service encourages Rotarians to serve others through their vocations and practice high ethical standards.
THIRD. The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;	 Community Service covers the projects and activities the club undertakes to improve life in its community.
FOURTH. The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service	 International Service encompasses actions taken to expand Rotary's humanitarian reach around the globe and promote world understanding and peace.

Benefits of the Club Leadership Plan

By providing an opportunity to reassess current operations, the Club Leadership Plan can help clubs realize many benefits:

- All members have a chance to voice their opinions on the future of their club.
- Simplified club operations give members more time to focus on service and fellowship.
- Greater involvement of club members develops future club and district leaders.

- Membership retention rates increase as members have greater participation in the club's activities.
- Club leaders have a larger group of members working to achieve the club's goals.
- Continuity between appointments and the club's goals eases the leadership transition from one Rotary year to the next.
- Renewed enthusiasm for Rotary comes from taking a fresh look at the practices of the club.

Implementing the Plan

Past, current, and incoming club officers work together to customize a leadership plan for their club based on the practices below:

1. Develop long-range goals that address the elements of an effective club.

Your long-range goals should cover the next three to five Rotary years and address the elements of an effective club: membership, service projects, The Rotary Foundation, and leadership development. They should also include strategies for promoting your club's successes in each element. As your club's leadership plan evolves, these goals should be updated.

2. Use the Planning Guide for Effective Rotary Clubs to set annual goals that are in harmony with your club's long-range goals.

The planning guide lists common strategies that clubs might use to achieve their annual goals and allows clubs to add alternate strategies. Think of it as a working document, one that you can update as needed. Annual goals should address each Avenue of Service and work to help the club pursue the Object of Rotary. For more information on goal setting, see the Club Officers' Kit (225-EN).

3. Conduct club assemblies that involve members in the planning process and keep them informed of Rotary activities.

Club assemblies help all members of the club stay up-to-date and feel included in club activities. Many clubs use assemblies as an opportunity for all members to discuss decisions that affect the club and for committees to report on their activities.

4. Ensure clear communication between club leaders, club members, and district leaders.

Regular club assemblies that include all club members and your assistant governor help to ensure that this communication takes place. Outside of club assemblies, club leaders should work together to develop a plan for communicating with each other, club members, and district leaders. In your communication plan, outline who will communicate with whom, what method will be used, and when.

"Thank you for giving us the opportunity to embrace this new structure. It has given us the freedom to think outside the box and reenergize our club."

5. Provide for continuity in leadership, including the concept of succession planning, to ensure development of future leaders.

Because Rotary club leaders change annually, every club needs a continual supply of leaders. Three of the most successful ways to achieve continuity are making appointments for multiple years; having a current, incoming, and past chair on all committees; and having the current club president work closely with the president-elect, president-nominee, and immediate past president.

6. Amend club bylaws to reflect the club committee structure and roles and responsibilities of club leaders.

Modify the Recommended Rotary Club Bylaws from RI to reflect your club's operations. For more information, see "Your Club's Bylaws" (page 6) and the Recommended Rotary Club Bylaws (page 9).

7. Provide opportunities to increase fellowship among club members.

Members who enjoy Rotary will feel more involved. Strong club fellowship will also support your club's service efforts.

8. Ensure that every member is active in a club project or function.

Club involvement teaches members about Rotary and helps retain them as active members of the club. Active members feel ownership and dedication to their club's projects.

9. Develop a comprehensive training plan.

A comprehensive training plan ensures that

- Club leaders attend district training meetings.
- Orientation for new members is provided consistently and regularly.
- Ongoing educational opportunities are available for current members.

Training is crucial for developing future leaders and ensuring that current club officers are well informed about Rotary and capable of leading the club and providing better Rotary service.

As club leaders, you should review your plan annually to ensure that it continues to meet the club's goals and reflect the club's identity. Ask district leaders, particularly your assistant governor, for help as you implement and review your plan and as needed throughout the year.

Club Committees

The Club Leadership Plan recommends appointing the following five standing committees to carry out the club's annual goals:

- Membership

This committee develops and implements a plan for recruiting and retaining club members.

- Club public relations

This committee develops and executes a plan to provide the public with information about Rotary and promote the club's service projects and activities.

"When the plan was first presented, it was met with the usual number of dissenters. But since then, all have come to see its advantages."

- Club administration

This committee conducts all the club's administrative activities. The club secretary and treasurer should be members of this committee.

- Service projects

This committee plans and carries out educational, humanitarian, and vocational projects that address the needs of the club's community and communities in other countries.

- The Rotary Foundation

This committee develops and carries out plans to support The Rotary Foundation through financial contributions and club participation in Foundation programs.

To ensure continuity in each committee's activities, appoint committee members to three-year terms, whenever possible. The club president-elect is responsible for filling vacancies and appointing committee chairs. The president-elect should also conduct planning meetings with incoming committees before the next Rotary year begins. The Club Leadership Plan recommends that each committee chair have previous experience on that committee.

The club should appoint additional committees as needed, such as for special projects or to reflect the traditional activities of the club. Each standing committee should set goals in support of the club's annual and long-range goals.

Clubs may also appoint subcommittees as needed. For example, the service projects committee might have subcommittees for community service, international service, or youth programs (such as Rotary Youth Exchange or Interact). If your club is very active in a particular Rotary Foundation program, your club may want to have a subcommittee dedicated to that program.

Each club committee should report regularly to the club's board about the progress of their activities. Many clubs use assemblies for this purpose. Each committee should also take advantage of district support by communicating regularly with the club's assistant governor and the appropriate district committees.

Support from Your District

Rotary districts exist to support Rotary clubs. The following chart shows how the district governor's leadership team supports club committees.

CLUB COMMITTEE	DISTRICT SUPPORT
Membership	Membership development committee
Club public relations	Public relations committee
Club administration	Assistant governor
Service projects	Programs committees
The Rotary Foundation	The Rotary Foundation committee

As your primary district contact, your incoming assistant governor can offer guidance as you complete the Planning Guide for Effective Rotary Clubs, which is designed to help clubs set their goals in harmony with the plan. And whether your club is strong or struggling, newly chartered or well established, this district leader can show you how to use the plan to improve the club's operations and answer questions you have along the way.

Other Rotary Clubs

By sharing their own experiences with the Club Leadership Plan, other Rotary clubs can be a great source of support. If you'd like to exchange information with another club in the district, ask your governor or assistant governor about contacting other clubs that are implementing the Club Leadership Plan.

Training Opportunities

Training conducted by the district for all club leaders is an important aspect of the Club Leadership Plan. The president-elect should attend the presidents-elect training seminar and the district assembly. Other club leaders who should attend the district assembly are the incoming secretary, treasurer, committee chairs, and as many committee members as possible. Both the presidents-elect training seminar and district assembly will provide incoming club leaders with information on the Club Leadership Plan. Your district's continuing education opportunities that all club members and officers are encouraged to take advantage of include:

- District conference
- District leadership seminar
- District membership seminar
- District Rotary Foundation seminar

Your Club's Bylaws

Your club's bylaws provide guidelines for managing the club. The Recommended Rotary Club Bylaws are developed in harmony with the Standard Rotary Club Constitution and reflect current Rotary policy. They can be adapted to meet your club's needs, goals, and activities and reflect its unique identity. Over time, as your club's leadership plan evolves, revisit your bylaws and revise them to reflect new practices and procedures.

"We were able to shape our bylaws to meet the character of our club and at the same time meet the objectives of Rotary International."

Club board

As outlined in the Recommended Rotary Club Bylaws, the club's board should consist of:

- Directors (number determined by club)
- President
- Vice president
- President-elect
- Secretary
- Treasurer
- Immediate past president

Each of these officers is elected by a majority of votes by club members to govern your Rotary club. Because committee chairs are appointed by the president-elect, rather than elected by the club, they aren't automatically members of the board. If your club wishes to include committee chairs on its board, you should modify your club bylaws.

Proposing and Voting on Amendments

Your club may amend its bylaws at any regular meeting where a majority of the club's members are present. Any proposed amendments should first be approved by the club's board, and all members should be notified of proposed amendments at least 10 days before the vote. Amendments to the bylaws must be approved by a two-thirds majority vote.

Recommended Timeline

Prepare to implement your club's plan (January-June)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The club's current and incoming board members meet to decide how the club will implement the Club Leadership Plan. A club assembly is held to inform the entire club of the decision and discuss participation with all club members. If the club's incoming assistant governor is not in attendance, the club should inform this district leader of its decision. The club's current and incoming board members develop a timeline to implement the plan that includes transition activities and keeps members as involved as possible. The club's bylaws are updated in accordance with the plan.
Implement the plan (1 July)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Club committees work to pursue the club's goals. The Planning Guide for Effective Rotary Clubs is updated as needed.
