THE ROTARY YEAR IS MOVING QUICKLY

toward the finish line. However, there are many, many exciting things left to enjoy and accomplish as we continue to make a difference in the lives of those both near and far. And, speaking of making a difference, congratulations to all who in one way or another participated in our District Humanitarian Trips to Colombia! One hundred forty Rotarians have just returned, representing 43 Rotary Clubs in District 5280, implementing eight TRF Global Grants and five non-global grants, and supporting a total of $966,708 of services and goods through partnerships at many levels, including Rotarians from Districts 4271 and 4281 in Colombia.

HUMAN TRAFFICKING INITIATIVE. Yes,

slavery is alive and well in our communities, while predators are making millions of dollars through the commercial sexual exploitation of children as well as labor trafficking, literally enslaving vulnerable children and adults alike. Our own children and grandchildren are at risk and can be targets so easily through the Internet. On June 3, the Rotary Clubs of Woodland Hills and Calabasas are hosting a Casino Night and Poker Tournament to help in the fight against this terrible brutality. One third of all proceeds raised will be directed toward the District 5280 Charitable Foundation, restricted for the battle against human trafficking within District 5280. (See related story on page 14.)

ROTARY'S GLOBAL CHALLENGE: IMPROVING MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH

By Michael Turner (Woodland Hills), SAG Communications

MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES IS A CHRONIC PROBLEM in which both mothers and their children suffer from malnutrition as well as limited access to health care, clean water, and suitable sanitation systems. In addition, millions of pregnant women, new mothers, and children experience severe illness or death each year, largely from preventable or treatable causes. According to the U.S. Agency for International Development and the Peace Corp:

In developing countries, between 25 and 33% of all deaths among women of reproductive age result from complications of pregnancy or childbirth. The risk of an African woman dying during pregnancy or childbirth is 1 in 16, as compared to a developed country where the risk is 1 in 2,800.

About 10.5 million infant and childhood deaths are estimated to occur in developing countries each year. Seventy percent of these deaths are due to pneumonia, diarrhea, measles, malaria, and malnutrition.

During April, Rotary's focus is on the worldwide crisis of maternal and child health. Rotary's objective is to educate those in vulnerable situations to the continues availability of high-quality health care for pregnant women and children, so they can live a longer and better quality of life.

The high number of maternal deaths in some areas of the world also signifies the inequities in access to health services. More than half of maternal deaths occur in sub-Saharan Africa and another one third occur in South Asia. More than half of maternal deaths occur in unstable settings.

BUDDY BENCHES: BRINGING COMFORT TO CHILDREN

By Lorine Parks (Downey), Senior Correspondent

Make a Dream Come True! 🔆 APRIL 2018

THE BUDDY BENCH IS A SIMPLE

IDEA designed to eliminate loneliness and foster friendships on the playground. It's a place where any child who feels lonely can sit, and when other children notice them, they know to reach out to him or her.

One of the core principles of Rotary is to "Build Good Will and Better Friendships." Now the Buddy Bench idea has been embraced by the District's Peace Committee, which focuses on eliminating child sex trafficking in Southern California. The connection? Placing benches on playgrounds and training teachers and students about how they are a safe place for victims of violence to find solace, comfort, and a buddy who will support them through difficult times.

The benches are produced by LAUSD students at Banneker Career and Transition Center, which trains physically challenged older children with skills that can be used to enter the job market. The benches cost between $200 and $300. "We need to determine how many schools are interested in a Rotary Buddy Bench," said Arlene Dickey (San Pedro). "We also plan to use materials being prepared by PDG Dr. Vicki Radel to train faculty and students."

RON'S PLAN FOR BUDDY BENCHES

• Send a congratulatory letter to a school when it agrees to be a candidate for the installation of a Buddy Bench.

• Meet with the principal, parents, and students to explain and explore the Buddy Bench program.

• After the bench is installed, train administrators, teachers, parents, and the student council.

• Hold a school assembly to introduce students to Buddy Benches and how to use them.

• Follow up. Meet with the school from time to time to determine how the Buddy Bench program is working.

Ron's interest in the program stems from his family law practice. He's also a Certified Family Law Specialist and travels the L.A. area presenting Conflict Solutions Workshops to small businesses.

throughout Southern California. "We're want to reach children early, before they're indoctrinated by the hate that's going around our nation," said Arlene. "It's our way of helping them learn how to be superheroes, friends, and leaders."

"It all started when we heard through a friend that Park Western Elementary School had written a grant to the Northwest Neighborhood Council requesting $1,000 for a bench. The grant was so well written, it would have put professional grant writers to shame. It was written by an 8-year-old. I thought this was an idea that must be implemented everywhere."

"I met with school officials and I was so impressed with their interest. I thought 'WOW, what a great idea.' So I went to our District and they supported it. That's why this is a District program, not just a San Pedro program."

SAN PEDRO'S FIRST BENCH was installed at Barton Hill Elementary School in San Pedro, on Monday, February 26, 2018 at 8 a.m., which is when the school day begins. The group placed the sturdy, cinnamoncolored bench near the playground and the inscription reads: "Rotarians for Peace/Buddy Bench/San Pedro Rotary Club."

"I have worked with many other clubs," commented Arlene, "Redondo Beach, Historic Filipinotown, Wilshire, Lawndale, and Gardena. By the end of 2019 there will probably a buddy bench at many LAUSD schools. Many clubs across the District have committed to funding at least one bench, and Arlene is raising funds to install benches at all San Pedro schools.

"We currently do not work with other organizations," commented Arlene, "although I see in the future opening the project up for sponsorships. The 18–22-year-old students who go to Banneker are learning wood working, and we are provided with Buddy Benches. That is one of the most successful parts of this program. It's a win-win."

FREE! COMMUNITY PEACE CONFERENCE: LEARN FROM HIROSHIMA SURVIVORS

By Makiko Nakasone, AG, Little Tokyo

THE FIRST FREE AND OPEN

TO ALL "Rotary Community Peace Conference" will be held in Little Tokyo on Saturday, April 14. This is part of the reverse Global Grant Project that the Little Tokyo club is hosting. This may be our last opportunity to listen to the Hiroshima survivors and Japanese American internees. Please finish your tax return early, and join us at this very important event!

Little Tokyo started the GG Educational Project at the Glendale Unified School District last fall, and this Rotary Community Peace Conference will be the finale of the project. The purpose of this project is to help youth understand how common people's lives change dramatically and instantly because of war. The GUSD students have completed their Peace Projects and will be displayed at this Peace Conference. Other students will participate in the Peace Speech Contest, with the winner traveling to Hiroshima this summer.

Other speakers include the Rotary Peace Fellow Captain D F Pace from the Philadelphia Police Department, who was featured in the February 2017 Rotarian magazine; Peace Leadership Director of the Nuclear Age Peace Foundation in Santa Barbara Paul Chappell; and bullying prevention program Challenge Day co-founder Yvonne St. John-Dutra from Oakland.

We will also fold 3,000 Origami paper cranes, a symbol of peace, to donate to the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park

"Sex trafficking is my number one priority," said DG Cozette Vegari, pictured.

"I had the privilege of meeting with LA City Councilmembers and with women who are leaders in the cross section of homelessness, domestic violence, and human trafficking.

"There is a real problem in our own backyard: sexploitation and trafficking. Statistics that struck me...

"When I first starting speaking on this issue," Cozette said, "and researched the statistics, which are tough to determine, I would cite the average age of children who are sexually exploited as 13 years. Today, the statistic has moved to age 12, which sickens me. The average age is decreasing.

"Additionally, the number of times a child is sexually exploited is as often as seven times per day!!! A pimp can make $100,000 to $150,000 a year per child because victims of child trafficking are used over and over again. That has more than doubled the statistic I was using after a period of a couple of years.

"And the average life expectancy after a child is dragged into that life is just seven years."

In an exclusive interview, Judge Catherine Pratt of the Los Angeles Superior Court in Compton, tells how she has pioneered a way to connect and build new and better relationships with these exploited children.

sexually exploited minors." No shackles, no orange jumpsuits when they come into her courtroom.

Judge Catherine Pratt in her 12th floor courtroom in Compton

Over seven years ago Judge Pratt secured a $350,000 grant federal, and at her request 50 girls were directed to her uniquely dedicated courtroom that works exclusively with victims of child sex trafficking. She named it the STAR court, an acronym that means Succeeding Through Achievement and Resilience.

Resilience means "the maintenance of high levels of positive affect and well-being in the face of adversity," said Judge Pratt. "It is not that resilient individuals never experience negative affect, but rather that the negative affect does not persist."

The largest share of the grant money went toward securing advocacy workers for her team. "We try to treat them as normal and give them normal experiences, like weekend outings. We have some funds, but we could use outside help with this. We go bowling, horseback riding, and remember their birthdays with cupcakes. All this is on time outside the court." The cost of cupcakes comes out of Judge Pratt's own pocket.

This new approach to empowering young victims is at the forefront of reducing human trafficking in Los Angeles County. It is a program that works and is a model for others to follow. The STAR Court has strong relationships with local law enforcement agencies and community partners.

Do you have trouble, or do they, relating to you as a blonde white woman, when 80% of these girls are Afro-American, and most of the rest are Hispanic? "You have to take time to get to know them," answered the judge, "one by one and build trust. They come into the system trusting no one. One day a girl asked me if I had been 'in the life.' That's their way to describe someone who has been involved in prostitution. She said to me, 'You really seem to get it. You understand us and you get it.' That made me proud."

The men who control these victims are treated as child molesters. Every day minor children, girls from 9 to 17, are arrested for prostitution. They are taken off the streets and brought into courts, an action that serves to push them into jail and prisons, and victimized by the real criminals, men who want nothing more then to sell their bodies for money, sometimes many times over in one night. These men who control them are treated as child molesters.

These young "defendants" in STAR Court are vulnerable and fragile. They often come from troubled homes and in trying to find approval and self-worth, instead find themselves unable to escape virtual sex slavery. Outcome, if there is no intervention: prematurely old and likely to be dead in a few years of disease or violence.

with child advocates and legal advocates from nonprofit organizations and agencies like the county Department of Children and Family Services and the Public Defender's Office.

Continuity is important. How to keep tabs on them? "I mandate that they come before me at least every month," commented Judge Pratt. "In most juvenile courts, the offenders see the judge twice a year. One really important ingredient is consistency. Consistency in seeing the same judge and the same public defenders each time, so they don't have to tell their stories to new people every time."

The pronoun "I" does not seem to be a part of Judge Pratt's vocabulary. Who then is we?

"The team: me, the social case worker, the public defender, probation officer, interested parties from nonprofits," said the judge. "We take them to doctor appointments, see they get suitable clothes to wear to school or to job interviews." As of today she and her team have worked with 500 girls.

How successful has this been? "In over seven years, working with 500 girls, we have a 72% success rate."

What is success? "It varies from day to day. In this case it means they have not been rearrested as juveniles or adults for prostitution or a related crime.

"What we want is for them to become independent young women, staying away from their pimps and becoming capable of thinking and making decisions for themselves. That shows that they have learned self-respect." —continues

Does she tell them what to do and where to go? "If I did, I would become their next pimp," said Judge Pratt. "That is, if I thought for them and ordered them around, I would become the authority figure and control them just as pimps do. We want them to think for themselves, make decisions for themselves."

Do they slip, after meeting her in court? "Of course they do. They violate probation, some try to run away. Sometimes they will tell us, as soon as they get into court, 'I tested dirty for marijuana.' But we believe, it's not how many times you fall down, it's how many times you get up again."

If the girls are tempted to go back to the sex trade by their pimps while they are on probation, how can they be stopped, if you don't believe in locking them up, that is. "There are ways. If the 'home' gets wind of their plans to leave, they can move them to a remote location. Sometimes it's just as simple as removing their shoes. They aren't going far without shoes, 20 miles from a paved road."

Judge Pratt favors rehabilitation over punishment, so she does not immediately dismiss the prostitutionrelated charges against the girls. Thus, they can remain eligible for wraparound services offered by Los Angeles County's juvenile justice system, including placement in a group home or juvenile hall—a safe place away from pimps—gang intervention programs, educational opportunities, job training, and even family reunification services.

Victimized children are controlled by fear.

"I like to use gift cards," Judge Pratt said, "so they can get the simple ordinary necessities, like appropriate clothing to wear to school."

65% of Judge Pratt's girls are graduating high school with their age group. What kind of cards? Target, Walmart, and Ralphs. She uses some of the grant money for things the kids wouldn't normally get, to mark birthdays, the end of probation terms, and other milestones. "We asked one girl what restaurant she wanted to go to for her birthday, and she said she had never been to a restaurant in her life. And she was 18."

"Most of these kids have experienced betrayal, if not worse, from people in positions of authority that skews their view of the world," Judge Pratt said. "One girl even testified before Congress about foster homes that only operate for the pay check. The girls become a commodity, and then the foster homes are no better than the pimps who exploit them for the same dollars.

"What we're trying to do for these kids is to show them there are people in positions of authority who do care. We have 65% of our girls graduating with their peer age group from high school. That is amazing when you consider how much they have moved around."

WHICH DO YOU REMEMBER BEST, YOUR SUCCESSES OR FAILURES? After a long pause,

"The failures. There aren't too many. So far, in our 500 girls there have been no suicides, though there were attempts. Two girls were killed, one by an overdose, another when her pimp ran over her with a car."

Judge Pratt does everything in her power to ensure these girls have a stable place to live, receive regular counseling and mentorship, and attend school as they work toward graduation. "For the first time in their lives, our girls feel like they have a personal champion cheering them on every step of the way." Education and job skills, mental health counseling or trauma therapy, substance abuse rehabilitation, and other programs are stressed.

Triple Crown Donor Recognition Program

One of the Districts in Zone 25/26 has adopted a district administered Rotary Foundation recognition program called the "TRIPLE CROWN DONOR". This program honors Major Donors or Arch Klumph Society members who are also members of both Bequest Society & Paul Harris Society.

District 5280 has a long history of supporting The Rotary Foundation. Our Rotarians may want to consider achieving the Triple Crown Donor status. For your reference, below are informational links and brochures to join each donor program.

Thank you for your continuous support of The Rotary Foundation. Our efforts will continue to make it possible to eradicate polio and build peace and goodwill.

WATER PASTEURIZATION INDICATOR

The WAPI can be used for pasteurizing over most fuel sources including wood, charcoal, gas and solar cookers.

Did you know that every day approximately 6000 children under 5 die from water borne illnesses? One child every 14 seconds... over 2 million each year. In fact, water-related diseases are responsible for 80% of all illnesses and deaths in the developing world. Worldwide, about 1.3 billion people do not have access to safe drinking water, including nearly half of the population of sub-Sahara Africa.

WHAT IS A WAPI? (Water Pasteurization Temperature Indicator)? A WAPI is a simple low-cost device containing a special soy wax that, when melted, allows users to determine when water, milk and other liquids have reached pasteurization temperatures. And...the WAPI is reusable and virtually indestructible. Disease-causing organisms in water, milk and other liquids are killed by exposure to heat in a process known as pasteurization. The WAPI pasteurization is accomplished in less time and with much less scarce fuel than boiling. What does this mean? In many parts of the world women and children spend hours traveling great distances in unsafe territory to scavenge for scraps of wood and brush for the daily fire. To boil liquid requires 212 degrees F. The WAPI stretches the use of the fuel because Pasteurization takes place when the liquid is heated to 149 degrees F (65 degrees C) for a short period of time rendering it free from microbes, including E Coli, Rotaviruses; Giardia and Hepatitis A virus. The WAPI indicates that liquid has reached 160 degrees F rendering the liquid pasteurized and safe for drinking.

YOU CAN HELP!

Donations: 100% of your donations are spent to acquire the supplies required to build the WAPIs. Checks to: Monterey Peninsula Sunrise Rotary Club. Send to PDG Don Kremer, 615 17th Street, Pacific Grove, CA 93950.

WAPI KITS ARE HERE!

Interested in making WAPIs?

The Monterey Peninsula Sunrise Rotary Club has WAPI Kits available. The WAPI Kit comes in a small box with assembly instructions and the materials needed to build 200 WAPIs. The cost of the kit is $85 plus shipping. That's $.42 per WAPI. Why is this cost so reasonable? The club purchases the supplies in large quantities at substantial discouts which are passed on to you. This is a great hands-on project for Interact, Rotary Clubs and other organizations. The WAPI is simple and fun to build.Your club should have a WAPI party and save lives! To order WAPI Kits contact PDG Don Kremer at WAPI@pacbell.net.

Distribution: If your Rotary club or organization has international projects in third world countries and people are drinking unclean water, then the WAPI is an important life-saving tool. If your organization has not identified a project, make WAPIs anyway. We will assist you in finding a project.

WAPI is a World Service Project from the Rotary Clubs of District 5230. We have distributed about 21300 units to date. They have gone to Uganda, Zimbabwe, Ghana, Mexico, Honduras, Armenia, Turkey, Sudan, Kenya, Tanzania, South Africa, Nepal, Mexico, Panama, Christmas Islands, Rwanda, Iraq, New Guinea, Ivory Coast, and Senegal, thus far.

By Kathleen Terry (Manhattan Beach), SAG Membership

It is important for each of us to answer this question especially when trying to recruit a new member. Do you know your why? Can you verbalize it for others?

The importance of knowing the why is so wonderfully discussed in this TED video—How Great Leaders Inspire by Simon Sinek—Great organizations ask these three questions.

SERVICE ABOVE SELF: HELPING THOSE IN NEED

By Sarah Furie (Angel City Rotoract), Rotaract Correspondent

ANGEL CITY ROTARACT CLUB WORKED A DINNER SHIFT at The Midnight Mission in Downtown Los Angeles on Sunday, March 18. It's a wonderful organization that helps people who are homelessness and offers Rotaractors prepped and served food and drinks at the Midnight Mission them recovery services, counseling, training, transitional housing, and more. A few Rotaract Clubs in the District have volunteered there before because we agree with the organization's mission and want to support their efforts.

We went right to work when we arrived; we were shown where the gloves, hairnets, and aprons were located. It was 3 p.m. and the kitchen was bustling! Employees and volunteers were cooking, cleaning, and preparing food. We spent the first half-hour cutting vegetables, tomatoes, and lettuce, which was later thrown together into a salad. For some, this does not sound like a fun time, but we felt so grateful to be able to help.

Next, we helped with the drinks. An employee blended fresh fruit in a giant pot, and we poured the juice into cups. We ended that activity by lining up the drinks at the end of the assembly lines near the silverware.

Now comes my favorite part: serving the food. I'm a people person, so my favorite part is getting to talk with the public. I love serving them with a kind smile, saying hello, and wishing them a good rest of the day. We got in the assembly lines and served chicken, rice, salad, bread, and whoopee pies. Some came back for seconds.

Cleanup was pretty quick and the employees and regular volunteers have a good, efficient system to empty the trays, clean the floors, wipe the tables, and clean the kitchen. Pretty soon, the volunteer shift was over and we were parting ways. One of the men in charge thanked us and said, "Thanks for coming. You guys are life savers!" I turned around and said to the man who just orchestrated the serving of 400 meals, "No. Thank YOU. YOU are a life saver." ★

ROTARACTORS: APPLYING THE FOUR-WAY TEST TO DEFINE ETHICS

will compete in a day-long Ethics Forum on April 9 at Loyola Marymount University. Teams will be required to employ the Four-Way Test in analyzing issues faced in schools, at work, in sports, or at home, as well as within diverse communities around the globe.

Teams are expected to be creative in selecting their topics and developing their positions, which should be based on facts, not hyperbole. They also will need to persuade the judges, some of whom are active or retired judicial officials, with the logic of their arguments and how they apply to the Four-Way Test. As an example, it is easy to say that something is "fair to all concerned," but demonstrating this concept in concrete terms will be more challenging.

In addition, teams will be judged on their preparation, organization and persuasive ability. The teams must clearly articulate their solution, explain the relevance of their arguments and how they apply to the Four-Way Test, and demonstrate how their solution is realistic and practical, as well as legal and ethical. Teams will have 10-minutes to deliver their presentations.

CHRIS REYES COMPLETES SECOND MARATHON TO SUPPORT POLIO PLUS

CHRIS REYES COMPLETED HIS SECOND LOS ANGELES MARATHON TO RAISE FUNDS TO SUPPORT POLIO PLUS. HE WAS SUPPORTED DURING THE MARCH 18 EVENT BY FELLOW ROTARACTORS. HERE ARE SOME OF CHRIS' THOUGHTS ABOUT THE RACE:

1) It was a huge honor to be the team's fundraising leader/coordinator. I was the person who pushed every team member to get their fundraising page up and the person who kept actively asking for donations. I'm glad that LA5 President Charisse Older gave me and a couple other Rotaractors the opportunity to do this. We had set a goal of $10k and we raised $6k for Polio Plus, but I am pleased with the results.

2) Every team member made it across the finish line. What you don't know is that Christopher Becerra blew out his knee at Mile 20 and painfully, but successfully, powered through the last 6.2 miles.

3) This the first marathon for my dad, Christopher Malonzo Reyes, and he made it in fewer than seven hours. I'd convinced him to participate, since he wanted to do it the last time I ran. Props to the 45-year-old big man.

4) I highly recommend running at least one marathon in your lifetime, because it's not as scary as it seems. I find motivation in running when it comes to causes, and I'm happy that there are many people who trust in my abilities/beliefs.

MEET KAREN GREENBERG, A FOUNDER OF THE BEER & WINE FESTIVAL

How did Karen become interested in Rotary? "I was introduced to Rotary by a fellow UCLA Bruin nine years ago. I had a slow start, but once I had that 'Rotary Moment' I was hooked." This Rotary year she's an AG, last year she co-chaired the Foundation Dinner on the USS Iowa.

And what was the epiphany? It was when her club, Lomita-Torrance Airport, partnered with South Bay Sunrise on a District Grant to purchase an optical reading computer for paralyzed clients at the Harbor Regional Center. Karen was touched by the possibilities thedevice created, and she knew then that Rotary does great things.

What's next for Karen? She's chair of the 2019 Humanitarian Trip to Peru. "We've gone there," she says, "and are working on global grants and other funding. The Peruvians are fantastic, and I'm working with Jessica Linan, District 4455, and president of her club, Lima Sunrise. She has been wonderful."

festival's founders. "Our only expenses are the venue, marketing, pop-up tents, tables and chairs, disposable plates and utensils, and ice."

Karen is modest: The South Bay Beer & Wine Festival attracts the best in wine, beer, and food from the entire Southern California region.

HOW DID THIS EVENT BEGIN? "The first SB Beer and Wine Festival was in October, 2013," said Karen. "We found out that this was not a good time of year, since breweries are involved in October Fest and wineries are harvesting grapes."

Community outreach programs will be beneficiaries of the event. "We limit the number of available tickets to 1,600, though we have requests for more. General admission is $75 and allows you to wander and enjoy unlimited imbibing. VIP tickets are an additional $39 and includes:

HOW BIG IS THE EVENT?

- Entrance an hour earlier at noon
- Parking onsite as opposed to across the street
- High end spirits, including Aquila Tequila, Tito's Vodka, three bourbons, reserve wines and beer, and special food
- Special VIP tent

"Last year we sold 200 VIP tickets," said Karen, "with people feeling left out, so this year we expanded it to 300. We are also working on providing more shade for general admission. Our classic rock band, Detour, is returning. We also are increasing the number of participating restaurants.

Make a Dream Come True! 🔆 APRIL 2018

"We skipped 2014 and 2015," said Karen, "and started doing the event again in 2016. This year will be our fifth festival. We are trying to consistently have it the same time each year, the weekend between Mother's Day and Memorial Day. I was the first chair for the first two years, and David Henseler is the now the chair. He's been chair for the past two years.

"This is a community event," commented Karen. "We promote it through Facebook and other social media, Beer Paper LA and other publications, the local chambers of commerce, and through the organizations we support. We even have a US trademark for the name: South Bay Beer & Wine Festival and a website. Rotarians, by the way, have a special promo code that gets them a $15 discount off general admission: IMAROTARIAN."

THERE'S MORE TO THE STORY. When Karen organized the first festival, she was president of the Lomita-Torrance Airport Rotary and her cohorts were Marianne and Bob Kelchner and Elaine Thompson. The next year, Karen, Bob, and Marianne left the club and joined South Bay Sunrise. Lomita-Torrance Airport, with fewer than 10 menters, decided they could not put the necessary work into it, so Karen, Bob, and Marianne made it a South Bay Sunrise event.

Seeing that even South Bay Sunrise was a little small, with 25 members, they invited several other clubs to partner with them. Palos Verdes Peninsula and El Segundo accepted. —continues

The event is held at Ernie Howlett Park in Rolling Hills Estates. "Although the venue could accommodate more than our 1,600-person guest limit, we have additional people from 100 participating breweries, wineries, restaurants, as well as volunteers.

"In addition, there will be more than 80 exhibitors, who energetically participate each year to raise money for our charitable beneficiaries. There also will be a silent auction and an opportunity drawing. We have several fabulous trips. We are doing something new this year by offering vendors a free businesscard size ad in the event program, where they can provide a discount, special promotion, or just information."

All foods and beverages are donated by local microbreweries, wineries and restaurants. Another new thing is that the program will be handed out at the end of the event, so guests will take it home and use the promotional ads.

"There's more," said Karen. "We will have 10–15 local artists displaying their work. They will be the only vendors who can sell their items, and their booths will be integrated with the food and beverage booths."

Why do we have a Rotary Bell?

In 1922, RI organized an attendance contest and the challenge was that the losing clubs would join in giving the winning club a prize. The New York City Club was declared the winner and they were awarded a bell that came from HMS "Victory," which was Admiral Nelson's vessel at the battle of Trafalgar. Since then, the bell has been used at Rotary meetings to signify order, discipline, and the time to start the meeting.
