GOVERNOR MUSINGS for April

What a month of great events in our district – the Group Study Exchange Team from District 2550 in Japan arrived safely here on April 25.

It was a great pleasure to meet team leader Yasushi Nishida and team members Yoko Arai, Jun Hojo, Eri Aiko, and Kaori Ishikawa. We will be privileged indeed to have them with us for the next month. They are a group of very talented people, and the activities they hoped to participate in while in our district match perfectly with what our district has to offer. When they return to Japan at the end of their stay with us they should be very pleased with what they have seen and done in the U.S. and Canada, and they will have made many friends while they were here.

For the Rotarians in District 6380 this exchange will offer a marvelous opportunity to meet five wonderful people from Japan. We will learn about their interests, their work, their families and their culture. This exchange program, which is funded by the Rotary Foundation, offers Rotarians a chance to promote world understanding between peoples from areas and cultures that we will have much to learn about. I hope that many of our Rotarians will take advantage of this exchange and attend some activities hosted by clubs and Rotarians in all parts of our district.

The GSE team will be hosted by the Livingston County clubs until April 30 when they will be transported to the district conference in Dearborn. The team will be at the conference all weekend, and at the conclusion of the conference on Sunday, the team will be driven to Canada.

They will be hosted by our clubs in Chatham-Kent for the next week. We will post the itinerary on the district website so everyone will know where they are, what they are doing, and when. The team will leave our district May 24 to return to Japan.

Our district conference launches April 30

The conference committee, under the leadership of chair John Curell, has been working very hard for many months to ensure that everyone who attends this conference will find the programs very informative and interesting. There will be many opportunities to enjoy the fellowship of those in attendance. Our House of Friendship will have many club displays. We will spend three days being enriched by the experience and returning to our home clubs all the more enthused and excited about Rotary and the wonderful service it provides communities all over the world.

The membership numbers in our district have been holding nicely this year, and right now we are at a slight net gain. Our International President John Kenny asked every Rotary club this year to have just one more member in their club on June 30 than they had on July 1, 2009.

That is what I have hoped would happen in our district this year. We all know what a positive impact Rotary has in our world. We want that to continue into the future. It can only happen if we add new members regularly. There are many people in our communities who want to reach out and provide service locally and internationally.

Our Rotary clubs provide the venue for them to fulfill that dream. They just need someone to ask them to come to a club meeting, or better yet, to a club project. You will be giving them the opportunity of a lifetime.

*In Rotary Service,
Judy*

Gail Scott (right) at the April 24 Rotary Leadership Training Institute

The second session of the Rotary Leadership Institute Great Lakes Division was held April 24. There were 27 class participants in attendance – six from District 6380. This course covered Session One.

The Rotary Leadership Institute is designed to train Rotarians who want to assume leadership roles at the club level. The courses give participants more understanding and knowledge of Rotary beyond the club level. Those who attend come away knowing a lot more about how a Rotary club fits into the larger dimension of Rotary at the district and international levels.

The RLI Great Lakes Division comprises faculty and students from three districts – 6290, 6360 and 6380. There are three courses taught – and they are taken in sequence. We have now offered Part 1 two different times. The next classes will be offered in our district at the Somerset Inn in Troy, and we will offer Parts 1 & 2.

Evaluations completed after the conclusion of both of our sessions have shown that participants find the sessions interesting and motivating. These Rotarians are eager to get back to their clubs and share what they learned and want to get involved more fully in the work of their clubs. We will have information available soon for signing up for Part 1 or 2 on August 7.

"Even though the strategy of relief has changed, the need is still there in Haiti. We still have regular requests from organizations in desperate need of tents. Our focus is still on the most needy—the sick, parents with small children and pregnant women. Haiti is in the rebuilding stage, and the amount of work ahead is enormous." ~~ ShelterBox USA Director of Field Operations, David Eby on April 14, 2010

Since the January 12 earthquake devastated Haiti, ShelterBox has deployed 13,000 boxes with tents and provisions for up to 130,000 people. We could not have accomplished our largest relief effort to-date without the overwhelming support of our Rotary friends throughout the United States.

Thank you to all of you for helping us save lives in Haiti!

Nine of our ShelterBox Response Teams (SRTs) continue to work in Haiti with the goal of sheltering tens of thousands more survivors. They report to us that although the rainy season begins in May, they are already contending with flooding, as well as regular aftershocks. Meanwhile, we continue to carry out concurrent relief operations around the world.

In the first quarter of 2010, ShelterBox deployed tents and provisions to more than 150,000 survivors in seven countries: Malawi, Kenya, Haiti, Egypt, Peru, Chile and Uganda. Our first responder in China, Tony Han Zhang, is assessing the need after April's earthquake there, and our disaster relief teams are currently at work in Haiti, Sumatra and Mexico.

The earthquake in Haiti has raised our visibility in the U.S. and invigorated fundraising efforts among both new and long-term supporters. Here are just a few examples of what they accomplished for ShelterBox in the first quarter of 2010:

- Schoolchildren and their parents in California created bracelets to sell following the earthquake in Haiti and raised $10,000 for ShelterBox.
- ShelterBox Rep Jim Pickett of the Sequim Sunrise Rotary in Washington State — home Rotary club of SRTs Tom Schaafsma and Scott Robinson — reported that members passed the hat at a regular meeting following the earthquake and raised $18,000.
- ShelterBox Rep Donna Gulley secured the first ShelterBox matching grant from Rotary International, $50,000 in Rotary District 6440 Designation Funds, after she persuaded 50 of the 71 Rotary clubs in her Illinois district to donate $1,000 each.
- Corporate donors Lumber Liquidators, Whole Foods Market, Naturalizer Shoes, Donna Karan and others raised tens of thousands of dollars while promoting ShelterBox to their customers.

This support combined with the knowledge and expertise we've gained over ten years enables us to reach more survivors during the critical days and weeks after a disaster.

Please help us continue our work! Here are a few ways you can help us today:

- Schedule a ShelterBox presentation in the clubs of your district.
- Help us identify new reps in your governing area, especially where there are none.
- Give us a presence at your Rotary events, including PETS and district conferences.

Metro Detroit Rotaract Club News

Fred Sorrell recently spoke at the Wallaceburg Rotary Club. Many Rotarians in District 6380 have heard Fred speak, particularly at Great Lakes PETS in recent years. Fred is a member of the Windsor Rotary Club and a Past District Governor of District 6400. Thanks to Wallaceburg Rotarian Herman Giethoorn for recapping Fred's words of wisdom on the topic of membership. ~~ Judy Garver

Fred spoke to us about membership. He reported that Rotary membership in North America has been going down in recent years, though the increase in membership in other countries is keeping the worldwide membership up. He is wondering why because he believes that Rotary is the ideal way to spend his time. Whenever we do something for somebody else, it makes us feel good.

Fred reported that 8.8 million children die every year and 500,000 mothers die in childbirth annually. Europeans spend more on pet food and Americans spend more on cosmetics every year than what it would cost to help everybody in the world.

Fred said that people retire from Rotary because they are not made to feel welcome in the club and are not given something meaningful to do.

Many people in Wallaceburg don't know what Rotary is and what we do. We need to tell people about Rotary and ask them about joining. He suggested that we should never invite them to a meeting for their first exposure to Rotary. Instead we should invite them to help with a project we are doing in the community. That way they already know something about Rotary when they do come to a meeting. Also, we need to have some fun at the meetings.

Fred suggested that we form three teams of four people each. Each member of team A is to recruit one new member in the first year, members of team B in the second year and team C in the third year.

Fred believes that Rotarians are the best people in the world because we are motivated.

Brian Slack thanked Fred for his entertaining and informative presentation, and presented Fred with a PolioPlus Pin. We will make a donation to polio eradication his name. ~~ Herman Giethoorn Metro Detroit held their regular meeting on April 11. The club is planning upcoming fund-raisers to support selected charities. A fundraiser at the Mongolian restaurant netted enough to support a student going to RYLA in May.

The club had a visitor from Mexico – Will Escamilla-Tiburcio – who is a member of a new Rotaract club in his city. Will is in our area on a three month internship program. He is hosted by a Rotarian family from the Grosse Ile club. Will's club is a recently chartered Community Rotaract Club, like our Metro Detroit group. Will is very excited about his club, Rotary, and all the possibilities that membership in the group offers him.

It was a pleasure for me to have the opportunity to visit our club again. Their enthusiasm and desire to provide service to the local and global communities is wonderful. We will be joining partnerships with them and the district in several areas in the coming months. ~~ Judy Garver

Huron High School Interact Club hosts National Youth Service Day 2010

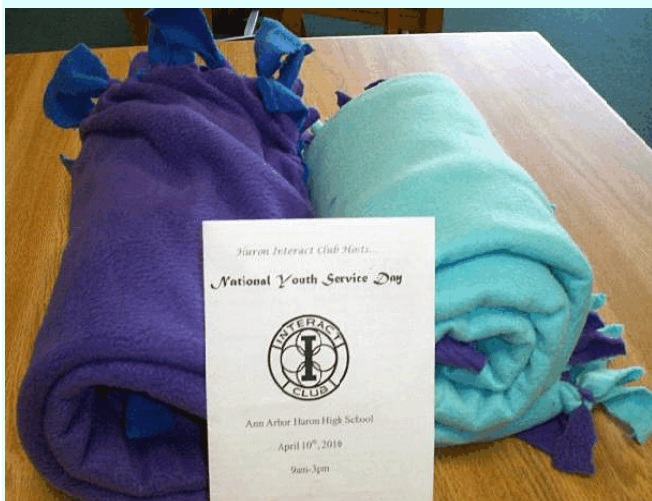

*Dear District Governor Garver,
It was nice to see you at the Bollywood Cruise at AA North Rotary's fundraiser. I hope you had as much fun as I did! ~~ Anshul Mehta*

The Interact Club of Huron High School in Ann Arbor, Michigan hosted its second annual National Youth Service Day on April 10. The event took place in the school's media center and comprised 50 high school students from across the Ann Arbor Public Schools District. The goal of Service Day was to promote leadership and service in the community, and to inspire students to become more active world citizens.

The day's events started off with an icebreaker activity led by Rotarian Downs Herold (Ann Arbor - Downtown). Then, Huron Interact Club president, Anshul Mehta, introduced the keynote speaker, Scott Brills of West Bloomfield Rotary. He gave a presentation about his Summer 2009 experiences as a participant in the Mongol Rally, a charity car trek from Europe to Mongolia to support various charities around the globe. The students were especially impressed by Scott's energy and his ability to connect with high-schoolers.

Scott's presentation was followed by the day's first service activity. Students worked together to make blankets for Project Linus, a non-profit volunteer organization that provides love, security, warmth and comfort to underprivileged, ill, and traumatized children. The blankets were easy to make, even for the students who had little experience in arts and crafts. Service Day participants were able to make and donate a dozen blankets to Project Linus.

The group then went for a lunch break: spaghetti, salad, chips, brownies, and drinks prepared by Interact board members. The leftover food was donated to Delonis Food Shelter in Ann Arbor.

Following lunch was the second service activity of the day. Service Day participants crafted NICU door signs for babies in critical condition at University of Michigan C.S. Mott Children's Hospital. Together, students made over 100 door signs for infants at U-M Mott Hospital.

Finally, the Huron Interact Senior Board Members gave a short presentation entitled, "Huron Interact: A Year in Review." This was Huron Interact's last major event of the year, and Rotary liaison to the club, Ed Wier, called it "a good accomplishment in preparation for hosting Interact Day 2011." Huron Interact Club would like to thank Mr. Wier as well as Ms. Lauren Warren, the school adviser to the club. Overall, Huron Interact's National Youth Service Day was a great success and the club hopes to build on this foundation in the future.

Thank You, Anshul Mehta

Birmingham Rotary Club's Second Year of Literacy Commitment to Detroit School

The Birmingham Rotary Club completed two years of involvement with the Davison Elementary School in Detroit.

During the project's first year, the Rotary club contributed $6,000 to purchase soft-cover fiction books so that each of 28 classrooms, K through 6, would be able to have a classroom lending library. Birmingham Rotary chose

Davison for its literacy project when it discovered that a club member's daughter taught at the school and understood that students had no access to a lending library or librarian. Rotary club officials met with the school's leadership and staff to determine how Rotary could help.

On a cold February day, a caravan of Rotary members visited the school to deliver the books and read to the students. Relationships were formed and later the school principal and school choir visited Birmingham to participate at a Rotary meeting.

During the second year, Birmingham Rotary agreed to adopt the school and do other projects related to literacy. The first project of year two was to see that each student at the school in grades 3 to 6 was given his or her own dictionary.

In many cases this would be the first book the student would own. The club raised $1,600 to cover the cost of the project. Rotary hopes to continue the dictionary project for the next five years.

A second project during year two was to provide hardcover nonfiction books to be added to each classroom's lending library. Club members gave of their time and resources to select, prepare and distribute the books which were donated by the Richmond Rotary Club.

Davison's staff and students have been enthusiastic about the literacy projects. Students have written letters of thanks to Birmingham Rotary members.

The Birmingham club is fortunate to have had excellent leadership during the length of the local literacy projects.

Literacy co-chairs Bill Washington and Mary Heston coordinated the efforts with the Davison administrators and teachers.

Past presidents George Hedgespeth, Shirley Bryant and current president, John Westerheide provided inspiration, encouragement and guidance to the club during the involvement with Davison School.

Chatham-Kent's Good News on the 'Net Roses for Rotary, a great story of grassroots growth

Tuesday, April 13, 2010 by John Gardiner Reprinted with permission: www.cktimes.ca

Chatham Sunrise Rotary's Roses for Rotary had a modest beginning in its first year. Ten years ago, the club delivered 140 dozen roses, raised some money and thought they had a good idea. This year, the club and other helping hands delivered 1,600 dozen roses across Chatham-Kent and added to the $90,000 total the project has raised in its first nine years. And the beauty of it all is it's a homegrown idea developed by club member Paul Roy, himself an expert in the breeding of roses. Project co-chair Sheila Bateman explained that it takes two days to pull off the deliveries, first a staging day, then the actual delivery date, which in this case was last Wednesday. Proceeds from Roses for Rotary go to support the Babies for Books initiative in

Chatham-Kent and are also headed to the new YMCA this year

Farmington/Novi Rotary Clubs' Joint PolioPlus Fundraiser

On April 20 the Farmington and Novi Rotary Clubs joined forces to host Rotarians and community members with an educational breakfast geared at helping Business Leaders during these challenging economic times. Dr. Lee Meadows, a noted speaker from Walsh College was the program presenter. The Rotarians enjoyed a delicious breakfast, fellowship and some networking in the Direct Buy Building courtesy of Rotarian Randy D'Amore. Both clubs took advantage of the opportunity to share their major projects and fund-raisers with the group. The event was a mini fundraiser for the PolioPlus program, netting about $600 for the cause.

As Rotarians continue to support the $200 million Gates Foundation Challenge, your individual club support becomes even more important. While the enthusiasm of the first $100 million portion has been high, we need to keep the excitement and participation going to reach our final goal. PDG Keith Koke and I encourage you to join forces with other clubs in District 6380 for events like this one which support both the cause and the Friendship of Rotary. By joining together even the smaller clubs in our district can take part in Ending Polio Now. We would be happy to assist you in any way we can.

Yours in Service,

Ginger Barrons, District 6380 PolioPlus Co-Chair

Warren Rotary Club Donates Hospital Supplies to Belize Through World Medical Relief submitted by Ramon Pacheco

Also present were NRH staff, Rotarians and their spouses, the media and invited guests. After the indoor delivery of thank-yous, the DPM, Minister of Health and Rotary Club of Orange Walk president cut the symbolic ribbon to officially pass on the equipment and supplies to the NRH. Snacks and refreshments were provided to all by the NRH.

Rotary Clubs pitch in to supply hospital in Belize

A remarkable collaboration between at least nine Rotary Clubs, a Rotary Foundation, and the Rotary District 6380, raised enough money to ship a forty foot container with medical equipment and supplies from World Medical Relief to a hospital in Orange Walk in the Central American country of Belize.

thought that he might get some help for this venture from his physician, Dr. Paul Benson who is a Berkley Rotarian.

Coordinator of this humanitarian effort is Mike Krause, past president and board member of the Rotary Club in Warren, Michigan. He attended a Rotary project fair in Belize City in January of '09 and found out that the Belizean Orange Walk Rotary Club was trying to get a surgical table for their local hospital. To get just that one table it would cost the club $ 12,000. Mike went back home to Warren, Michigan with about sixty potential projects in Central America. He was very interested in the Orange Walk project as he

At a lunch with the past district Governor Jeffry Lichty, Mike mentioned the project and was advised to contact Nelson Edwards, fellow Rotarian and World Medical Relief board member. When Mike saw

Edwards, Krause, Jim and Josephine Jabara at the party

Dr. Benson, he was told again to contact WMR. Through World Medical Relief he coordinated the effort to not only send an operating table to Orange Walk but a forty foot container filled to the brim with medical supplies and equipment. "We have everything on the wish list and more", Mike said. "Nearly half a million dollars worth of equipment and supplies, almost for free".

Contributing clubs were rather creative in their own fundraising efforts for Belize. The Livingston County Sunrise Club in Brighton organized a beach party in December together with other clubs from Howell and Hartland. A house on the beach for a week in St. Croix was donated as a door prize by World Medical Relief board member Nelson Edwards. The Mt. Clemens club foundation matched donations earmarked for Belize dollar for dollar. Other clubs involved were the Warren Rotary Club, the Ann Arbor North club and clubs from Farmington and Bloomfield Hills. Additional funding came from the District's simplified grant process. The life saving container left for its journey to Belize on February 15, 2010.
