

Bloomfield Hills Rotary Water Projects

The Bloomfield Hills Rotary Club held a very successful 7th annual Honors Dinner fundraiser in October. They are using $3000 of the profits to participate in two ongoing international water projects. They will give $1500 to the Rotary Foundation Matching Grant project of the Sterling Heights Rotary (Joyce Joyce, chair) that will provide BioSand water filters to poor communities in the Bonao area of the Dominican Republic. They will also give $1500 to the Troy Rotary BioSand water filter project, a Club to Club project in Nepal, headed by Eileen Heasley.

The Bloomfield Hills Rotary bestowed a Paul Harris Fellowship on David V. Johnson, a real estate developer, friend of the environment and well-known philanthropist who was also very instrumental in the success of the Honors Dinner fundraiser.
