

Rotary Club of Gravenhurst

Everyone loves a bargain with many great items are often found at cheap prices. Individual Rotarians pack their vehicle's trunk with items to sell. Thus, the name TRUNK sale. They sell antiques, books, household goods, vinyl records, sports equipment, tools, etc., etc.

How a trunk sale differs from a typical second-hand stall, is that you do not call for donations in advance of the event, meaning much time and energy is saved by not having to sort and cull donations. Instead, each seller takes responsibility for their own items – they need to sort and store them, they do the pricing, and they are responsible for taking home anything left unsold. And best of all, the money collected goes to The Gravenhurst Rotary Club.

To date the club has raised over $3,500 in two sales, both were run with Covid protocols in place i.e., masks and social distancing as they spread vehicles over the parking lot. Unsold items were donated to Habitat for Humanity and the Salvation Army.
