

Aedan

from Cambridge Sunrise to Denmark

Aedan's Danish Adventure

Hi again, this is Aedan Clarke, writing from Udby, Denmark. I have swapped families and am now about 20 minutes out of Holbæk. A lot has happened since the last BeaverTale. We had the last get-together with all of the exchange students. It was very fun, and we had a very good time. It was actually hosted at my school, so it was super easy to get there. 😊.

The winter exchange students have arrived. They are mostly from Argentina, Australia and New Zealand, but there are some others too. The past winter students have gone home, and some people are missing them a lot.

Christmas in Denmark was amazing! They have a lot of cool traditions, such as real candles on trees, dancing around those trees, and trying to find an almond in rice pudding by eating it! I'm going to make the rice pudding when I am back because it is so good. I just had my first American football tournament. We didn't do so well because our quarterback cancelled the day of, but everyone had a blast!

I swap families again on March 16th, which will put me in a town that is even further from Holbæk.

I am registered for the Eurotour, which is an 18 day trip in a bus with a whole bunch of other exchange students where we go to 8 different countries. I am very excited for it, and also some other plans I have with other exchange students, such as a castle trip in 2 weeks where I will be sleeping in a castle for 1 night with some of my good friends.

Well, that's all I have for this report!

Tak for i dag!

Vi ses,

Aedan