

Matt's Moments

Make Membership Memorable

My Dear Rotary Friends

designated "Membership and New Club Development Month." This probably sounds familiar since last month's newsletter when I introduced our district theme for the year 'Make Membership Memorable." The repetition here represents just how important this topic is to me as your DG and to the organization at large.

Over the last month, I have had the opportunity to make a few club visits -- in person and virtually -- and I every time I find myself proud of the great service each club has done and inspired by fellowship we have created JOIN Leaders across our communities. That is the essence of Rotary.

And now - even more so during these challenging times -- we have to continue Take Action expanding our community by encouraging others to join Rotary. You may be thinking ... During my club visits this past month I have how do I do that?

My answer is to share your story as a Rotarian! Share about the service you have completed; the lasting relationships you have built; the memories you have made and the moments that have impacted your life in ways you never expected. Some people consider this as their ROTARY Moment.

These moments reflect a highly memorable experience that impacts us so greatly that they transform us from simply being a member of a Until we ZOOM again, Rotary club to becoming a Rotarian.

One of my Rotary Moments was over 20 years ago when I was given the opportunity to attend the Rotary Leadership Institute (RLI). This was the moment that I finally understood what it meant to be a Rotarian. I finally discovered the greater world of Rotary outside of my own club and stated to understand the impact that Rotary has in our

As you may know, Rotary has communities and around the world. It also August allowed me to meet other Rotarians in and out of our district who had such passion for Rotary. Eventually I became RLI site chair for our District.

we focused on membership in Sharing your personal story can serve as the best invitation for someone to join this worldwide fellowship and take on new leadership opportunities thev never imagined. With new members we not only increase the effectiveness of our clubs, but we also extend the spirit of Rotary throughout our communities by growing a network of people committed to giving back, exchanging ideas and tackling challenges.

Exchange Ideas

experience such wonderful fellowship and learned about the great service each club has done. I believe we want to share the joy of Rotary and Make Membership Memorable. So I ask each of you to connect with your friends and people you know/respect to share your story and then invite them to be part of the next chapter.

Swing for the fence.

Rotary Prayer July 8, 2020

Welcome District Governor Matt. We say with Colesville Rotary pride! There may not be too many of us, But our impact's strong and wide. When you signed up to be Governor, With your own ambitious list, I'm betting you weren't expecting You'd reign in a year like this!! It seems like something we cannot see Is holding us in its spell: But, we are determined to overcome... And we trust you will as well. Events, and projects, and tasks we've planned Help others in need on every hand. Our local Community has a voice To apply for the grants of their own choice. Meanwhile, On the broader worldwide scene, Where problems ebb and flo, There are plenty of opportunities for our dollars, deeds, and work to go. We send a village some simple tools, Then they dig wells, build homes and schools. When disaster strikes and folks are scared, Shelter boxes and food are shared. And, Lord, We owe all of this to You For Your blessings would weigh us down, But we spread our wealth beyond ourselves, In the world, the nation, the town. We're makers of miracles, Large and small. Good neighbors to all are we. So that even in challenging times like these, Folks 're thankful ····· There's Rotary!" Amen.

ROTARY: A DOOR FOR THE WORLD OF OPPORTUNITIES

"As District 7170 adapts to the new social environment, we are looking to start a training team to serve our clubs and Rotarians for now and in the future

We are putting together a formal committee to coordinate this new training model but others are needed to make this happen. Folks who may just want to be a presenter (in person and/or on-line), act as a host/ moderator for online events, or use their skills as educators and subject matter experts to develop program materials.

This will replace the traditional District Training Assemblies, and events like One Rotary Summit, to provide opportunities for more topics as well as shorter sessions which can be used as programs during a club meeting.

If you are interested in helping please contact: DGE Evan Kurtz, emkurtz56@gmail.com or 607-423-2693 for more information.

The Groton Rotary Club held their Annual Golf Tournament, July 17 at Stonehedges Golf Course in Groton. The Club established in 1937 has been helping the town of Groton as well as Rotary International by doing local fundraising events like this golf tournament.

This year due to the Covid 19 virus it was held a little differently so everyone could participate safely. Only 10 teams could compete but were able to welcome a new team from the Tompkins County Sherriff's Department. The tournament awards had to be handed out individually without the usual fanfare. Fahs Construction with a 7 under par 65 was the big winner. They were also a hole sponsor.

The overwhelming support of the Groton community and surrounding towns was wonderful to see. Some of the proceeds from the event will be used for scholarships, our ongoing East Hill Cemetery Project and encouraging our Groton Interact group at the high school. The club also supports international projects such as the Uganda Water Project.

'7 Runs, 7 Counties, 7 Days'

Rotarians pitching in to get ready

Concern for others ... when close, wear your mask!

Our District's '7 Runs, 7 Counties, 7 Days' series of events raised $4,027 for Polio Plus. About 45 Rotarians, from 14 of our District's 44 clubs, participated by walking, running, setting up, or donating, during the 7 consecutive days from June 21st thru 27th. These funds will be matched 2:1 by the Bill and Melinda Gated Foundation for a to-tal of $12,081!

PDG Dave said that, at times, it seems as though the 44 clubs in our District are like islands in a lake, few knowing what is happening on the others. The original intent of this series of events was to have the clubs in each of our District's 7 counties (Delaware, Otsego, Chenango, Tioga, Cortland, Broome, Tompkins) work together to plan, promote, setup, and run each event.

Well, as we all know, the Covid 19 pandemic changed things so the 'Plan 'B' was simple...DGE Evan said "I will be at this place, at this day and time, for anyone who cares to join me.". At several locations Rotarians from clubs in that county stepped up, as Rotarians do, to make that day a little bigger and better and, of course, the pandemic didn't stop the donations and pledges!

Thanks go out to Rotarians from the following clubs for their support and participation. Binghamton Noon, Cortland, Cortland Breakfast, Delhi, Dryden, Endicott, Endwell, Franklin, Milford, Morris, Owego, Sherburne, Stamford, Vestal

So start planning for 2021 and let's make the list of participating club's too long to print!

Families are a big part of Rotary...

...as are dogs!

Don't waste time grieving over past mistakes. Learn from them and move on.

Broome County Roundtop Park Scenic Overlook Dedication

Endicott Rotary played a big role in this announcement about the Broome County Roundtop Park scenic overlook in Endicott. Our members also forged a path from Roundtop to Grippen Park for future expansion of the Greenway Trail project. The dedication took place with Jason Garner, BC Executive and Donna Lupardo, NYS Assemblywoman on Tuesday, July 14,2020. Endicott Rotary members will continue to be involved with the expansion of the river walk trail project, currently from Vestal to the future end in Glendale Park in Endicott, when all completed.

The Rotary Club of Sidney held a social distancing meeting on Friday, July 10 for pass the gavel for the coming year. The meeting was held at the home of Rotarian member Tigi Armour with a few Rotarians attending. Outgoing President, Larry Halbert briefly told of his accomplishments and events held during the year until Covid-19 pandemic arrived in March. He noted that Sidney Rotary Club was presented with the Rotarian of the Month award by the District 7107 for having Honor Society Banquet for students and parents which has been a tradition for many years and is attended by the District Governor each year as featured guest speaker.

The club has had several zoom meetings and decision will be made soon when regular meetings might be safe to resume.

When complimented, a sincere "thank you" is the only response required.

Ithaca PP Bob Gravani, along with John Barradas and Mary-Lynn Cummings, led a large group of Ithaca Rotarians to clean up 'hot spots' along Route 13 this past Saturday. The turnout of Rotary volunteers was outstanding, and it was the best for this project (Adopt-a-Highway) in quite some time...it may have even been a record! Our hard work really paid off as 48 bags of trash were collected in a two-hour time frame, and our section of the highway, in its entirety, has not looked that good in a while. It was a great team effort!!!

Don't plan a long evening on a blind date. A lunch date is perfect. If thing don't work out, both of you have wasted only an hour.

Fundraising In A Changed World: Online Events

Here are six important considerations that go into a successful online fundraising event.

MISSION

The "why" about fundraising is more important than ever. Your event message needs to be short, simple, relevant, and centered on your mission. Who are we helping? What impact will a donation have? Make the stories resonant and personal. Have someone record short videos of why they donate or how they've been helped. Throughout your online event, keep relating mission and impact.

PLANNING

--A successful online event is usually a mix of live interaction, pre-recorded video, and slides. The planning and work ahead of time is even more important than the event itself. The audience needs to be engaged and involved - chat box, real time social media interaction, etc.

--Get your club together and share ideas. Can you relate an online event to a past real world success? E.g. the ribfest shifts to online BBQ cooking demonstration with recipes shared. Pivot from a live auction into a virtual event with silent auction. What other "entertainment" ideas can you access? --Decide your platforms. Who is good with technology? Graphics? For a club that has generous donors and access to auction items, but is challenged by the technology, companies like One Cause, Bidding For Good, and Snap Raise charge a fee, but have the software and expertise to help with the tech of online events. Will you integrate with Facebook Live or YouTube? Online platforms all have great tutorial videos to help.

--Can you have any real-world integration? A recent success had a $500 "Party at Home" package for local guests: Gift card supporting a local restaurant, donated wine, cause related swag and locally purchased treats were packaged and arranged to be dropped at doorstep.

--Do a run-of-show: Plan to the MINUTE what will be happening, who is responsible for each aspect, how long speakers have, etc.

--Practice! Run through the event with all the live and video aspects several times, and plan on how to handle technical glitches that may happen anyway.

CAMPAIGN

Your event is not just a 1 to 2-hour show. It should be a campaign leading up to the event, posting on social media and through email, and local news if possible. Get your activists helping to promote the event. Throughout the campaign, share videos, mission impact, start the auction early, generating excitement for event day. Donation link and event hashtag should be consistent.

ACCESSIBILITY

Having an event online allows people to attend that in the past might have had geographical or financial restrictions. Don't charge "admission" as you don't want to self-limit funds raised - online you can have many more people there, and a good sell of your mission can raise more than a ticket price would have

SPONSORS & DONORS

Reach out to your past sponsors to ask for their help. Can they do a short video sharing why they help? During campaign and the event, make sure to show sponsors several times. For past big donors, make the effort for individual calls and invitations, and walk through any tech coaching needed ahead of an event.

THANK YOU

Say thank you! Multiple times! Share how the money will be used. You can prep a thank you graphic ahead of the event to be shared to all. If you have access to mailing addresses, prepare cards ahead of time that can be mailed right after. For sponsors and bigger donors, send a hand-written thank you.

There are so many innovative and successful ways clubs are fundraising online now.
