The longer people live with Hepatitis C undiagnosed and untreated, the more likely they are to develop serious, life threatening liver disease*.

The CDC recommends anyone born between 1945—1965 be screened for Hepatitis C*.

Getting tested can help people learn if they are infected and get them into lifesaving care and treatment*.

Many people with chronic Hepatitis C do not have symptoms and do not know they are infected. People with chronic Hepatitis C can live for decades without symptoms or feeling sick*.
