How to sustain a Rotaract Club

Ideas from a Club and District viewpoint

Sponsoring Clubs

- By serving as mentors and organizing joint service projects, a club will experience the benefits of working alongside these young leaders.
- A club's continued involvement will also strengthen the Rotaract club. Stay connected with the next generation of Rotary leaders by:

Invite Rotaractors to your club meetings and have them report on their activities.

Provide mentoring opportunities between Rotarians and Rotaractors

Develop an annual joint Rotary and Rotaractor service project or signature event for World Rotaract Week

Recognize their achievements at a special club or district program

Ask them to share successful fundraising projects with your club

Host discussion forums to exchange ideas about global citizenship, peace and conflict resolution, club diversity, and innovative service projects

Tell them about activities and programs available to them through Rotary

Invite them to district conferences to share their club activities and network with Rotarians

Invite Rotaractors to observe a Rotary Club board meeting

Community Service Projects

Rotaract clubs participate in community service projects in an effort to improve the lives of the people around them.

Often Rotaractors partner with other Rotaract clubs to participate in international service projects.

Rotaractors not only have great ideas about how to help people in need, but together they have the power to make these ideas work!

Professional Development

Rotaract club's professional development activities expand members' understanding of the work environment and business opportunities within their community.

Sponsoring Rotarians can enhance the activities by providing practical advice on entering the business world and overcoming business, vocational, and professional challenges.
