Governor's Message

End-of-the Year State of the District

By Jim Fusco

I am proud to report that Rotary District 7910 is alive and well. At my installation as district governor on June 16, 2015, I presented my goals for Rotary Year 2015-2016, which began last July 1. I told you that I had a lot of running around to do - and that, I have done. Now that we are at the end of our year, I would like to report on how we did.

Before I get into details, I want to remind you that my opinion has always been that on either the Club level or the District level we should never have a committee of one. When my year began, many committees and subcommittees were operating in just this way. Unless we have members on the committee, then the task of mentoring a future chair is not possible. We have made great progress on this vision. We now have the Membership Committee, the PR Committee, the Rotaract Committee, the Youth Services Committee and many of the Foundation subcommittees operating with more than one member each. ### Westwood Rotary, WY&FS honor Westwood students

The Rotary Club of Westwood and Westwood Youth & Family Services recently announced the recipients of the 2016 Recognize A Youth

Advancement or international Understanding, Goodwill and Peace Through a World Fellowship of Business and Professional Persons United in the Ideal of Service."

Think about this one for a few minutes! Wow! The worldwide accomplishments of Rotary are quite astounding, yet these are areas that most local Rotarians may not know as much about as we should.

However, we are strong supporters of The Rotary Foundation (TRF), which is the primary mechanism through which hundreds of international projects are funded. The worldwide impact of Rotary is huge. Of the 1.2 million Rotarians worldwide, 75 percent are outside the USA. Quite naturally, we tend to be more interested on our local community issues but the fourth goal of Rotary demands our attention be also focused on international good deeds. READ MORE

PR Tips: Embrace social media one step at a time

By Laura Spear

Start with a Facebook community page or a Twitter account for your club - and grow from there.

Facebook is a good medium for rapidly increasing awareness of your club's brand. Look at other Rotary clubs' Facebook pages and Twitter updates to see how they're using these tools. How many of their "fans" or "followers" are actively engaging with them? What results are they seeing, what is working for them, and what is not working? What can you do differently for your own club's followers?

Is Your Club Millennial Friendly?

With only 11 percent of Rotary members under age 40, the future of many clubs may depend on their success in recruiting their success in recruiting Millennials. Worldwide, there are about 2 billion Millennials — variously defined, but identified by the U.S. Census Bureau as people born between 1982 and 2000. And, they have a great deal to offer Rotary. Having grown up in a time of rapid change, head-spinning technological advances, and expanding access to the world, Millennials are uniquely equipped to keep pace with global trends and to meet community needs.

They are also generous and willing to volunteer. According to a 2015 Millennial Impact Research Report from Achieve research agency, 84 percent of survey respondents had made a charitable donation the previous year, and 70 percent had spent time volunteering. So how can you make your club more appealing to Millennials? The Millennials we asked cite three factors that are important. READ MORE

What Millennials Love About Rotary

“Millennials are looking for a place to give back to their community, but they need to feel like they are getting value as well.”

Millennials, an ethnically diverse, fiercely independent generation of digital natives, are doing more than just snapping selfies—they're looking for a way to make a difference in their communities. For Rotary, the Millennial era could mean an influx of young, energetic members. The percentage of Rotarians under 40 has remained fairly steady at about 10 percent in recent years, but this could be the generation that bucks the trend. Find out what these young, ambitious professionals love about Rotary and why more and more are discovering that Rotary has everything Millennials want. READ MORE

Get Ready For District Rotary Foundation Seminar With Centennial Promotional Kit

The Rotary Foundation is celebrating its 100th year of Doing Good in the World. Take the opportunity to strengthen your district and clubs during your district Rotary Foundation seminar by using resources from centennial celebrations.

year's honorees were Marisa Blum, William Collins, Courtney Cronin, Emily Dukeman and Caroline Fitzgerald.

Blum and Collins attend Westwood High and are in the transition program, which serves young adults with special needs and helps prepare them for life after graduation. Through this program, they began volunteering at the Westwood Food Pantry. They were an important part of the pantry's initiative to provide essential provisions to the families that were living in the Budget Inn. They were nominated for a RAY Award by Trish Tucke, food-pantry director, who reports the program would not have been a success without the help of these two young adults. Blum and Collins also volunteer at Town Hall, the Recreation Department and the main office of the high school.

Cronin, Dukeman and Fitzgerald, WHS juniors, were honored for their volunteer work at Saint Margaret Mary Parish. The girls spent their short Wednesdays teaching CCD to a group of fourth-graders, as well as assisting at the church's summer Bible camp for the last five summers. The girls were nominated by Pamela Dukeman, Karlene Duffy, the religious education director at the church, states that the girls set an example for the younger children at the church.

At the luncheon, the honorees celebrated their accomplishments with their families and those that nominated them. They also received certificates of appreciation from Westwood Youth & Family Services and Westwood Rotary.

Nominations for the award are accepted year-round. For information, visit either westwoodrotary.com or townhall.westwood.ma.us.

Montachusett Area Rotary Aids Liberian School Project

Awards in recognition of assistance given for better understanding and relations among the people of the world.

Rossman is a co-founder of Product Insight Inc., a Boston-area product development firm. He currently owns and operates Details Carpentry. Larson is a senior principal engineer for Geosyntec Consultants in Acton, a firm specializing in environmental engineering, science and technology. Together, they volunteer their time to the development of the Gbarnga Lutheran School project in Liberia.

Rossman has spent several months over the past year in Liberia managing a construction crew to build a K-12 school. Larson has worked after hours with a few volunteers from Geosyntec to design a solar-powered water system providing clean water for the property. He traveled to Liberia to install the system this past April.

The village of Gbarnga is about 120 miles from the capital city of Monrovia in a country the size of Tennessee (see map, right). This country was devastated by civil war and then more recently by a costly outbreak of the Ebola virus. It's a place where clean water is just 20 feet below the surface but unreachable for most and education is a luxury. Through a Rotary

Award. Five Westwood High School students were honored on June 7 at a club luncheon for their initiative and commitment to community service. This

The Bandey-Hefler Fellowship Exchange chairpersons on both sides of the Atlantic are hard at work planning the District 7910 group's return trip to England. Geoff Philpot and Hugh Barnard, in England, are making presentations and recruiting hosts. Patsy Lloyd and I, in Central Mass., are making the travelers list and getting information on flights to Heathrow in London.

This week, once the chairs have a confirmed current number of hosts, they will send e-mails to all of the travelers and to those still on a waiting list. There will be a mandatory organizational meeting this summer in Bedford, hosted by Patsy Lloyd to go over travel details, hand out badges, etc.

The travel dates for the trip to England are:

Natick Rotary Holds 13th Annual Tour De Natick

(This article by Brian Benson ran on June 16 in the MetroWest Daily News.)

About a week ago, Genevieve Winn was receiving her Natick High School diploma. On Sunday, Winn supported students who have yet to graduate by participating with her father, Steve, in the Tour de Natick bicycle ride. "I've had a great time in Natick (Public Schools)," Winn said, adding she was pleased to support education.

Steve Winn said the father-daughter duo celebrated Father's Day by tackling the longer, 25-mile course in perfect weather with "not a cloud in the sky." The Winns were among an estimated 400 to 500 people who took part in the Rotary Club of Natick's 13th annual Tour de Natick. The event, which featured the longer ride at 8 a.m. and a 6-mile kids and families ride at 11 a.m., raises money so Rotarians can award scholarships to students, provide dictionaries to third-grade students and support education in other ways.

"It started as a great charity ride and it's snowballed from there," said Rotarian Eric Lazzari, who organized the ride. "It's a fun way to bring the community together." Lazzari estimated the event raised more than $20,000.

Greg Delaney of Abington and Jenn Delaney of Natick participated in the 25-mile ride with their father, Jim, who is from the Albany, New York, area. "We did it because it's a great way to be together," said Jenn Delaney. "It's good that it (supports) a good cause."

Finn O'Connor, 8, of Natick, said he enjoys seeing the scenery pass by when he's on his bike and biking with his friends. O'Connor's mom, Wendy McDanolds, said O'Connor has become interested in bicycling while she has taken an interest in triathlons. Participating in the family ride while supporting education makes for a perfect Sunday, she said. "We live here. We want good schools. We want smart kids," McDanolds said. "It makes sense."

Bedford COA Members Work On Bedford Rotary-Funded Raised Gardens

(This Wicked Local Bedford article by Amelia Johnson was posted on June 23.)

The lettuce crop is on its way, and more vegetables will be arriving in the Bedford Council on Aging garden that was two years in the making. Thanks to Bedford High School sophomore and Boy Scout Troop 194 member Jalan Pedonesi, 16, the seniors' wish was granted earlier this spring.

Bedford COA volunteers recently planted seeds in raised boxes and whiskey barrels in the new garden behind the senior center on Mudge Way. The group had been waiting a long time to plant, as the project germinated two years ago with a donation from the members of the Rotary Club of Bedford, who gave $1,000 to the Council on Aging for the construction of a garden.

In 2016, Jalen raised additional money to purchase boxes to make into raised gardens. The project is part of his work to become an Eagle Scout. The same day that Jalen delivered the gardens, the seniors planted million in new grants to support the global effort to eradicate polio. The funds will build on last year's historic achievement of stopping transmission of the wild poliovirus in Nigeria and all of Africa. Just two countries reported wild polio cases in 2015, Afghanistan and Pakistan. Rotary's funds will go toward efforts to end the disease in those countries and seven others. Read more

GLI: An Incredible Rotary Leadership Opportunity

Global Leadership Institute is an intense leadership opportunity to be held this July 26 to 31 at the luxurious Dolce Convention Center in Norwalk, Connecticut. It is for global change-makers between the ages of 19 and 35.

During that week, participants will be personally and professionally pushed to become the leaders they have the potential to be. In the past, our professional tract has brought in speakers from TedX, Coca-Cola, IBM, LinkedIn, the U.S. military, the U.S. Congress and many more. Our personal tract focuses on personal-building skills such as communication, relationship building, networking, public speaking, confidence, personality training, and business etiquette.

GLI will be accepting only 54 participants. This is one of the greatest benefits of the program. GLI has absorbed the Rotary model of "service above self" and the participant are given one-on-one help and guidance to learn what it means to be a global change-maker and great future or current Rotarian.

GLI is partnered with the United Nations. During that week, participants will be in the UN building for various activities.

A How-To Membership Leads Video

Click here for a new video that helps district and club leaders make the most of the lettuce, chard, tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers and basil. Unlike standard gardening, the raised boxes mean the seniors don't have to bend over to work. They can work standing up, and even take the boxes out of the raised gardens and bring them inside to work at a table.

Council on Aging Director Alison Cservenschi said a portion of the vegetables will go to the garden's volunteers and they hope to donate the rest to the Bedford Community Table and Food Pantry if there is enough to donate. Pantry director Peter Grey said the pantry's patrons are always excited for local produce, and that the organization annually receives local produce from Gaining Ground Farm in Concord.

Cservenschi believes the charitable nature of the garden makes it more appealing to the seniors. She said that many of the seniors have their own gardens at home, but they help out because "The bigger goal, to be able to help other people, it's a need that some of them really enjoy."

Currently seven people regularly work on the garden, but Cservenschi hopes more will join once the garden is successful and donates food to the pantry. One of the gardeners, Emily Pruyn, does not have a garden at home, so she was very excited when Jalen helped bring one to the COA. "It is just wonderful to watch (the garden) grow," she said.

Westborough Rotary Holds 47th Installation Ceremony

On a picture-perfect June evening, The Rotary Club of Westborough conducted the installation of its 47th president, officers and Board of Directors. The dinner and ceremony, held on the grounds of Stone Fire Outdoor Living, was well attended by Rotarians, family and friends, and the club was honored to have both outgoing District Governor Jim Fusco and incoming Co-District Governor Skip Doyle in the audience.

Outgoing President Jim O'Connor (shown, left) reviewed the past year, citing the club's many accomplishments. These included more than $25,000 in financial giving to the community through scholarships, fuel assistance, support of the playground at the Commons, and technology upgrades in the school system. The club's annual Holiday Store provided toys and gifts to families in need. Internationally, the club sponsored a child through the Be Like Brit program, in memory of Britneyengel, who lost her life during the earthquake in Haiti while on a trip to help local school children.

The club also continued its support of Project GEMINI, to bring training in emergency medicine, expertise, and equipment to developing countries worldwide. And, the club grew through the addition of eight new members this year, and, as a result of the Visioning process, increased its "hands on" involvement with organizations including Westborough Youth & Family Services, End Hunger Now, and the Central Massachusetts Veterans Association. The club offers Jim O'Connor its heartfelt thanks for his exemplary leadership, tireless effort, and dedication to "service above self."

Incoming President Gerry Gross (shown, right) commented that Rotarians are "connected for life," and that by working together Rotarians become a true family, supporting both community and each other. Gerry noted both the many long time club members, and the 29 members who have been part of the club for five years or less, and noted that this mix of experience and new talent will help to achieve his goal of bringing back to Westborough the award for the best club in District 7910.

Although many club members were acknowledged by outgoing President Jim for their help and support throughout the year, Jason Camuti (shown, left, on left) was recognized as Rotarian of the Year for his involvement on many levels within the club and at the district level. Congratulations, Jason!

Framingham Rotary Promotes Concerts On The Green, Summer Carnival

On Friday nights this summer, Concerts on the Green, organized by the Framingham Parks & Services Department, will take place on the green on Edgell Road near Route 9. This year, the Rotary Club of Framingham is one of the financial sponsors of the family-friendly concert series, and will have its usual information booth at each concert as well. open to the public.

Meanwhile, the Summer Carnival sponsored by Framingham Rotary returns in July and will be located at Framingham State University. ## Marlborough Rotary, Three Other Groups Tackle Human-Services Issue

(As reported in an article titled "Marlborough organizations collecting toiletries" by Mary Wenzel of Wicked Local Marlborough.)

In answer to a pressing problem for many deserving families, the Rotary Club of Marlborough, Marlboro Lions Club, Marlborough Junior Woman's Club and Marlborough Community Development Corporation have joined forces to help local families in poverty, or struggling with finances.

Collection Bins Available from Each of These Service Organizations...

Working Together Works Best

The Marlborough Rotary Club, the Marlborough Junior Woman's Club and the Marlboro Lions Club are collaborating with MCDC to collect toiletries and cleaning products, through the month of June, for families in need of these products that are so much a part of our basic human dignity.

When there is a sale on toiletries or cleaning products, the organizations urge their members to buy a few extra. Marilyn Perry, chairman of the board of MCDC and a Marlborough Rotarian, said, "I am delighted that these local organizations are seeking to fulfill this need, and I am equally delighted to see these groups join together to tackle an important problem."

Members of the public who may wish to help should contact a member of one of these service clubs or bring them to the Marlborough Community Development Corporation office at 40 Mechanic Street, Suite 300, Marlborough (the old Post Office Building off Monument Square). Items that are needed include: shampoo, soap, deodorant, toothpaste, toothbrushes, mouth wash, diapers, baby wipes, razors, shaving cream, combs/brushes, scrub sponges, rubber gloves, toilet paper and paper towels.
