◇ Bill Powers is a retired Detective Lieutenant on the Mass. State Police. Bill had a great career as a homicide detective in the Middlesex County District Attorney's office.

The name of the book is "When the Smoke Cleared". It is about an arson case that involved a fire set to cover-up a murder. The detectives were left with no bodies and very few clues. The story accounts their methodical work to uncover clues, evidence, and eventually the victim's body, which had been transported to New Hampshire and left in a shallow grave. The story then continues with the Asst. D.A.'s efforts to methodically assemble the case and present it in court, resulting in a conviction.

Bill would like to come to your clubs to promote the book. He's a very interesting guy and a very interesting speaker. He went on to teach at Boston University after retiring from the MSP. He had a third career as Chief of the Wentworth University PD. He is now working part-time with the Mass. Executive Office of Public Safety as a consultant and is an author. Bill is also an attorney. I have attached a 'one sheet' on the book.
