A roundup of Rotary news

Eco-friendly service projects help environment

Through the years, Rotary has carried out thousands of projects to protect the environment. In just the last five years, we've allocated $18 million to projects that help our planet. Members have even more opportunities to focus on issues that are important to them, now that the environment is one of the causes we focus on. This week's stories

Champions of Health

Rotary honored six members as People of Action: Champions of Health on World Health Day 7 April, in recognition of their work to improve the foundation of good health at home and across the globe. The work of these members proved especially important and challenging due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. Read more

Two clubs from one innovative idea

Yvonne Kumoji, 2020-21 governor of District 9102 (Benin, Ghana, Niger and Togo), partnered with her counterpart in Toastmasters to create two news clubs, one for each organization. The success of her effort has opened up her approach to seeking new members, by contacting other organizations and associations, such as engineers, insurers, and environmentalists, who share some values with Rotary.
