Park board plans special meeting to discuss shelter bids

ATLANTIC – The Atlantic Park and Recreation Board will hold a special meeting on April 2 to review bids for a shelter to be built at the Schildberg Recreation Area, according to Park Director Seth Staashelm.

Staashelm said the board plans to “review bids and hopefully approve a bid,” during the meeting. The plan is to have the shelter complete before the Fourth of July Fireworks.

A 30 X 50 shelter is expected to be placed near the west side parking lot, with an access trail coming from the lot.

The Atlantic Rotary Club is helping with funding for the shelter, and Staashelm said, “their goal is try to get $20,000 to $25,000,” to help with the project. Funds from last year’s Rotary raffle auction were earmarked for the shelter.

The meeting will be held in the city hall council chambers, and start at 5:30 p.m.

Volunteers are also still needed for another Schildberg Recreation Area project-putting together playground equipment near the campground site on May 18 and 19. There would also be fall material placed in the playground, and a small sidewalk around one side with benches. Three benches have already been sold to be put around the equipment.

Rotary to host awards dinner

The Seward Rotary Club will honor two individuals from Seward at its annual Service Above Self dinner on Wednesday, May 5, at Harvest Hall.

The event is open to the public, and tickets can be purchased from Sandy Wright at the Jones National Bank and Trust in Seward for $30 each. The keynote speaker is John Cook, national champion volleyball coach from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

A silent auction will also follow the awards and speaker.

Honored will be the recipient of the annual Seward Rotary Service Above Self Award and the winner of the Wayne Tanderup Award. The Seward Rotary Service Above Self Award is presented to an individual who has given service to the community. They are presented with a donation in their name to Rotary International for $1,000 and receive the Paul Harris Award.

The Wayne Tanderup

Award is annually presented to an individual who has demonstrated and served as an example of someone who has overcome a challenge in their life and "pulled themselves up" to be a successful, contributing member of society.

The Seward Rotary Club is requesting nominees for both awards. Names can be given to the Seward Rotary Club president before March 28. Nominee names should include a reason for the nomination. Send nominations to Rotary President Russ Sommerfeld at russell.sommerfeld@cune.edu or Clark Kolterman at clark.kolterman@sewardschools.org. The honorees are nominated by the public and members of the Seward Rotary, with the final selection of the honorees through a vote by the membership of the Seward Rotary.

For more information, contact Sommerfeld.
