Council Bluffs Daily Nonpareil

Council Bluffs, Iowa

c Copyright 2018 \ All Rights Reserved

Thursday, February 15, 2018 Date: Frequency: Daily Circulation: 11214.0 16.19 Clip Size: sq. inches Ad Rate: $28.25 A 0002 Page/Section:

FACE OF THE DAY

a member of the Noon Rotary good exposure. Club for eight years.

are being the beverage pro- chili luncheon will benefit in the world, and since my vider, making coffee, tea and the Fifth Grade Career Fair mother was affected by Polio making sure they are well- which offers the fifth-graders it really motivates me to try stocked so no one goes with- in Council Bluffs, Lewis Cen- and help Rotary achieve its out something to drink. That tral and Carter Lake a chance goal and rid the world of this is something that Rotary to see and talk with people terrible disease." Clubs around the world do who have chosen a career as well.

Chamley looks forward to Steve Chamley is a long cheon and Chili Luncheon as truly a great experience and term care facility operator in an opportunity to serve the exposure for the kids and Council Bluffs and has been community and give Rotary adults alike," Chamley said.

His duties at the luncheon to support great causes, the goal is to eliminate Polio path in certain areas.

both the Rotary Soup Lun- answered and stories shared, 130 S. Sixth St.

"I have a passion for what Both of the luncheons go Rotary's goals are, one main

The luncheon will be held today from 11 a.m. until 1:30 "I see such good questions p.m. at the Masonic Temple

SEWARD CO. INDEPENDENT

SEWARD, Nebraska

c Copyright 2018 \ All Rights Reserved

Wednesday, February 14, 2018 Date: Frequency: WEEKLY Circulation: 2900 47.29 Clip Size: sq. inches Ad Rate: $11.34

B 0006 Page/Section:

Rotary gathers food for pantry

The annual "Souper" Bowl Food Drive the weekend of the Super Bowl was held Feb. 3 in Seward and coordinated by the Seward Rotary. The Rotarians and their families collected food and soup for the local Blue Valley Community pantry.

Local businesses that allowed the Rotarians to collect food were the Seward Walmart and Seward Pac 'N' Save. The Rotarians collected donated food from the various shoppers at those stores.

A pickup load of canned goods and over $200 in cash were collected for the Blue Valley Community Action program.

The food was collected and delivered to the local pantry by the members of the Seward Rotary. One of the international service organization's pillars of service is to assist and aid the homeless and those in poverty locally and worldwide. The motto for Rotary is "Service Above Self!"

COURTESY PHOTO

Seward Rotarian Matt Dominy coordinates the collection of food at the Seward Walmart Feb. 3 for the annual Seward Rotary Club Souper Food Collection for Blue Valley Community Action.