

The Alana James Diversity Award

The Rotary Club of Denver LoDo is pleased to announce the annual club award that celebrates diversity. Any Rotarian or chartered Rotary club in District 5450 is eligible to apply.

For - Significantly reducing intolerance of Racial, Ethnic, Religious, Gender and Sexual Diversity within their club or community.

Type – Certificate and $100 contribution to non-profit of winner's choice.

Award Details - The Alana James Diversity Award recognizes a Rotarian or club in District 5450 whose efforts have resulted in significantly reducing intolerance of Racial, Ethnic, Religious, Gender and Sexual Diversity within their club or community.

History - The Award is named for Alana James, former member and friend of the Rotary Club of Denver LoDo. Alana James has spent a lifetime working to reduce intolerance in society, both personally and professionally. During Alana's membership with the club, both she and her partner taught Rotarians in LoDo about the triumphs of diversity, and joys of interacting with those who are marginalized by society.

Criteria - Due to the nature of diversity, and achieving success in reducing intolerance to it, there is no set criteria for judging the recipient of this award. All evaluations will be judged relative to the achievement described by the award applicant.

Application – All applications may be emailed in essay form (500 words or less) to the Rotary Club of LoDo Denver at traci.oliver@gmail.com with the following information included in the essay header;

- Name of Rotary Club
- Person or Club being nominated
- Action warranting award
- Date/Period of Action

Application Due Date – Designated by District Deadline
