Governor Marty's Message

What's Your Rotary Miracle

Being a Rotarian is about creating miracles -- miracles that can provide a child a book and the means to read it or offer an elder a hot meal and a smile; miracles that can provide a community clean drinking water or can safeguard the children in that community against disease. Or the miracle of giving a man a prosthetic hand, and with it, the wherewithal to feed and clothe himself, and to hold down a job. Rotary gives us the tools to turn miracles into reality through The Rotary Foundation, the 501(c)3 that is the funding source for the humanitarian work that we do both at home and around the globe. The Rotary Foundation is an $850-million charity with $240 million held in permanent endowment, all of it voluntarily contributed by Rotarians including you and me. (Not a penny of dues goes to support the Foundation!) Last year, Rotarians through the Foundation distributed $170 million to do good in the world. And less we forget, The Rotary Foundation is one of the most highly rated, most effective charities in the world. Check out its ratings on Charity Navigator, or any other independent watchdog organization. You'll be impressed by what you read. The Rotary Foundation has been around for several generations, and like all institutions, it's occasionally needful to update programs and processes. And indeed, effective next July 1, while the mission of The Rotary Foundation will remain constant, the methods by which it is run will change substantively.

The biggest result of the change is that we, the Rotarians who raise the money, will have significantly greater latitude in determining how that money is spent. Of course rules and accountability will remain -- that's part of the obligation of managing a large endowment -- but come next July 1, we as a District will have much more decision-making in selecting the humanitarian projects in which we wish to invest our Foundation dollars.

What miracles can we fund under the new rules? Read on:

- Interested in significantly more funding going toward discrete local projects (which have been called District Simplified Grants in the past)? We can do that.
- Want to see us invest more in larger, international grants (which have been called Matching Grants in the past)? We can do that.
- Interested in creating scholarships for local kids to go to school, or maybe for youth in developing nations to have a chance at education? We can do these things as well.
- Want to see Group Study Exchange continued, or want to see it morph into vocational teams of Rotarians and non-Rotarians who travel together to do humanitarian work? We can do both of these.

But, yes, there's a nit: The amount of money available to us to spend is directly related to the amount of money that we as a District raise, and unfortunately, in the past few years our Foundation giving numbers have been going in the wrong direction. Clearly, there are more good ideas out there on how to spend our Foundation dollars than there are dollars available to spend.

So The District Foundation Committee wants to hear from you! Every District 7780 Rotarian is invited to attend the Foundation seminar that will be held Saturday, October 27, in Bridgton, Maine, and to be part of the planning session that will determine our Rotary Foundation priorities for the next few years. Come be part of the decision-making process, and let your voice be heard! Registration is available through this website. Just click on the online registration or the download form today.

The bottom-line is this: Through the Foundation, Rotary is a miracle-creating organization. And The Rotary Foundation is OUR Foundation. The miracles we invest in over the next few years will be the ones that prove to be most popular at the seminar. So come on out and share your most dreamed-of Rotary miracle! Then help make that miracle happen. You'll be glad you did.

Membership Seminar Offered New Ways to Think About Rotary
Posted by Martha Helman

Rotary was invented at a time when men were wage earners and women stayed home, when work never took place outside of Monday-to-Friday, 9-to-5, and when work included a confirmed lunch hour that offered an easy opportunity for a men's weekly get-together.

Anybody still live in that world? And yes, too many of our membership "requirements" are still based around a culture that has ceased to exist.

District Simplified Grant Awards Announced

Posted by Penny Jett

The District Simplified Grant Selection Committee had to choose among 24 grant applications representing 28 clubs -- and with only $15,000 in play this year, only 10 applications could be selected. It's important for all of us to remember that the amount of money that we have available to distribute each year, is based entirely on our district's past giving, i.e. the total dollars that our clubs and individual members contribute each year to the annual giving fund. The more money we contribute, the more money is returned to our district, money that our members can invest in meaningful projects right here in our own backyard. Congratulations to all the clubs which participated in this year's competition. The winners are:

The team of 13, representing eight clubs and led by Governor Don Bryan and his wife Debra, traveled throughout our District, enjoying the fall colors, our lighthouses and other sightseeing, and of course, lobsters -- which they insisted on describing as "crawfish on steroids."

District 7780 Leadership Opportunities

This year we would like to expand on this and ask Club Presidents to invite not only those members that would make good Governor Candidates, but any members that would like to serve our Rotary District in the many positions needed.

We will have 2 panel discussions, one for those interested in serving as District Governor led by a panel of Past Governors, and one for those interested in serving in other capacities led

Our promotional spot has hit the street and is currently playing in theaters throughout the district in Newington, Brunswick, Falmouth, Saco, South Portland, Westbrook and Wells. Could You Give Me A Hand?

Posted by Carolyn Johnson

Most of us, I think, naturally shy away from asking for help. We want to be competent, strong, and independent. We can do it all! Or at least that's how we want to appear to those around us. As Rotarians, we continually seek ways to offer help to provide service, but we are not very good about asking for help.

I've learned a good lesson in the last weeks. Early in September I had surgery on my hand. This resulted in having a very large (and awkward!) cast which meant that I couldn't drive, couldn't carry things (didn't know what a challenge it is to push a grocery cart with one hand), and discover each day how difficult it is to do ordinary things - like cutting your food, buttoning a button, keyboarding! - with one hand. Friends have been wonderful in offering to help. It has been wonderful, as well, in experiencing how many strangers have offered help - to carry my groceries or reach things off shelves. Even with offers of help, what was my immediate response? Thanks, I can do it. Well, as this has gone on, I've found out that people really do want to help and it's a whole lot faster and easier for someone to give me a hand than for to struggle in silence.

Why Would You Want to Attend an International Convention? For the Rotary Fellowship, For One Thing!

Posted by Carolyn Johnson

This year, Rotarians from all over the world will meet in Lisbon, Portugal from June 23-26 for fellowship, a better understanding of the international scope of Rotary, and a lot of fun. If you've been to a conference, you know the energy and the passion of the people you meet - all good Rotarians wanting to make the world a better place. You remember the inspiring speakers: notables such as Bill Gates, Queen Noor, and Dolly Parton. And you remember "ordinary" Rotarians passionately relating their experiences with Rotary - how the Rotary community came together after Hurricane Katrina, how Rotarians are changing lives in Africa by providing clean water, and how Rotarians are working to give young gang members in South America an alternative path to life.

The answer will be in next month's news bulletin along with the name of the first person to give her the correct answer along with their club name.

You're Never Too Young for Rotary

What do Mody Botros of Bridgton Lake, Mary Rennie of Fryeburg and Kevin Raymond of York have in common? Each of these committed Rotarians is working to start a service club in the middle school in their region! The clubs -- whether called Interact or Early Act (as is the existing youth program at Sanford Middle School, led by adviser Elias Thomas) is invaluable in introducing the concept of community service to kids at that impressionable, middle school age -- and when the young people enter high school, they are already experienced Interactors.

So What Does An Angel Look Like?

An angel looks just like Rachel Huard from Orthopedic Associates who has been a supporter of the Crutches For Africa program for years. Every other week she makes a phone call to a local Rotarian to "clean out the box" where unwanted crutches, canes, walkers and even wheel chairs are donated at OA's Portland for the C4A program.

"I love David's (Talbot) sense of adventure. It must be so fulfilling to do such great work for people who really need it," Rachel says. "I hope I can go with him someday." Rachel's quick to educate her fellow staff members and all of OA's patients who would normally just throw away their mobility devices once they recover from their injuries.

Nigeria is also the only polio endemic country with the Type 2 wild virus still in circulation. Furthermore, the continued transmission of the wild virus in seven of Nigeria's northern states facilitate the spread of the virus to multitudes of nomads and other migrating groups based in surrounding countries. Chad is one of these – the last remaining non-endemic country to report wild polio this year (5 cases).

"We tell our children to look both ways for cars, don't touch the stove, it's hot, and hold on to the handrail!" We always think we will be with them when they are around water, but there are times when we may not. Such was the case of Joshua Collingsworth, a two and a half year old who slipped out of sight of his parents and was found in the backyard pool just minutes later unconscious. He passed away 3 days later due to complications from drowning.

This year responders brought their fire and rescue trucks, ambulances, boats and gear to bring awareness to the supporters attending the event. The venue was the American Legion Hall. Children were invited to learn and play. It was a great evening of fun and support.

Bridgton-Lake Region Rotarians & Interactors Make a Difference

Sep 20, 2012

by Penny Jett

It all started for our club back in 2009, when Wilfreid Plalum had been invited to our club as a program speaker. Mr Plalum is a native Sudanese, and he is the founder of the Sudan Youth Foundation, in Portland, Maine.

The presentation had inspired our members, and motivated many to do something. The needs in this region were great in many areas, but mostly "water". Digging a well in Juba, Sudan wasn't the challenge as many of the villagers could do the labor, and use ancient techniques to get to the deep water underground. The challenge was to power the well with an electric pump to access the water. As the Rotary year emerged in 2010, the club had decided to buy a generator for Juba, and it made it this much easier having the Foundation located in Portland.
