The Desmond Tutu Tutudesk Campaign is personally led by Archbishop Desmond Tutu with the key mission to provision 20 million Tutudesks to African school children by 2025. An estimated 95+ million children in sub-Saharan Africa are affected by classroom desk shortages, which has a direct, ongoing and extremely negative impact on the development of the child’s literacy development and academic performance. Tutudesk provides children in need with a mobile, steady and stable desk enabling an immediate, lasting and positive impact on the beneficiary child’s literacy development and overall academic performance.

The collaboration has its genesis as part of the Centennial Celebration of Rotary in Africa. But we see it as more than that. We see a long term collaboration where Rotarians and the Tutudesk Campaign can partner to drive Rotary’s area of focus Supporting Education. This focus aims to strengthen the capacity of communities to support basic education and literacy, reduce gender disparity in education, and increase adult literacy. It is one of Rotary’s seven areas of focus covering humanitarian activities.

The collaboration has three distinct initiatives. The first is to approach Rotarians in the Rotary Districts of southern Africa and worldwide, using the Rotary network to reach as many Rotarians as possible. The second is a targeted approach to corporate sponsors for 1,000 Tutudesks each with their branding and a South African Section 18A tax rebate. The third initiative is a crowdfunding initiative using multiple social media platforms.

Who
The project is a collaboration of the Rotary Districts of southern Africa and the Desmond Tutu Tutudesk Campaign. Archbishop Desmond M. Tutu and Nobel Peace Prize Awardee has been Patron of the Tutudesk Campaign since August 2005. His eldest daughter, Thandeka Tutu-Gxashe is the Chief Executive Officer. The District Governors of the southern African Rotary Districts of D9210, 9350, 9370 and 9400 have teamed up to support the project with the help of participating Rotary Clubs.
When
The collaboration between the Rotary Districts of southern Africa and the Tutudesk Campaign began in February 2020. The collaboration aims to celebrate its first major milestone in time for the Rotary Africa Centennial Celebration. We hope the Centennial will be a springboard for other Districts to join the project and extend it as an ongoing collaboration into Africa.

Where
The Rotary Districts’ Tutudesk Campaign initiative is initially focusing on under-resourced schools in southern Africa. As more Districts in Africa join the program, so the reach of the program will be extended.

About
Tutudesks are made from a high-grade, child-safe, proprietary polymer that won’t shatter like other plastics if dropped. A Tutudesk weighs under a kilogram and rests comfortably and stably on our childrens’ laps, providing them with an even, steady surface to write on, whether they are sitting on a chair or on the floor. The Tutudesks are issued to the learner and with the cut-out handle, they can easily be carried home and used for doing homework and projects. They are locally produced in South Africa and the polymer accepts printing that is durable and wear-resistant. This makes it ideal for imprinting educational and social messaging, as well as corporate branding.

Distribution
Distribution to any school within South Africa is already in place through the Desmond Tutu Tutudesk Campaign country structure. Donor Distribution to other countries in Africa is being explored through available channels.

Printable & Branding
A concept layout of the desk is shown below. The educational elements will focus on primary school learners to facilitate a basic grounding in reading, writing and arithmetic. The central area will be for Rotary District or Sponsor branding as appropriate. Double-sided printing is possible at a small additional cost.

For more information, please contact:
PDG Francis Callard
ph: +27 83 283 1593 | email: franciscallard@tutudesk.org

For USA enquiries, please contact:
Alan Test
ph: +1 415 342 9766 | email: alan@tutudesk.org