

MAKE A TIME CAPSULE FOR YOUR PEACE POLE

All you need is a totally dry 2-liter soda bottle.

Fill it with paper containing your wishes for peace, personal notes, or stories to be read in the future, solid objects, photographs, anything about our lives today or anything important to you that will fit through the opening of the bottle.

Your items will give the folks who open the time capsule an idea of what our lives are like today and our hopes for the future.

It is up to you what goes in the capsule.

And you can add more than one capsule if you like.

We do recommend, however, that you don't put anything in the capsule that might degrade, leak, or somehow possibly damage the other items in your capsule.

Once the bottle is ready, leave the cap off, slide the bottle inside the Peace pole – a full arm's length - with the top of the bottle facing you.

Once it's inside, then put the cap on.

You won't be able to get the bottle inside if you put the cap on while it's outside the Peace Pole.

We'd love for you to tell us if you've included a Time Capsule in your Peace Pole along with when you've set the future date for it to be opened.

May Peace Prevail On Earth
