Ali, 53
Burkina Faso
Partner: Catholic Relief Services

Ali lives with his family at a Catholic Relief Services center for leprosy located in Sakoula, Burkina Faso. After 20 years of treatment, Ali has been cured of leprosy, although it has left him without the use of his fingers and toes. Fortunately, now Ali and his family receive Rise Against Hunger meals at the center. He explains that for people with his disabilities, it is very difficult to carry out consistent income-generating activity to provide for a family, and the meals have proved invaluable.

“Theyir donations give us the hope to live longer and work to build a better future for our children.” - Ali

Feed the world

ince its launch in 2008, the World Food Programme (WFP) has helped feed hungry kids in 80 countries. The organization has provided food to more than 400 million people in the past four years, and its efforts have helped reduce global hunger.

This year, the WFP launched its #ChangeForKids campaign to raise awareness about the global hunger crisis and encourage people to take action. The campaign featured a series of videos, social media posts, and events that aimed to inspire people to make a difference.

The WFP works with local communities and partners to deliver food assistance to people in need. Its programs include school feeding, cash transfers, and food aid. The organization also provides training and support to local governments and civil society organizations to help them build sustainable food systems.

The WFP’s goal is to end global hunger and to ensure that everyone has access to a healthy and nutritious diet. To achieve this goal, the organization needs the support of people like you.

You can make a difference by donating to the WFP, volunteering your time, or sharing the #ChangeForKids campaign on social media. Together, we can help create a world where everyone has access to food.

Elen, age 26, lives in Iloilo, Philippines, with her four children, including her daughter Nickie. Theirs is a rural mountain community, where most homes are built using light materials like bamboo. The local economy is primarily supported by farming and hired labor. Previously, Nickie was classified as malnourished and underweight. Fortunately, Elen and Nickie had the opportunity to enroll in partner International Care Ministries’ (ICM) Home-Based Feeding Transform program, through which they received nutritious Rise Against Hunger meals.

https://www.caremin.com/

“Before the Rise Against Hunger meals, Nickie’s food was only ‘am’ (ground rice cooked with milk). When Nickie was enrolled in ICM’s feeding program and regularly fed with Rise Against Hunger meals, she improved and attained her ideal weight.” - Elen
