

Our Keynote Speaker:

Coach Chantal Vallée

Chantal Vallée is the head coach of the Windsor Lancers women's basketball team, a position she has held since 2002. Previously she had years of experience in research on successful enterprise and leaders.

At the time she was hired, the Lancers had only four winning seasons in a span of nearly 50 years, and the team was at the bottom of the standings in Canada.

Chantal had a dream and a plan, and she told anyone who would listen that the team would win a national championship within five years.

In 2011, the Lancers team was crowned national champion for the first time in history.

The Globe and Mail featured Chantal with the title "Coach Takes Windsor from Outhouse to Penthouse." The team then went on to win five consecutive national championships, holding the record for women's basketball in Canada. Since the program's transformation, Chantal has received more than 20 Coach of the Year Awards, developed seven professional players and one Olympian, and maintained a winning record of more than 80%. Coach Vallée has a message you and your club leaders need to hear!
