Message from District Governor

Dean Kennedy

Dear Dream Team,

November is Rotary Foundation month but even more important, 2017 will be the 100th birthday of the Rotary Foundation.

The mission of The Rotary

Foundation is to enable Rotarians to advance world understanding, goodwill, and peace through the improvement of health, the support of education, and the alleviation of poverty. The Rotary Foundation helps fund our humanitarian activities, from local service projects to global initiatives.

That sounds so simple but if we were to list all of the projects of the Foundation we wouldn't have enough paper to cover all the projects in every part of the world. As Rotarians, we all know there are an endless list of projects that occur because of caring Rotarians and The Rotary Foundation. Because of our financial support, The Rotary Foundation helps fight hunger needs, works to reduce child mortality, promotes peace and conflict resolution, provides basic education and literacy support, provides clean water projects, and is going to eradicate polio!

The seed for the Rotary Foundation was planted by Rotary

President Arch C. Klumph at the Atlanta convention in 1917. From its first contribution of $26.50, the foundation's assets have grown to approximately $1 billion, and more than $3 billion has been spent on programs and projects—transforming millions of lives across the globe.

So now the tough questions:

- What are you going to do?
- Has your club scheduled a birthday party for the Rotary Foundation?
- Will you and each member of your club contribute $26.50 more than last year in honor of the 100th birthday party?

I will close with this thought for the day from Edward Everett Hale,

"I am only one, but still I am one. I cannot do everything, but still I can do something. And because I cannot do everything, I will not refuse to do something that I can do."

Dec / Jan Additional announcements for District Governor will be published in the December and January issues of the monthly newsletter.

January 15 Deadline for the receipt by either the governor or the nominating committee chair of club nominations of District Governor candidates.

February 15 Deadline for selection of nominee for governor by the nominating committee. The nominating committee chair will promptly notify all candidates of the decision.

A Note of Appreciation

Collage of just a few cards the West Wichita club received in appreciation for the map a group of club members painted at Maize Pray-Woodman Elementary last May.

Dear Westside Rotary,

On behalf of the students and staff at Pray-Woodman Elementary School in Maize, I would like to thank you for painting the United States map and hopscotch lines on our playground.

Many of our almost 600 students enjoy playing in this area every day! We were very impressed with your highly organized and productive process for completing this project. The quality of map, with its vibrant colors and well-defined boundaries, is remarkable.

Working together we can achieve great things for our students! Taking time from your busy schedules on a weekend was an incredible commitment which left a very positive impression on our students and staff.

Some of our students made thank you cards as another token of our appreciation. We hope that you will enjoy them.

Sincerely,

Nils Gabrielson, Principal

Young Professionals at Rotary Zone Meeting

RC of Hutchinson President Jade Piros de Carvalho worked with three other Rotarians across the Zone to organize the first Young Professionals Summit for Zone 21b-27.

The Summit took place at Zone Institute in Salt Lake City over the October 28-30 weekend. It joined together more than three dozen Rotarians under the age of 40 with the goal to brainstorm ways to strengthen membership in our clubs and districts.

Summit attendees participated in facilitated discussions about barriers to membership for young professionals and ways to create enthusiasm for Rotary in younger members while maintaining traditions that many seasoned members love.

The group was honored to be receive a visit from RI President-Elect, Ian Riseley, who expressed the importance of their contributions and engagement in Rotary.

The Summit culminated with written plans of action from each attendee. Attendees shared the ideas that they pledged to take back and implement in their clubs and districts. They plan to stay in touch through a dedicated Facebook group in order to hold each other accountable.

What is a Rotary Zone????

There are 1.2 million Rotarians in 35,000 clubs doing good all over the world. ... Districts help clubs connect to each other and access Rotary resources. There are around 530 districts, and these are organized into 34 zones. Each zone has about the same number of Rotarians.

Good Boards Mean Good Clubs

With the holiday season upon us; with the increased demands on our time and energy, we find ourselves wishing the holidays would just end and we could get back to “normal”.

Rotary obligations during this time only add to this stress since many clubs have holiday service projects and special holiday parties.

As a business professional, you probably know that delegating work to others is a great and appropriate way to save time, prioritize your own agenda and to focus on what you “should” be doing. However, knowing when and how to delegate well is the key to being successful at it.

Del-e-gate: to assign responsibility or authority

Ask yourself, are you successful at delegating tasks in Rotary? If not, what gets in the way of successful delegation? Here are a few common factors:

- + You have not taken the time to analyze all your club is doing and therefore do not have the awareness of what you could delegate.
- + As a club leader, you are a control freak and feel the need to do it all yourself.
- + You do not have the confidence that anyone else could do it well enough.
- + You enjoy doing it and don't want to give it up.
- + You may feel that you will not be able to justify the time you have opened up for yourself.

If you are having trouble getting past some of these, engage someone to help you – delegate to other officers, committee members and fellow Rotarians.

Some keys to successful delegation.

- * Take the time to look at everything you are doing. Make a list not only of the big projects, but break down the small details, Indicate a) which of those could be done by someone else, b) what you'd like to get rid of if you could even if the how is not obvious, c) the things you really must or want to keep for yourself.
- * Identify the likeliest person to do those tasks you want to delegate. Ask yourself, are they capable and not themselves on overload.
- * Engage them politely by asking if they are ok with it. Do they have the time and resources to do it? If they are too burdened at the moment, when will they be in a position to take it on? When you show respect for people they will be inclined to help out.

Make sure the person you choose is capable to do the task successfully. If not, you are setting someone up to fail and yourself to be even more stressed.

- * Communication is key. Many people fall short here. You need to have a clear picture of the outcome you want and communicate it clearly to the person who will do it
- * Think through the degree of difficulty and if it is not simple, make a plan as step #1. Explain to the person who will be doing the task why it needs to be done a certain way by a certain time. Build in check-in points and a timeline to meet deadlines.

Overall, keep these points in mind:

- * Assess each task regarding the appropriateness to delegate.
- * Who would be the best person to ask to do it?
- * Make sure you are very clear in communicating how and what you want.
- * What measures will you use regarding deadlines and quality of work?
- * Remember to express respect and appreciation for the person helping you.

The benefits of proper delegation go beyond getting rid of some of your burdens and opening up your time. The exercise of thinking through and choosing what and to whom, forces you to focus on important details such as: what are your true strengths, interests, passions and skills. What are those of the others who surround you? And what are the priorities of your Club?

You may not be able to make gigantic changes quickly, but baby steps will also get you where you want to go. So as the holiday season comes full-steam at us, use your skills of delegating in your Club and take this season's opportunity to engage other Rotarians.

From the work of Dorene Lehavi, Ph.D.

The Rotary Foundation—It's Foundation Month!

Celebrate Rotary Foundation Month—A message from the Chair of The Rotary Foundation Board of Trustees, Kalyan Banerjee

Back in 1956, the Rotary International Board of Directors designated a week in November urging all clubs "to devote a program to The Rotary Foundation." In 1982 the Board determined that the entire month of November should be dedicated to the Foundation.

Since then our Foundation has grown and flourished in ways that few Rotarians could have imagined. In 1985, Rotary took on its first corporate project—a bold campaign to immunize the world's children against polio and create a polio-free world.

Our humanitarian programs grew so rapidly that the Foundation could not process the volume of requests for grants efficiently. That led to the creation of a new grant model that supports global grants with greater and longer-lasting impact and district grants which fund small-scale, short-term activities. And we fulfilled Rotarians' long-held dream for a "peace university with the launch of the Rotary Peace Centers.

Rotarian financial support has skyrocketed as well. In 1982-83 contributions barely totaled $19 million. Compare that with 2015-16 when the figure jumped to $265.6 million.

This November, we'll celebrate not just Foundation month, but also The Rotary Foundation's centennial. The Rotary website offers many creative ideas for honoring this very special occasion.

The first is to hold an event for the entire community that spotlights the Foundation's 100 years of Doing Good in the World. Second, plan and sponsor a project that addresses a critical problem. It could be done from locally raised funds or you might seek a global grant. There are so many options to choose from—from providing clean water to ensuring basic education for girls in every part of the world, to tackling malaria or HIV/AIDS or any number of preventable diseases.

The third activity I recommend is for every Rotarian to make a centennial donation. Let's never forget that The Rotary Foundation belongs to all of you. You and I provide the funding for just about every bit of good that our Foundation is doing in the world—and has been doing for an entire century. Let's make sure we continue that tradition for the next 100 years.

We had fun putting the labels in the dictionaries before delivery, too!

The dictionary project is sponsored by a number of Rotarian businesses and individuals and also supports Rotary's mission of promoting education and literacy. This year, 665 dictionaries were delivered. Derby Rotary has been giving 3rd graders dictionaries since 2005. Third grade students look forward to Rotary Dictionary Day every year!
