

Todd Smith

Born in the Washington, DC area to a USAF fighter pilot and an English teacher, Todd Smith and his family moved frequently within the USA and Germany during his childhood. He graduated high school in Virginia before earning his degree from the Eller School of Business at The University of Arizona.

After pursuing a career in public accounting and working in Los Angeles and Saudi Arabia, Todd's career led him to the motion picture industry. During his years at 20th Century Fox and Warner Brothers his responsibility was within production management and finance. He was integrally involved with over 45 films including "Big", "Wall Street", "Home Alone", "Die Hard" and "Ace Ventura Pet Detective". As a freelance production manager, Todd went on to work on "Con Air" and "Titanic" as well as a series of independent film projects and music videos. He is a member of the Director's Guild of America and votes for the Academy Awards each year.

In 2007 after joining the Rotary Club of Austin, TX Todd helped launch "Service Austin Day", a citywide day of service and community clean-up. Subsequently he served as club Membership VP, was elected to the club's Foundation Board of Trustees, and served as Club President (2014-15). It was during a Rotary Polio immunization trip to India that Todd grew to fully appreciate the size and scope of Rotary's impact. Consequently, the club launched the "Pints for Polio" fundraiser which later spread across District 5870.

Todd relocated to Santa Barbara, CA in 2015 and joined the Rotary Club of Montecito where he served as Membership Chair and Fundraising Chair, was elected to the club's Foundation Board of Trustees, served as Club President (2018-19) and later as Assistant Governor for District 5240.

Returning to Texas in 2020 and settling in Georgetown, Todd volunteered for the annual "Field of Honor" tribute to veterans and first responders. As a direct result of his volunteer experience, he subsequently joined the Rotary Club of Georgetown TX and was chosen to lead the Opening Ceremonies for the 2021 event, to which he personally invited and welcomed 2021-22 Rotary International President Shekhar Mehta.

Todd continues to think globally and act locally to support his Georgetown club as well as the entire District. He is a Major Donor II, Bequest Society member, TRF Benefactor and supporter of the Paul Harris Home Foundation, as well as a member of the Paul Harris Society and D5240 Polio Plus Society. He is a member of eleven Rotary Fellowship & Action Groups and looks forward to attending his ninth International Convention in Melbourne.

Todd resides in Georgetown, TX with his husband Scott and their two rescue dogs. His outside interests include camping, wine tasting and world adventure travel, as well as being the proud father of two successful and talented sons Logan and Wyatt.
