Ninety-six point seven percent of the OYC members voted YES, we agree that buying the land directly south of our existing parking lot is a great investment in the long term future of our club. WOW, now that's a landslide number of members agreeing that increasing the property the Olympia Yacht Club owns is a good idea. I agree. You know the three most important things in real estate are location, location, location. There is no other land adjacent to OYC's property except this land.

Thank you members for having the foresight and the vision to move forward with this acquisition. Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Bob Van Schoorl, has further details in his article of this Beachcomber.

The Commodore's Cruise was a resounding success. Commodore Bill and First Mate Lorie and, I believe, everyone who came along, had a great time. Twenty-plus boats participated in the cruise. We reached our highest boat count at Point Hudson Marina in Port Townsend where fourteen boats spent two nights. The electric trolley ride to Fort Worden, to listen to New Orleans based Bruce "Sunpie" Barnes and his Zydeco Dance band, singing in French Creole, was the high point for me.

There are plenty of activities for OYC members coming up as summer transitions to fall. Rear Commodore Mark Welpman and his First Mate Annette are organizing the Labor Day Cruise to Island Home (details in this issue) from September 1 to 4. Following immediately after this cruise is FOO FARAW, OYC's annual tribute to the men and women in active service to our country in the armed forces. This popular event at Island Home is once again being organized by OYC member Chris Cheney and takes place on Friday, September 8.

I am feeling very positive about our club. We have great members and great enthusiasm. Let's keep up the good vibrations.

Hello all.

The weather is cooling and it's starting to feel like fall. Not all that happy about it but apparently it happens every year, so I should expect it. I am just bitter, since we've been working all summer and did not get a boating vacation. Be patient, I'll get over it and soon will have something new to complain about.

Speaking of boating... You'll be happy to hear that the current boat is repaired! We had a coolant leak free trip for the Grand 14 Cruise-in to Port Orchard and Bremerton. It was a fun weekend where the Commodores and Vices welcomed the new Rear Commodores to the Grand 14 with tar and feathers followed by walking the plank. I'm pretty sure your Rear Commodore, Mark Welpman, drank the Kool aid and is now under our control, since we didn't hear him complaining. It was a good time up until the rain started on Sunday. At that point, I had wished I wasn't so lazy and had put on new windshield wipers. They don't work very well without the rubber blade. However, by the time we passed Blake Island, the rain had stopped, and we had a dry cruise home.

At the time of reading this, the Labor Day cruise should be about here. We are looking forward to it and hope the weather is warm, so the kids can kayak and swim. It's nice when they are happy; much better than the alternative, which makes you rethink your idea of family boat trips.

Remember that fall doesn't mark the end of the boating season. There is still the Oktoberfest cruise to be had, so keep your boats warm for that. I hear boats like bourbon, so it might help if you keep some on board.

Hope your summer was good and you have some adventures to share at the upcoming dinner meeting. I am looking forward to being released from my security check point duties and getting to mingle.

Be safe and see you on the water!

* No Rear Commodores were harmed while attending the G14 cruise in.

Welcome Back Everyone!

We hope you all have had a great summer. It was really busy for Annette and I. We just finished our first Grand 14 Sail In and what an experience it was. Annette and I are now members of the Grand 14 Class of 2020, The Voyagers. To all you PC's, all I can say is "We get it now." We are honored to represent the Olympia Yacht Club in the Grand 14. PC Jeff Pape told me to make sure we're doing the "Hug Line"? I'm not sure what that is, but I think I might get into trouble for doing it.

Couple of events on the reservation line. First is the Labor Day Cruise, September 1st to the 4th. And second is our first Dinner Meeting on September 6th. We're not going to talk too much about either because by the time this published, we'll be on the Labor Day Cruise and the dinner meeting will be a few days away. Other Club events this September are Foofaraw, TGIF and Oktoberfest Cruise-In to Island Home.

New Members, please, please, please get involved. If you would like to experience the Club to its full potential, get involved. You don't need to join a committee or volunteer, just show up at events. Help out, come to the social hour before a dinner meeting and meet everyone. I will personally take you under my wing and introduce you to our awesome membership. I invite you to come out to one of the Cruises. Our Cruises are family-friendly with plenty of adult time. You are what makes this club so great. I invite you to come sit with Annette and I at our table at the next Dinner Meeting. Please, if you have any questions, feel free to call me. I would love to help you navigate your way into being a part of this family.

Last, if any of you would like to be added to the permanent dinner meeting reservation list, or wish to be removed, please either send me an email or call me. Also if you have any dietary restrictions, please let me know as well. We'll do our best to accommodate your needs.

Annette and I look forward to a great year.

See you on the water.

Ahoy OYC!

I hope all of you have had an awesome summer of cruising and enjoying the outdoors with family and friends and perhaps even other OYC folk! Sadly, we were unable to be a part of the Commodore's Cruise, but we're sure it was a great time.

We were apparently spared the most brutal heat wave but at the expense of living in smoke for quite a few days. I'm discussing weather, how boring am I anyway? I need to talk about what we're planning and doing in OYC. I'm writing this article pre-Anchor Cruise, but I'm going to speculate that most people found it, and we all had a great time without incident. I do think I should write a synopsis of the events for a future Beachcomber because the whole RC Mark donning and doffing one particular article of clothing may have been a bad idea.....or a grand one, more to follow.

I can hardly believe it, but I must announce the next cruise slated to be held at Island Home. The hard part to believe is which cruise it is and what time of year that cruise represents. Yes, it's time for the Oktoberfest Cruise to Island Home. I know, curse me for even mentioning something that is not summertime related! We have already been blessed with some volunteers to form a committee and have begun the planning. I think it's going to be a notch more epic this year. It's the Wurst Party of the year... and as such, there's bratwurst, sauerkraut, beer, pretzels, beer bites, apple pancakes. See the flyer in this edition of the Beachcomber for more information.

Good Day..... I thought I would start my monthly articles in a bit of a different way. This article is titled

"Tales of a Woeful Engine"

It all started in September 2016 (yes 2016). First Mate Cathy and I had just returned from a 17-day cruise to the San Juan's in July 2016, and two months later, we were all packed and ready to go the Island for the September 2016 Labor Day weekend. And the story goes like this:

- Started the engine (2 popper diesel), died. Started several more times, died. Labor Day 2016 is off. Several weeks pass.
- Troubleshooting, scratch my head, invent new profanity, find a 90% plugged mixing elbow.
- Source a new elbow, install it, runs better but not quite there yet.
- Several months pass. Remember the very cold and wet winter and spring we just had?
- Back to the engine project. Bled, bled, and bled the system. Runs good now.
- Engine is good to go so we attended the 2017 Memorial Day weekend, motored and day sailed.
- July 3rd motor to the Boston Harbor fireworks. Started the engine, died. Back to new profanity.
- Drained and cleaned the fuel tank, fresh fuel and new primary and secondary filters, SHE RUNS.
- Should have done that several months ago but the filters had very few hours on them.
- Decided to replace the auxiliary fuel pump just for the heck of it.
- Ran it, ran it, ran it, runs solid now.

I think most of us have similar stories, and if not, I'm afraid it's just a matter of time. As boaters, we all know that if we keep the enjoyment (numerator) greater than the frustration (denominator), then all is well.

Remember as your new Fleet Captain Sail and First Mate, Cathy and I will be hosting our first TGIF on September 22nd. I will be soliciting, i.e. begging for help soon. I've talked to several folks that joined the Commodore's Cruise and heard great times and stories. Cathy and I were going to attend the cruise but alas, see the story above.

I will end with the Nautical Term of the Month. What is a "Poop Deck"? No, that's not it, but I have seen it used in that way, that's best left for an offline conversation. A Poop Deck is a deck that forms the roof of a cabin built in the rear, or "aft," part of the superstructure of a ship. The name originates from the French word for stern, la poupe, from Latin poupis.

Board of Trustees

Bob Van Schoorl, Chair

M/V Amstel

I am writing this article the evening of August 16 following the Board of Trustee's meeting. This evening, the Board accepted the affirmative vote of the membership and has authorized the purchase of the parking lot next to the Yacht Club. By the time that you read this article, we will have signed the final acquisition documents and will be finalizing all the details with the title company.

The Board has you to thank. Two hundred and ten (210) of you cast votes on the property acquisition ballot. And 97 percent (203) of you voted in favor of the purchase. In addition, more than 45 of you contributed financially to the purchase. Our members have mortgaged the property internally by lending over $600,000. In addition, Tony and Isobel Cairone, who suggested that the members would step up, have loaned an additional $200,000. These funds, along with $300,000 from our reserves, will complete the purchase.

The Board has chosen the legal option of placing the property into a limited liability corporation (LLC), which will protect the Club and its membership from liability and protect our non-profit status.

Among the next steps will be to establish an OYC parking area within the parking lot. There will be more information to come on this once we complete a contract with Diamond for the management of the lot. We will let you know when it is safe for members to park there.

The process that has led to this successful purchase has been a real team effort. But I want to specifically thank the BOT members, our communication team, the Finance Committee, our legal adviser, and those who helped with environment, permitting and development advice. And we need to thank all of you who asked probing, insightful questions along the way. All of you made this successful purchase possible.

Thank you for your support.

Hope that you all had a successful summer of cruising that will continue into our great early Fall season.

The Board of Trustees meets on the second Wednesday of each month at 6 p.m. at the Club House. Minutes of the meetings are posted on the bulletin board. The next scheduled BOT meeting is on September 13, 2017.

Fats

Lipids, as your doctor calls them, are a whole host of compounds including the dreaded cholesterol, triglycerides, LDLs, HDLs, and FFAs. And a whole lot more. Our bodies make many of our fats – if you don't eat enough cholesterol, your body will make it for you -, but there are also essential fats your body needs and can't make that you have to eat. Fats help us to absorb certain vitamins and are important at certain stages of our life for brain health.

Saturation is a chemical reference, but most of what you need to know is that the "good" fats are liquid at room temperature (e.g. canola oil) and the "bad" fats are solid and taste good when grilled (e.g. steak). "Bad" fats raise your "bad" cholesterol (LDL) and lower your "good" cholesterol (HDL). Trans fats are manufactured and used to prolong shelf life of goods and are "bad" fats. While these are being removed from food generally, as always, check the label of the food you are buying.

Fats have a lot of calories– 9 calories per gram – compared to sugar at 4 calories. Therefore, if you are really trying to gain weight, eat a lot of fat. Or not. Fats also are slowly absorbed and will keep you feeling full for longer than a high carbohydrate (sugary) diet.

Numbers. Triglycerides are the form your body uses to store fats in the body, so the lower the better. Normal – 150 or lower. They are associated with heart disease and high levels can also cause the pancreas gland to inflame. If you had one cholesterol level to know, it would be your LDL (low density lipoprotein). This is the "bad" cholesterol. For most folks, a level less than 100 is fine. For diabetics and those with heart disease 70 or lower is the goal. The "good" cholesterol (HDL – high density lipoprotein) helps to clear the other cholesterol from the body and should be 60 or greater.

Omega 3 fatty acids are thought to help lower bad cholesterol and are present in many fish and some nuts and nut oils. Omega 6 fats are somewhat similar, but less well understood.

A few years back, low fat diets were the fad. Ultimately, consumers were buying highly processed foods with minimal fats and were probably doing harm with all the extra sugars and additives. You have to eat some fats – recommended about 10 percent of your diet. Use liquid fats for cooking, fish for protein, nuts for snacking, and enjoy a steak (rarely) to keep your iron stores up. Moderation as always.

Happy boating and use sunscreen!

Reciprocal Moorage
Gary Gronley, Chair

Reciprocal Report

On our way back to OYC from points north this year, we crossed the Strait of Juan de Fuca from Becher Bay on Vancouver Island to Port Angeles. Port Angeles is not a common stop for us because we normally cross between the San Juans and Port Townsend area. Port Angeles has a customs dock, which was empty when we arrived.

This gave us the opportunity to sample the Port Angeles Yacht Club reciprocal dock, and we are happy we did. The PAYC docks are managed by the Port of Port Angeles and there is a fuel dock just inside the breakwater. We found the diesel price reasonable and filled our tanks. There are nice showers and a trash dump. Town is a short walk away. More info and a map at the PAYC website <http://payc.org/reciprocals/>

The reciprocal arrangement that PAYC has made with the Port is to reimburse the visitor up to $32 for moorage paid to the Port. However, if there is a suitable and vacant slip normally occupied by a PAYC member, then the reciprocal visitor can stay in that slip at no charge. We lucked out and were able to stay in a vacant PAYC slip.

We will definitely consider staying at Port Angeles again, especially when heading to or from the Victoria area.

Greetings to all. I hope all of you have had a great summer out on the boat or just enjoying all the warm sunny days. We are nearing the end of the third quarter for CSP.

Many of you have fulfilled your obligations for the year, and that is fantastic. There are still several events upcoming to participate in or job duties around the club or Island Home that can get you your hours for the year. Contact any Bridge, BOT, committee chair or the caretakers for help getting connected.

The Beachcomber committee is looking for another person or two to join the team. Please contact Gary Wilson at oycbeachcomber@gmail.com if you are interested.

OYC Sailing Program Update

Summer Classes

We just finished up our August committee meeting and would like to rave about another successful summer. We will meet our goal of about 425 sailing students this summer, this includes youngsters and adults. Our Adult enrollment was a little down in July and August, and I would guess it may be because of the high temperatures. I also see that we need to have more classes for beginning adult sailors than for advanced.

A lot of summer sailors are trying it out for the first time, but I have had two students purchase boats just from their experience in just one class. These are all potential members for both the OYC and SSSS. Youth Classes continue through the end of the month and then high school sailing will be starting back up again.

Sailing Teams

Our summer sailing team has done well this summer. Just this past weekend in Bellingham We sent up sailors for 5 lasers and one FJ. Annie Buelt was one of our girls attending and received the good sportsmanship award and acknowledgement for being the only sailor to make it to the start line for Sunday's first race on time....everyone else was "draggin' their wagons"....

Our coach Sarah Hanavan has been nominated to be Vice President of the governing board for the NW Interscholastic Sailing Association (NWISA), so we will have a good representation for the South Sound Area.

We will be hosting a district wide regatta on October 28 and 29. If you would like to help with that regatta, we will be having planning meetings soon. We will be hosting a dinner for the sailors and their families and coaches. Please contact our committee if you are able to help. We will put you in contact with the correct work group.

Docks

We just received the hardware and tubs for our final dock. It should be installed by the time you see this posting. One of our final projects is to partner with the Mainstation committee and create a more organized and professional presence behind the grocery store in the small lot where we store our trailers. We will be posting notices for a work party for that project in the coming weeks. Please let Tim or I know if you have interest in helping out or ideas about how you think it should be organized.

Welder Needed

We are trying to better organize our small 8' boats. As they are stored now, they take up lots of room on the dock.

It's September already. Island Home will be a busy place this month. Labor Day, Foofaraw, PC Cruise-in and the Joint cruise-in with the Shelton Yacht Club. Poor George will hardly have time to get the lawn mowed before the next event happens. You can be sure the Island will be looking nice as always. Thank you George.

Please remember oysters and other shellfish shall be taken to be consumed on the Island only, and the shells shall be returned to the beach. Washington State Fish and Wildlife limits apply.

I'll be meeting with the Long Range Planning Committee soon to be sure the Islands needs are taken care of in the long range budget.

Thank You, See you at the Island.

We would like to have some help building metal racks for storage.

If you can weld and are willing to volunteer your time, please let us know. We will pay for materials and OYC members can receive CSP hours for their time

Fundraising

Last year's fundraiser was a huge success, and while we won't be doing a live auction fundraiser this year, we are going to be having one in November.... the date is still to be determined.

If you are interested in helping us with this event please let us know. We hope to be able to recoup some of the costs of building docks this summer as well setting up a scholarship program for sailors in need- this would be for both sailing fees and equipment needed to keep them warm and safe as they grow -up during their participation from middle school through high school.

That's all for Now. Thanks for your continued support.

THANK YOU

I personally would like to thank all of you who played a critical role in the successful purchase of the parking lot next to OYC. Our success was truly a team effort. This is truly an investment in our future.

Specifically, my thanks to:

- All 203 of you who cast a favorable vote to support the purchase.
- Tony and Isobel Cairone for the advice and significant financial support of the purchase.
- The 45 members who provided an additional $600,000 in financial support.
- The members of the Board of Trustees. Each of them took a lead on a significant portion of the tasks required and provided invaluable insight throughout.
- Our communications team: Bob Beckman, Dick Binns, Myra Downing, Mike Gowrylow
- The Finance Committee: Joe Downing, Jon Jones, Gary Ball, and Treasurer Jon Bryant
- The legal support and advise from Walt Schefter
- Support for environmental review, city permits and development questions: Tom Skillings and Bill Sloane
- Our broker, Evan Parker
- And all of you when you asked intelligent, probing questions that kept us on our toes and made certain we did not miss anything.

I likely missed someone and will hope to make it up to you.

Again, my personal thanks for your support over the past six plus months that allowed this to happen.

FOOFARAW 2017
September 8

FOOFARAW is just days away and the pieces are coming together. I would like to say coming together well but that's not quite true. Many health issues have hit the committee members or spouses so we are limping along. We foresee no operational changes this year; same check in, and two lines of boats based on speed both going out and returning.

As usual we have no idea how many guests will show up, a most vexing issue but out of our control.

Our boat count looks good now. It usually does until the last minute when breakdowns happen. We have had quite a few cancellations by long time participants, boats sell, people get sick. If you have an interest in participating and don't have confirmation please let me know right away. The Bridge has set aside 1400 PDT Saturday during the Labor Day Cruise at IH for a skippers meeting. Please attend if you can. An email covering all the procedures and plans will be going to all skippers via email also.

Rick and Patti our dockmasters will be at the September Dinner meeting for a short presentation in my place and will be seeking dock help at IH and portable VHF radios. Cindy Smith has the food crew all lined up and Dene Hartman has the cookie brigade ready to go. If anyone has an interest in helping out, please let us know.

Here is to another thrilling, fun filled FOOFARAW, September 8, 2017.

Moorage Report

Mark Fleischer, Moorage Master

Well boy, summer cruising wasn't long enough. At least not for me, but it's time to get back to keeping the Club in top shape. The docks are done and up and running, still some little things to take care of, which Marine Floats will handle. Matt's been securing deck boards, painting and general maintenance. If you are looking for CSP hours, contact him..... He still needs help on other projects. We will be building another dingy dock, so keep an ear open, and we'll set a time and date for the build.

Thank you all for your cooperation on boathouse inspections this summer and thank you to our inspectors. I believe by next summer all boathouses and boats will be in compliance with our standards.

Remember if you see something wrong contact me or Matt.

Matt's days off are Monday and Tuesday. But the Club continues to be used, so please, if you see that your restrooms aren't quite clean, PLEASE step in and help keep them clean. Thank you.

See you on the docks,
Main Station Chair
PC Tim Ridley

Moments from the Commodore's Cruise 2017

Hope all have had a great summer. Thank you for all of your patience during the dock replacements.

The marina is nearing capacity, and the waitlist will be minimal. The requests for over 50-feet will continue to be hard to fill due to the beam of the boats coming in these days.

Please remember that all boats in the marina must have current insurance and a copy has to be provided to me for placement in the moorage file.

The 2017 fire prevention check list is due. Fines will be in place for those who don't fill it out and submit it. The only acceptable form is the one that has "2017" printed on it. The correct form can be found on the club website:

Quartermaster

Margaret Snyder, Chair

Quartermaster Open in September!!!

For the men, we still have plenty of long and short-sleeved tees from Custom Colors! You will find these in several colors and sizes. They wash up great and do not shrink, so take that into account when choosing your size! You will find men's jackets, sweat-shirts, and long, short and no-sleeved tees in an assortment of styles and colors. In addition, we have lots of caps if yours needs replacing

As for the women, we have some FDJ shirts — two of which are reversible. We have added lots of cold weather gear to include hooded vests, hoodies of differing weights, sweatshirts, and various long and short-sleeved shirts. Look for the women's sale table where prices have been slashed! HINT: Take a peek in the men's department at the new men's long and short-sleeved tees as they will work great for us women as well!

We are also offering bottle and can cozies with our yacht club logo!

Remember, we can usually order items for you in a different size if necessary.

A huge thanks goes out to Linda Bryant ahead of time for opening the quartermaster store in September if Judy and I don't make it back from cruising on time! Hope you all enjoy a wonderful summer on the water!

See you at the Quartermaster Store in the Fall!

Margaret and Judy

Anchoresses

Aileen Zelis, Secretary

We did so well at our "BAKE SALE" auction, we raised a lot of money to help purchase all the new window blinds for our yacht club.

Now we will have another auction at our OCTOBER 4 dinner meeting, for "good useable household items," tools, art work, gadgets etc.

NO CLOTHING PLEASE!

Please bring your items early prior to dinner, so we can fill out the bid sheets.

Call Phyllis DeTray 360-491-1188

OR Kim Shann 360-491-3786 for questions.

An alert to OYC boaters planning to travel through the Swinomish Channel in the 2017 summer/fall season.

Due to work on the Railroad Bridge at the north end of the channel, the bridge will rotate to close and the Swinomish Channel will be closed to boat traffic during various times of the day from July 17 through November 2017 (no scheduled closures on Sundays).
