RC Cosmo Club News and Notes Meeting - July 8, 2019

Chief Master Sgt. Rochelle Hemingway - New Command Chief at Ellsworth Air Force Base.

Chief Master Sgt. Hemingway has served for 28 years in the Air Force and is married to her husband, Dominic, who has served for a total of 30 years. They have one child, Andrew, age nine, who is presently with his father.

CMSgt. Hemingway is responsible for the health, welfare and morale of 3200 airmen at Ellsworth. She started her duties here in March and will be joined by her family this fall. Joining her today was her administrative assistant, Staff Sgt. Tiffany Cook.

CMSgt. Hemingway is only the second female to hold the title of Command Chief here at Ellsworth.

The main part of her presentation dealt with the hashtag slay. S stands for “state of readiness” as the airmen need to be ready to deploy at any moment. L stands for “leading out loud” as she practices transformational leadership and being an example for the personnel. A stands for “a sense of community” to make everyone feel welcomed and valuable. Y stands for “you are built to last” we are here to protect our nation by always giving maximum effort.

All of us who were present received a copy of the Black Hills Woman magazine which carried an article featuring CMSgt. Hemingway. For those who weren't with us today, you may go to BlackHillsWoman.com and look for the May-June issue which has CMSgt. Hemingway on the cover. The story begins on page 24.
