Cosmos of the Day - CODs

Lenny Wright – Stated that he winters in Arizona. He complained how cold it was this year and received little sympathy from the club members. He spends the summers on the river. He is a retired high voltage electrical equipment salesman. He had seventeen customers. Rod Gunn was one of them. He enjoyed the relationship he had with his customers because they all made his job fun. Lenny retired in 2007.

John and Kaye Duffield are both from Baker, Montana and dated in high school. They owned an underground utility trenching company for twenty-five years and retired in 2015. John and Kaye have three children.

Thanks to Arletta Schuh for taking notes at the meeting, while the “editor” is taking pictures.
